Reclaiming Indigenous Voice And Vision:

Reclaiming Indigenous Voice and Vision Marie Battiste, Marie Ann Battiste, 2000 At a recent conference in Saskatchewan indigenous and non indigenous delegates from North and South America New Zealand Australia and Europe addressed cultural restoration and the issues and challenges confronting Aboriginal peoples as a result of decolonization Their aim was to determine how Aboriginal cultural rights in postcolonial societies can be restored and how to find new approaches for protecting healing and restoring cultures and languages of long oppressed peoples Truth and Reconciliation Through Education Yvonne Poitras Pratt, Sulyn Bodnaresko, 2023-05-31 How educators can respond to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's Calls to Action Educators have a special role in furthering truth and reconciliation in education but many struggle to understand exactly what that means and how to accomplish it There is no step by step guide to getting it right Educators can only meaningfully accomplish truth and reconciliation in education by seeking out truth and reconciliation through education an ongoing process of amplifying Indigenous voices and experiences allowing oneself to be changed by them and being guided by this learning both personally and professionally Springing from an Indigenous education master's certificate program at the University of Calgary and written from an adult education perspective on transformative learning this book invites educators broadly defined into a conversation about truth and reconciliation through education Section I contains useful chapters on program design and concepts while section II presents a collection of inspirational and thought provoking personal reflections from Indigenous and non Indigenous educators who have taken deliberate active roles in responding to the TRC's Calls to Action This is a resource written by educators for educators wishing to embark on their own journeys of truth and reconciliation Join the reconciliatory education community in courageously teaching learning and acting just as the educators in this collected volume do Wicihitowin Gord Bruyere (Amawaajibitang), Michael Anthony Hart (Kaskitémahikan), Raven Sinclair (Ótiskewápiwskew), 2020-05-06T00:00:00Z Wicihitowin is the first Canadian social work book written by First Nations Inuit and Métis authors who are educators at schools of social work across Canada The book begins by presenting foundational theoretical perspectives that develop an understanding of the history of colonization and theories of decolonization and Indigenous social work It goes on to explore issues and aspects of social work practice with Indigenous people to assist educators researchers students and practitioners to create effective and respectful approaches to social work with diverse populations Traditional Indigenous knowledge that challenges and transforms the basis of social work with Indigenous and other peoples comprises a third section of the book Wicihitowin concludes with an eye to the future which the authors hope will continue to promote the innovations and creativity presented in this groundbreaking work

Research Ethics and Social Movements Kevin Gillan, Jenny Pickerill, 2016-04-14 What ethical challenges are faced by researchers studying social and political movements Should scholars integrate their personal politics and identities into their research What role should activists have in shaping the purposes or processes of social scientific research How do changing political contexts affect the ethical integrity of a research project over time These are some of the live issues of research ethics that face students and scholars whose research subjects are located in contentious political terrain The contributors to this volume expose their own ethical thinking as they have met such challenges head on Each explores real dilemmas of ethical practice on the ground as they carry out research on social movements across the globe Authors examining pro democracy activists in Malaysia sanctions breakers in the Gaza Freedom Flotilla environmental health organisations in North America and much else find that the narrow confines of Research Ethics Committees and Institutional Review Boards offer little guidance on the questions that really matter They offer instead a demonstration of continual reflexivity that is both personal and political in its approach This book opens up debate on research ethics delineating key challenges and offering hopeful and practical ways forward for real world ethical social science This book was published as a special issue of Social Movement Studies

Being Again of One Mind Lina Sunseri, 2010-11-21 Being Again of One Mind combines the narratives of Oneida women of various generations with a critical reading of feminist literature on nationalism to reveal that some Indigenous women view nationalism in the form of decolonization as a way to restore traditional gender balance and well being to their own lives and communities By giving a voice to Oneida women's thoughts on tradition and nation this book challenges mainstream feminist ideas about the masculine bias of Western theories of nation and about the dangers of nationalist movements that idealize women's so called traditional role Lina Sunseri shows that feminist insights although useful to many women's and feminist groups cannot be applied universally to all women or to societies with traditional forms of nation based on good relations between men and women Oneida women do not view nationalism as a threat but rather as a way for women and men to be again of one mind social work practice The Oxford Handbook of Applied Ethnomusicology Svanibor Pettan, Jeff Todd Titon, 2015-07-01

Applied studies scholarship has triggered a not so quiet revolution in the discipline of ethnomusicology. The current generation of applied ethnomusicologists has moved toward participatory action research involving themselves in musical communities and working directly on their behalf. The essays in The Oxford Handbook of Applied Ethnomusicology edited by Svanibor Pettan and Jeff Todd Titon theorize applied ethnomusicology, offer histories and detail practical examples with the goal of stimulating further development in the field. The essays in the book, all newly commissioned for the volume, reflect scholarship and data gleaned from eleven countries by over twenty contributors. Themes and locations of the research discussed encompass all world continents. The authors present case studies encompassing multiple places other than discuss circumstances within a geopolitical unit, either near or far. Many of the authors consider marginalized peoples and communities; others argue for participatory action research. All are united in their interest in overarching themes such as conflict, education, archives, and the status of indigenous peoples and immigrants. A volume that at once defines its field, advances it, and even acts as a large scale applied ethnomusicology project in the way it connects ideas and methodology. The Oxford Handbook of Applied Ethnomusicology is a seminal contribution to the study of ethnomusicology, theoretical and applied.

Curriculum as Cultural Practice Yatta Kanu, 2006-01-01. Curriculum as Cultural Practice aims to revitalize current discourses of curriculum research and reform from a postcolonial perspective.

Applying Critical Mathematics Education, 2021-07-05. There is no shortage of urgent, complex problems that mathematics education can and should engage with. Pandemics, forest fires, pollution, Black Lives Matter protests, and fake news: all involve mathematics. Matters of life and death have a clear political dimension and are interdisciplinary in nature. They demand a critical approach. The authors in this volume showcase new insights, teaching ideas, and new and unique ways of applying critical mathematics education in areas as diverse as climate change, obesity, decolonisation, and ethnomathematics. This book demonstrates that there is plenty to be done with critical mathematics education. Contributors are Annica Andersson, Tonya Gau, Bartell, Richard Barwell, Lisa Lunney, Borden, Sunghwan Byun, Anna Chronaki, Brian Greer, Jennifer Hall, Victoria Hand, Kjellrun, Hiis Hauge, Beth Herbel, Eisenmann, Rune Herheim, Courtney Koestler, Kate le Roux, Swapna Mukhopadhyay, Aldo Parra, Anita Rampal, Sheena Rughubar, Reddy, Toril Eskeland, Rangnes, Ulrika Ryan, Lisa Steffensen, Paola Valero, and David Wagner.

Teaching as Activism Linda June Muzzin, Peggy Tripp, 2005. Weaving together concerns about environmental and social justice, Teaching as Activism brings together constructive demands for change and theoretical debate. Written by activists who also teach, the essays challenge the current pedagogical literature with proposals that would bring discussion of social and environmental responsibility into postsecondary science, the classroom, and the community. With backgrounds in feminist science and Indigenous knowledges, the contributors emphasize the importance of appreciating Indigenous knowledges, recognizing our bias about how knowledge is presently produced, and integrating science with a human spiritual connection to nature. The goals are to question the legacies of colonialism capitalism and globalization and create a more inclusive interdisciplinary education

The Routledge Handbook of Philosophy and Europe Darian Meacham, Nicolas de Warren, 2021-03-30 Understood historically culturally politically geographically or philosophically the idea of Europe and notion of European identity conjure up as much controversy as consensus The mapping of the relation between ideas of Europe and their philosophical articulation and contestation has never benefitted from clear boundaries and if it is to retain its relevance to the challenges now facing the world it must become an evolving conceptual landscape of critical reflection The Routledge Handbook of Philosophy and Europe provides an outstanding reference work for the exploration of Europe in its manifold conceptions narratives institutions and values Comprising twenty seven chapters by a group of international contributors the Handbook is divided into three parts Europe of the philosophers Concepts and controversies Debates and horizons Essential reading for students and researchers in philosophy politics and European studies the Handbook will also be of interest to those in related disciplines such as sociology religion and European history and history of ideas

Critical Collaborations Smaro Kamboureli, Christl Verduyn, 2014-05-28 Critical Collaborations Indigeneity Diaspora and Ecology in Canadian Literary Studies is the third volume of essays produced as part of the TransCanada conferences project The essays gathered in Critical Collaborations constitute a call for collaboration and kinship across disciplinary political institutional and community borders They are tied together through a simultaneous call for resistance to Eurocentrism corporatization rationalism and the fantasy of total systems of knowledge and a call for critical collaborations These collaborations seek to forge connections without perceived identity linking concepts and communities without violating the differences that constitute them seeking epistemic kinships while maintaining a willingness to not know In this way they form a critical conversation between seemingly distinct areas and demonstrate fundamental allegiances between diasporic and indigenous scholarship transnational and local knowledges legal and eco critical methodologies Links are forged between Indigenous knowledge and ecological and social justice creative critical reading and ambidextrous epistemologies unmaking the nation through translocalism and unsettling histories of colonial complicity through a poetics of relation Together these essays reveal how the critical methodologies brought to bear on literary studies can both challenge and exceed disciplinary structures presenting new forms of strategic transdisciplinarity that expand the possibilities of Canadian literary studies while also emphasizing humility complicity and the limits of knowledge

The Clay We Are Made Of Susan M. Hill, 2017-04-28 If one seeks to understand Haudenosaunee Six Nations history one must consider the history of Haudenosaunee land For countless generations prior to European contact land and territory informed Haudenosaunee thought and philosophy and was a primary determinant of Haudenosaunee identity In The Clay We Are Made Of Susan M Hill presents a revolutionary retelling of the history of the Grand River Haudenosaunee from their Creation Story through European contact to contemporary land claims negotiations She incorporates Indigenous theory fourth world post colonialism and Amerindian autohistory along with

Haudenosaunee languages oral records and wampum strings to provide the most comprehensive account of the Haudenosaunee's relationship to their land Hill outlines the basic principles and historical knowledge contained within four key epics passed down through Haudenosaunee cultural history She highlights the political role of women in land negotiations and dispels their misrepresentation in the scholarly canon She guides the reader through treaty relationships with Dutch French and British settler nations including the Kaswentha Two Row Wampum the precursor to all future Haudenosaunee European treaties the Covenant Chain the Nanfan Treaty and the Haldimand Proclamation and concludes with a discussion of the current problematic relationships between the Grand River Haudenosaunee the Crown and the Canadian government

Teaching and Learning Secondary School Mathematics Ann Kajander, Jennifer Holm, Egan J Chernoff, 2018-10-24 This volume brings together recent research and commentary in secondary school mathematics from a breadth of contemporary Canadian and International researchers and educators It is both representative of mathematics education generally as well as unique to the particular geography and culture of Canada The chapters address topics of broad applicability such as technology in learning mathematics recent interest in social justice contexts in the learning of mathematics as well as Indigenous education The voices of classroom practitioners the group ultimately responsible for implementing this new vision of mathematics teaching and learning are not forgotten Each section includes a chapter written by a classroom teacher making this volume unique in its approach We have much to learn from one another and this volume takes the stance that the development of a united vision supported by both research and professional dialog provides the first step
