Reflections An Exhibition Catalogue:

The Art of Reflection Marsha Meskimmon, 1996 Marsha Meskimmon examines a wide variety of women's self-portraiture from performance to body art in lively and accessible prose. She takes the cultural focus from the dominant male self-portraiture to the more marginalized gender, bringing women artists' perspectives to the forefront. Reflections Sarah Buxton, Laura Campbell, Tracey Dawe, 2020-11-30 Mirroring, doubling, imitation, parody, intertextuality. The contributors to this volume, all postgraduate researchers at the time of writing, engage with some of these familiar words to produce articles that deal with the concept of reflections in literary and visual culture. Ranging from Italian Golden Age theatre to contemporary French literature and from Cuban film to German fiction, the twelve essays in this volume provide a fresh look at Modern Language Studies, highlighting in particular the interdisciplinary nature of this field. On one level, the volume speaks to those exploring Modern Language Studies for the first time, for example undergraduate students who seek a greater understanding of the dialogue between language and culture. However, the individual essays also have the potential to attract experienced scholars, either looking for new knowledge on specialist subjects or ways of approaching research in Modern Languages. Through its central theme, Reflections: New Perspectives in Modern Languages and Cultures, it makes some suggestions about the way forward for Modern Language Studies. Adman's Dilemma Paul Rutherford, 2018-01-01 The Adman's Dilemma is a cultural biography that explores the rise and fall of the advertising man as a figure who became effectively a licensed deceiver in the process of governing the lives of American consumers. Apparently, this personage was caught up in a contradiction, both compelled to deceive yet supposed to tell the truth. It was this moral condition and its consequences that made the adman so interesting to critics, novelists, and eventually filmmakers. The biography tracks his saga from its origins in the exaggerated doings of P. T. Barnum, the emergence of a new profession in the 1920s, the heyday of the adman's influence during the post-WW2 era, the later rebranding of the adman as artist, until the apparent demise of the figure symbolized by the triumph of that consummate huckster, Donald Trump. In The Adman's Dilemma, author Paul Rutherford explores how people inside and outside the advertising industry have understood the conflict between artifice and authenticity. The book employs a range of fictional and nonfictional sources, including memoirs, novels, movies, TV shows, websites, and museum exhibits, to suggest how the adman embodied some of the strange realities of modernity. Bay Area Figurative Art, 1950-1965 Caroline A. Jones, Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden, Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts, 1990 Should be the classic, central, definitive work on the emergence of Bay Area Figurative painting. Paul Mills, author of The New Figurative Painting of David Park. Reflections on Female and Trans* Masculinities and Other Queer Crossings Nina Kane, Jude Woods, 2017-06-23 This collection of essays emerged out of the Agender conference and various queer cultural activities associated with the PoMoGaze project. Leeds Art Gallery, 2013-2015. PoMoGaze was a term created to promote queer co-curatorial projects held at the gallery as part of Community Engagement activities and references PoMo as a shortening of Postmodern combined with Gaze as a play on words linking the act of looking with LGBT IQ activities The book presents many voices exploring themes of female and trans masculinities gender equality and the lives work and activism of LGBT IQ artists and thinkers It includes discussion of arts making cultural materials diverse identities contemporary queer politics and social histories and travels across time telling gender crossing stories of creative resistance Readers with an interest in the performing and visual arts literature philosophy and queer and gendered cultural readings with an intersectional emphasis will be stimulated by this eclectic and thought provoking collection LARRY BELL

Hudson River Museum,1981 The Geopolitics of Culture John Van Oudenaren,2024-06-15 Through the lens of James Billington and the institution he led as Librarian of Congress during a key period of US Russian relations The Geopolitics of Culture examines culture as a neglected area of US foreign policy Billington advised presidents and members of Congress and mobilized the resources of the Library of Congress to promote reform in Russia He believed that rather than preaching to the Russians the United States should expose the rising generation of Russian leaders to what was best in America and encourage them to rediscover positive elements in pre Bolshevik Russian culture The Geopolitics of Culture is the first book to chronicle Billington s influence on US engagement with Russia as it transitioned from communism to democracy under Gorbachev and Yeltsin and back to authoritarianism under Yeltsin and Putin Drawing on published and archival sources including recently released papers and interviews with current and retired Library of Congress staff members John Van Oudenaren casts new light on this era Billington s efforts led to a remarkable degree of cooperation between the Library of Congress and Russian cultural and political institutions Yet these efforts ultimately failed as Putin turned back toward authoritarianism The experience of the Library of Congress during this period nonetheless holds important lessons for today Billington believed that a transition to democracy in Russia was essential if the United States was to head off the geopolitical nightmare of a Eurasia dominated by an alliance of hostile authoritarian powers The geopolitics of culture thus remains a challenge for US foreign policy Visualizations Martin Kemp,2000 Short pithy beautifully illustrated articles on various fascinating intersections of art and science originally published in the British magazine Nature Drawing on

Architecture Jordan Kauffman,2019-03-19 How architectural drawings emerged as aesthetic objects promoted by a network of galleries collectors and institutions and how this changed the understanding of architecture Prior to the 1970s buildings were commonly understood to be the goal of architectural practice architectural drawings were seen simply as a means to an end But just as the boundaries of architecture itself were shifting at the end of the twentieth century the perception of architectural drawings was also shifting they began to be seen as autonomous objects outside the process of building In Drawing on Architecture Jordan Kauffman offers an account of how architectural drawings promoted by a network of galleries and collectors exhibitions and events emerged as aesthetic objects and ultimately attained status as important cultural and historical artifacts and how this was both emblematic of changes in architecture and a catalyst for these changes

Kauffman traces moments of critical importance to the evolution of the perception of architectural drawings beginning with exhibitions that featured architectural drawings displayed in ways that did not elucidate buildings but treated them as meaningful objects in their own right. When architectural drawings were seen as having intrinsic value they became collectible and Kauffman chronicles early collectors galleries and sales. He discusses three key exhibitions at the Leo Castelli Gallery in New York other galleries around the world that specialized in architectural drawings the founding of architecture museums that understood and collected drawings as important cultural and historical artifacts and the effect of the new significance of architectural drawings on architecture and architectural history. Drawing on interviews with more than forty people directly involved with the events described and on extensive archival research Kauffman shows how architectural drawings became the driving force in architectural debate in an era of change.

Re-thinking Mediations of Post-truth Politics and Trust Jayson Harsin, 2023-12-29. This collection reaches beyond fake news and propaganda misinformation and charismatic liars to explore the lesser publicized cultural forms and practices that serve as a cultural infrastructure for post truth society and politics. Situating post truth in specific contexts as a site of contestation or crisis the book critically explores it as a dynamic and shifting site around which political and cultural practices in specific contexts revolve and overlap. Through a breadth of perspectives the volume considers a number of overlapping cultural and political developments across varying national and transnational contexts changing technologies and practices of cultural production that sometimes shift and at other times reproduce authority of traditional institutional truth tellers seismic cultural changes in representations values and roles regarding gender sexuality race and historical memory about them as well as corresponding reactionary discourses in the culture wars questions of authenticity honesty and power relations that combine many of the former shifts within an all encompassing culture of self promotional attentional capitalism. These considerations lead scholars to focus on corresponding shifting cultural dynamics of popular truth telling and dis trust making that inform political culture. In this more global view post truth becomes foremost an influentially anxious public mood about the struggles to secure or undermine publicly accepted facts. This nuanced and insightful collection will interest scholars and students of communication studies media and cultural studies media ethics.

Keim, 1998-03-28 Western attitudes to Africa have been influenced to an extraordinary degree by the arts and artefacts that were brought back by the early collectors exhibited in museums and celebrated by scholars and artists in the metropolitan centres The contributors to this volume trace the life history of artefacts that were brought to Europe and America from Congo towards the end of the nineteenth century and became the subjects of museum displays They also present fascinating case studies of the pioneering collectors including such major figures as Frobenius and Torday They discuss the complex and sensitive issues involved in the business of collecting and show how the collections and exhibitions influenced academic debates about the categories of art and artefact and the notion of authenticity and challenged conventional aesthetic values as modern Western artists began to draw on African models National Endowment for the Humanities ...
