Reckless Abandon Canadian Centre for Policy Alternatives, Matt Sanger, 1999 Health care trade GATS market access export international law Reckless Abandon Matthew Sanger, Canadian Centre for Policy Alternatives, 2001 Topics covered include market access abroad overview of GATS implications for Health Canada implications for specific health services conclusion and recommendations Romanow Papers: Changing health care in Canada Commission on the Future of Health Care in Canada, 2004-01-01 The second in a series of three volumes presenting a selection of the best studies prepared for the Romanow Commission this volume focuses on the problem of change in health care and health systems Combining the talents of experienced health policy experts with innovative researchers the resulting studies provide unique perspectives on the difficult issues under scrutiny including complexity in health systems management of human resources organizational control and regulation and public engagement Commissioned and prepared with applicability as the foremost criteria all of the studies presented in this volume offer solutions in managing obstacles to change Each study also includes an appraisal of the most recent literature in the field Health Care in Canada Katherine Fierlbeck, 2011-04-09 Health Care in Canada examines the challenges faced by the Canadian health care system a subject of much public debate In this book Katherine Fierlbeck provides an in depth discussion of how health care decisions are shaped by politics and why there is so much disagreement over how to fix the system Many Canadians point to health care as a source of national pride others are highly critical of the system s shortcomings and call for major reform Yet meaningful debate cannot occur without an understanding of how the system actually operates In this overview Fierlbeck outlines the basic framework of the health care system with reference to specific areas such as administration and governance public health human resources drugs and drug policy and mental health She also discusses alternative models in other countries such as Britain the United States and France As health care becomes increasingly complex it is crucial that Canadians have a solid grasp of the main issues within both the policy and political environments With its balanced and accessible assessment of the main political and theoretical debates Health Care in Canada is an essential guide for anyone with a stake in Canada s health system The First Decade of NAFTA: The Future of Free Trade in North America Kevin Kennedy, 2021-10-25 This volume provides practitioners academics and students with the first definitive coverage of NAFTA investment arbitration Given the level of foreign direct investment within the NAFTA countries the issue of redress for states in investment cases is a major one The state dispute settlement mechanisms within NAFTAs Chapter Eleven are recognized as a model worthy of close examination The experts and scholars who have contributed to this work present a comprehensive overview of the first ten years of practice in the area of investment disputes under the NAFTA provision As in any nascent undertaking the successes failures and controversies that have been the experience of the state parties involved in NAFTA are keenly reflected in the Chapter 11 cases It is in these experiences as described by in the chapters of this timely volume that the readers will find substantive and procedural insights into an emerging new area of public international economic law Many see the workings of the NAFTA agreement particularly Chapter 11 as a Rorschach test for how state parties can approach and effectively adjudicate investment disputes For this reason all practitioners and scholars concerned with international trade and foreign direct investment issues should consult this book Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint

Restructuring Health Services Kasturi Sen, 2003-02 Health service delivery is being restructured in both industrialised and developing countries Public health scholars and policy makers in this volume show how this process is accelerating as a result of diverse factors including fiscal pressure privatisation of infrastructure and the impending renegotiation of the WTO General Agreement on Trade in Services GATS The key policy issues that arise concern the implications of these changes for access and equity in public health provision The volume reviews the rapidly changing context in which financing health care and its relationship to globalization and privatisation are taking place It examines the specific mechanisms and institutional processes involved And it explores various contrasting experiences including HMOs in the USA Britain's NHS social health insurance in Western Europe developing countries and Cuba

Social Policy and the Ethic of Care Olena Hankivsky, 2004 In this book Hankivsky considers the implications of this ethic for a range of Canadian social policy issues Through a series of case studies she demonstrates the extent to which a care orientation differs from a justice orientation and provides an alternative normative framework for interpreting understanding and evaluating social policy She reveals why Canadian social policy is lacking and how it could be made more effective and robust by the inclusion of an ethic of care

Profit Is Not the Cure Maude Barlow, 2011-02-18 On July 12 1966 the Medical Care Insurance Act was passed by the federal House of Commons after a ferocious public debate that pitted the vast majority of Canadians against a powerful alliance of business insurance companies and doctors More than thirty years later the same battle is being fought all over again Only now the forces opposed to medicare are more ideologically unified more richly endowed and tied to transnational corporations whose power exceeds that of entire countries In Profit Is Not the Cure Maude Barlow traces the history of medicare in Canada She compares it with both public and private systems in other parts of the world And she contrasts it with the brutally divisive system that exists in the United States where forty four million people have no medical insurance and millions more get minimal care through profit driven health maintenance organizations From the point of view of most patients the United States health care model is a disaster But the proponents of privatization in Canada supported by the right wing media and corporate lobbyists are determined to impose American style reforms on the Canadian public Three provinces British Columbia Alberta and Ontario are moving ahead rapidly to enlarge the role of commerce in the provision of health care services They are introducing user fees delisting procedures that previously were covered and encouraging private corporations to move into areas that used to be the exclusive domain of the public system While the prime minister and federal cabinet have paid lipservice to the principles of medicare they have made it clear by their actions that they will do nothing to impede the destruction of those principles by the provinces In fact their enthusiastic support of NAFTA and the impending Free Trade Agreement of the Americas FTAA and General Agreement on Trade in Services GATS has made the defence of medicare increasingly difficult Canadians overwhelmingly support medicare Many however have been persuaded that it is a luxury we can no longer afford Maude Barlow argues that this proposition is wrong An earlier generation fought a bitter battle to bring medicare into existence Another battle must be fought now to save it But we owe it to the founders of the system as well as to future generations to take up the cause again This important book shows the way Trading Women's Health and Rights Caren Grown, Elissa Braunstein, Anju Malhotra, 2013-07-18 Around the world policymakers and civil society are debating how economic and trade policies shape public health This edited collection adds a new dimension to this debate It synthesizes research from a variety of disciplines to analyse how the liberalization of international trade affects reproductive health and rights Case studies from Mexico Sri Lanka China Vietnam Bangladesh and Egypt illuminate how trade related changes in women s employment influence their reproductive needs and capacities The book demonstrates how global and national trade policies affect the quality quantity and cost of reproductive health services Contributors also explore the implications of the World Trade Organization and the various trade agreements under its purview for reproductive health services and rights Ultimately this collection addresses the key policy issues for advocates of both reproductive health and rights and economic justice and shows how trade agreements weighted against the poor in the South have very specific gendered consequences This book is aimed at an inter disciplinary audience of economists public health professionals demographers sociologists anthropologists and women s studies specialists It will also be of interest to policymakers and representatives of civil society organizations working on health economic justice and employment issues

Global Health Watch 2005-2006 ,2005 This alternative world health report offers a comprehensive survey of the key areas that influence the health of poor and vulnerable groups in all countries They range from climate change water and nutrition to national health policies and services and the brain drain of health professionals from South to North Money, Politics and Health Care Institute for Research on Public Policy, Queen's University (Kingston, Ont.). Institute of Intergovernmental Relations, 2004 Current tensions in intergovernmental fiscal arrangements are thus important impediment to improving the health care system At the same time the failure of provinces to correct health care problems acts a serious irritant in intergovernmental relations creating a vicious cycle where deficiencies in intergovernmental fiscal relations make health care reform difficult while failures to effect health care reform increase conflict between the provinces and the federal government This collection of essays analyses key issues in federal provincial health care relations particularly the fiscal component The authors look at why there is a role for the federal government in health care and consider the critical issues in recent intergovernmental political battles over this role The issues of whether the vertical federal provincial fiscal imbalance is myth or reality how much the federal government does and should contribute financially to provincial health care programs and methods for settling disputes such as those over user fees are discussed The authors also provide concrete proposals for reconstructing the federal provincial partnership Contributors include Keith Banting Queen's University Robin Boadway Queen's University David Cameron University of Toronto Harvey Lazar Jennifer McCrea Logie France St Hilaire and Jean Francois Tremblay

Global Instability S. McBride, L. Dobuzinskis, Marjorie Griffin Cohen, J. Busumtwi-Sam, 2002-12-31 Global Instability Uncertainty and New Visions in Political Economy presents a series of papers that address the political consequences of globalization for states and their populations while exploring the issue of alternatives to the model of globalization we are presently experiencing The focus moves from the world of international agreements to the national and sub national dilemmas that are posed by attempting to manage a set of global developments within a given territory The initial chapter by Daniel Drache explores a still born post war international organization the International Trade Organization that offers a different vision of how a globally integrated economy might operate A number of papers then explore the challenges posed by today's globalization including currency instability in an environment of financial deregulation the rights conferred on investors by the North American Free Trade Agreement and the progressive liberalization of trade in services built into the General Agreement on Trade in Services
