Lisa Sowle Cahill, 2019-03-02 This book is a contribution to the Christian ethics of war and peace. It advances peacebuilding as a needed challenge to and expansion of the traditional framework of just war theory and pacifism. It builds on a critical reading of historical landmarks from the Bible through Augustine, Aquinas, the Reformers, Christian peace movements, and key modern figures like Dietrich Bonhoeffer, Reinhold Niebuhr, and recent popes. Similar to just war theory, peacebuilding is committed to social change and social justice but includes some theorists and practitioners who accept the use of force in extreme cases of self-defense or humanitarian intervention. Unlike just war theorists, they do not see the justification of war as part of the Christian mission. Unlike traditional pacifists, they do see social change as necessary and possible and as such requiring Christian participation in public efforts. Cahill argues that transformative Christian social participation is demanded by the gospel and the example of Jesus and can produce the avoidance, resolution, or reduction of conflicts. And yet obstacles are significant and expectations must be realistic. Decisions to use armed force against injustice, even when they meet the criteria of just war, will be ambiguous and tragic from a Christian perspective. Regarding war and peace, the focus of Christian theology, ethics, and practice should not be on justifying war but on practical and hopeful interreligious peacebuilding.

The Wisdom of the Cross Stanley Hauerwas, Chris K. Huebner, Harry J. Huebner, Mark T. Nienow, 2005-05-26 Few recent Christian thinkers have been as widely influential as John Howard Yoder. 1927-1997. Encompassing a teaching career of more than thirty years and such landmark publications as The Politics of Jesus, Yoder's life and thought have profoundly impacted students and colleagues from a broad range of disciplines. In the words of Stanley Hauerwas, Yoder is probably the major theologian-ethicist of this half-century in America and certainly the leading Mennonite theologian of the twentieth century. The Wisdom of the Cross is the only book to provide valuable secondary essays engaging Yoder's central theological concerns together with a biographical reflection on his life and legacy. Written by scholars both from within and outside of Yoder's Mennonite community, these essays develop the most significant aspects of Yoder's thought from his powerful defense of Christian pacifism to his seminal analysis of the politics of Jesus to his challenging contributions to Christian social ethics, ecclesiology, and theological method. The book also includes a previously unpublished essay on moral absolutes by Yoder himself. A fitting tribute to Yoder's distinguished career, this volume will be useful to readers new to Yoder's work and to those wishing to probe more deeply into the implications of his thought.

Anabaptist Baptism: A Representative Study Rollin S. Armour, 1998-09-22 A study of the sixteenth-century Anabaptist theology of baptism, Armour specifically looks at the thought of Balthasar Hubmaier, Hans Hut, Melchior Hofmann, and Pilgram Marpeck.

Toward an Anabaptist-Pentecostal Vision Joseph C. L. Sawatzky, 2023-03-28 What does Pentecostalism, the fastest growing Christian expression worldwide, have to do with Anabaptism, whose Mennonite adherents have sometimes been called the quiet in the land? In this groundbreaking study, Joseph C. L. Sawatzky explores a mission history of North American Mennonites working with African Initiated and Pentecostal-type churches in southern Africa, illuminating points of divergence and convergence between Anabaptist and

Pentecostal streams Placing testimonies of African and North American participants in this history within a broader biblical and theological framework this study proposes bases for an emerging Anabaptist Pentecostal vision with implications for the church its leadership and its witness in the world This lively interdisciplinary study will interest students of mission interculturality and the Christian faith itself Cooperative Salvation Kathryn S. Eisenbise, 2014-12-05 Why did Jesus die What does it mean that Jesus died for our sins Christian theology has been wrestling with these questions for centuries and theologians have proposed lots of different answers and explanations in the form of theories of atonement But most of these theories fall short when confronted by a contemporary postmodern worldview Many of these models come out of orthodox rather than Free Church traditions so they also lack the distinctive elements that characterize Brethren ways of understanding God and the world The Church of the Brethren is well known for its acts of service and discipleship in the nonviolent model of Jesus but it has not produced much constructive theology Cooperative Salvation attempts to remedy this situation by proposing a constructive Brethren model of atonement It analyzes the diverse atonement models proposed throughout the Christian tradition noting where they prove inadequate To address the shortcomings of other models this work draws on important claims of historical Anabaptist and Brethren theology while also incorporating ideas from feminist liberation and process theology in order to construct an understanding of atonement that contributes a contemporary Brethren voice to the centuries long discussion of atonement
