Redrawing the Map Gabriel Gbadamosi, Ato Quayson, 1994-01-01 Their essays each explore the transnational connections between Africa and the West with Gbadamosi focusing on the effects of an African presence in Brixton Market and Quayson contemplating the state of Nigeria and the contradictions of nationalism Both authors make free use of the literary imagination to sketch their vision while anchoring their arguments in historical analysis Afropolitan Horizons Ulf Hannerz, 2022-02-11 Nigeria is a country shaped by internal diversity and transnational connections past and present Leading Nigerian writers from Chinua Achebe Amos Tutuola and Wole Soyinka to Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie and Teju Cole have portrayed these Nigerian issues and have also written about some of the momentous events in Nigerian history Afropolitan Horizons discusses their work alongside other novelists and commentators as well as describing the ways in which Nigeria has appeared in foreign news reporting It is all interwoven with the author's own anthropological field research in a town in Central Nigeria Calibrations Ato Quayson, 2003 Tiger in an African palace, and other thoughts about identification and transformation Richard Fardon, 2014-06-13 Tiger in an African palace collects eight essays about kinship and belonging that Richard Fardon wrote to complement his monographs on West Africa The essays extend those book length descriptions by pursuing their wider implications for theory in social anthropology exploring the relationship between comparison and historical reconstruction and questioning the fit between personal ethnic and cosmopolitan identities in contemporary West African nations In an Introduction written specially for this Langaa collection Richard Fardon retraces the career long development of his preoccupation with concepts of identification and transformation and their relevance to understanding West African societies comparatively and historically Ethnicity in Africa Louise De La Gorgendière, Kenneth King, 1996 Anthropology, the Intellectuals and the Gulf War Patrick Wilcken, 1994 As a college student at Goldsmith's College London and cultural essayist Patrick Wilcken takes a critical look at the involvement or lack thereof of anthropologists and other intellectuals in public debates on the Gulf War Wilcken seeks to place debates about anthropology's trajectory within the wider context of challenges to intellectual authority at the end of the twentieth century Ogoni's Agonies Abdul Rasheed Na'Allah, 1998 The book offers a wide range of perspectives on the crisis It includes detailed historical analyses of the Ogoni people of Nigerian politics and of the international responses to the Saro Wiwa execution It also includes a strong body of critical responses to the work of Ken Saro Wiwa and to his importance as a Nigerian intellectual and activist Salt, 1996 G.K. Hall Interdisciplinary Bibliographic Guide to Black Studies Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture, 2000 Redrawing the Map of Early Modern English Catholicism Lowell Gallagher, 2012-07-24 The tumultuous climate of early modern England had a profound effect on its Catholic population's domestic life social customs literary inventions and political arguments Redrawing the Map of Early Modern English Catholicism explores the broad spectrum of the early modern English Catholic experience presenting fresh and often startling assessments of the most problematic topics in post Reformation English Catholicism The contributors to this volume all leading or rising scholars of early modern studies conceptualize English Catholicism as a hazardous series of contested territories divided by shifting boundaries requiring Catholics to navigate with vigilance and diplomacy their status as insiders or outsiders This collection also presents new ways to understand the connections between reformist and Catholic inflections in the emerging canon of English poetry despite the eventual marginalization of Catholic poets in English literary history
