Luce Irigaray And The Question Of The Divine:

Luce Irigaray and the Question of the Divine Alison Martin, 2000 This study examines Luce Irigaray's oeuvre through the question of the divine focusing upon her contention that women need a female divine if they are about to become subjects It attempts to demonstrate that the issue of the divine should not be considered as one aspect of her thought but that it is central to her philosophy of sexual difference Hence Irigaray's critique of patriarchy is presented as a critique of the dominance of a religion of masculinity that favours a single universal Her proposal for two sexed universal divines is explored along with her specific suggestions for female divine ideals Particular emphasis is given to her engagements with Marx Nietzsche and Hegelianism and to the mode of her adoption of Christianity The study applauds the radical profundity of Irigaray's philosophy of sexual difference while remaining critical of the universalism in her notion of the divine for the doubt it casts upon the realization of a sexed culture Irigaray, Incarnation and Contemporary Women's Fiction Abigail

Feminist Perspectives on Pastoral Theology Zoe Bennett Moore, 2002-12-12 This book introduces feminist perspectives in pastoral theology It is concerned both with pastoral care and practice and also with pastoral theology and theory It seeks to explore why the inclusion of women's experiences and of feminist perspectives is of vital importance to Christian pastoral practice and to a Christian understanding of God The book is designed for concerned practitioners and also has specifically in mind the needs of students of pastoral theology It begins with the lived experience of violence in Church and society moving through to the implications of this for our understanding of the human community and the divine Intensities Katharine Sarah Moody, 2016-05-23 Is the affirmation or intensification of life a value in itself Can life itself be thought This book breaks new ground in religious and philosophical thinking on the concept of life It captures a moment in which such thinking is regaining its force and attraction for scholars and the relevance of thought to social cultural political and religious dilemmas about how and why to live Bringing together original contributions by highly distinguished authors in the field of Continental philosophy of religion including John D Caputo Pamela Sue Anderson Philip Goodchild Alison Martin and Don Cupitt this book has a distinctiveness based on its refusal to sit easily within either secular philosophical or theological approaches The concept of life mobilizes a thinking that crosses narrow disciplinary boundaries whilst retaining philosophical rigour Three sections explore the various dimensions of the question of life The Politics of Life Life and the Limits of Thinking and Life and Spirituality This book will be of interest to a broad range of readers in the humanities particularly to philosophers theologians cultural theorists and all those interested in philosophical or theological debates on the concept of life

Immanent Transcendence Patrice Haynes, 2012-08-23 Over the last twenty years materialist thinkers in the continental tradition have increasingly emphasized the category of immanence Yet the turn to immanence has not meant the wholesale rejection of the concept of transcendence but rather its reconfiguration in immanent or materialist terms an immanent transcendence Through an engagement with the work of Deleuze Irigaray and Adorno Patrice Haynes examines how the notion of immanent transcendence can help articulate a non reductive materialism by which to rethink politics ethics and theology in exciting new ways However she argues that contrary to what some might expect immanent accounts of matter and transcendence are ultimately unable to do justice to material finitude Indeed Haynes concludes by suggesting that a theistic understanding of divine transcendence offers ways to affirm fully material immanence thus pointing towards the idea of a theological materialism paradigmatic image of the Divine moreover as a society we can alter transform or even replace those paradigms Progressive movements exist in nearly every faith tradition moving towards the future of our world and our belief systems these movements include both radical and reformist thinkers and they are challenging the lenses that we employ to image worship connect with and understand the Divine With so many possible interpretations and paradigms competing for social acceptance and support the choice must be made carefully and wisely bearing in mind the inevitability of change whilst remaining open to pluralities of thought and practice This is especially important when it comes to the future of theology and religious studies in particular to the relations between the various global faith traditions In Testing the Boundaries ten scholars explore the praxis of faith including our image of Self in relation to the Divine our relation to the religious Other our struggle for religious identity in new locales the limits of language and translations in sacred texts our responsibility to nature our nomadic and transitory tendencies traditions in the academy and our interreligious relationships They test the boundaries of traditional theology and their interdisciplinary fields dancing in the liminal space where possibilities gather

Women Writers and the Occult in Literature and Culture Miriam Wallraven, 2015-06-05 Examining the intersection of occult spirituality text and gender this book provides a compelling analysis of the occult revival in literature from the 1880s through the course of the twentieth century Bestselling novels such as The Da Vinci Code play with magic and the fascination of hidden knowledge while occult and esoteric subjects have become very visible in literature during the twentieth century This study analyses literature by women occultists such as Alice Bailey Dion Fortune and Starhawk and revisits texts with occult motifs by canonical authors such as Sylvia Townsend Warner Leonora Carrington and Angela Carter This material which has never been analysed in a literary context covers influential movements such as Theosophy Spiritualism Golden Dawn Wicca and Goddess spirituality Wallraven engages with the question of how literature functions as the medium for creating occult worlds and powerful identities particularly the female Lucifer witch priestess and Goddess Based on the concept of ancient wisdom the occult in literature also incorporates topical discourses of the twentieth century including psychoanalysis feminism pacifism and ecology Hence as an ever evolving discursive universe it presents alternatives to religious truth claims that often lead to various forms of fundamentalism that we encounter today This book offers a ground breaking approach to interpreting the forms and functions of occult texts for scholars and students of literary and cultural studies religious studies sociology and gender studies

Sexual Subversions Elizabeth Grosz, 2020-09-02 Sexual Subversions introduces the works of three well known if not well read French feminists Julia Kristeva Luce Irigaray and Mieke Le Doeuff It provides a map of an area where there are few detailed discussions of the achievements of these difficult yet immensely rewarding writers In doing so this overview raises issues of general relevance to feminist research it participates in debates around the nature of feminist theory the relations feminist intellectuals have to male dominated knowledges and the strategies appropriate for developing non patriarchal autonomous or woman centred knowledges No book in French feminism would be complete without including the contributions of Kristeva and Irigaray The inclusion of Le Doeuff's work which brings a different perspective to bear on the question of sexual difference provides a counterbalance to literary appropriations of French feminism by Anglo American readerships Kristeva Irigaray and Le Doeuff are the focal points of this study precisely because each highlights the differences of the others revealing the frameworks to which the others are committed Nevertheless while these writers do not present a common political or theoretical position or form a school each addresses the question of women's autonomy from male definition affirms the sexual specificity of women seeks out a femininity women can use to question the patriarchal norms and ideals of femininity and rejects the preordained positions patriarchy allots to women

Questions of Gender in Byzantine Society Lynda Garland, 2016-05-23 Gender was a key social indicator in Byzantine society as in many others While studies of gender in the western medieval period have appeared regularly in the past decade similar studies of Byzantium have lagged behind Masculine and feminine roles were not always as clearly defined as in the West while eunuchs made up a third gender in the imperial court Social status indicators were also in a state of flux as much linked to patronage networks as to wealth as the Empire came under a series of external and internal pressures This fluidity applied equally in ecclesiastical and secular spheres The present collection of essays uncovers gender roles in the imperial family in monastic institutions of both genders in the Orthodox church and in the nascent cult of Mary in the east It puts the spotlight on flashpoints over a millennium of Byzantine rule from Constantine the Great to Irene and the Palaiologoi and covers a wide geographical range from Byzantine Italy to Syria The introduction frames the following nine chapters against recent scholarship and considers methodological issues in the study of gender and Byzantine society Together these essays portray a surprising range of male and female experience in various Byzantine social institutions whether religious military or imperial over the course of more than a millennium The collection offers a provocative contrast to recent studies based on western medieval scholarship Common themes that bind the collection into a coherent whole include specifically Byzantine expectations of gender among the social elite the fluidity of social and sexual identities for Byzantine men and women within the church and the specific challenges that strong individuals posed to the traditional limitations of gender within a hierarchical society dominated by Christian orthodoxy

Twentieth-Century Western Philosophy of Religion 1900-2000 Eugene Thomas Long, 2012-12-06 In the fall of 1994 Hendrik Jan van Leusen an acquisitions editor from Kluwer Academic Publishers visited me in my home to discuss a proposal for a handbook in the philosophy of religion He reported that he had been talking about this with philosophers of religion at several universities and that the response to the idea had been quite favorable I suggested that given the different approaches to the philosophy of religion it might be good for him to meet with philosophers representing different philosophical traditions at an upcoming meeting of the Eastern Division of the American Philosophical Association Jude Dougherty Joseph Kockelmans Robert Neville William Rowe and Merold Westphal kindly agreed to attend that meeting They made many substantial and helpful suggestions and a summary of the discussions was sent to van Leusen Some months later he wrote to inquire whether I might consider editing the series and writing the first volume which was to provide a historical map of twentieth century western philosophy of religion Although I could imagine myself editing the series I was initially reluctant to undertake the task of writing a volume that would take me across the lines of many different philosophical traditions By coincidence I had been asked some months earlier to contribute an essay on the philosophy of religion for a conference being held at the Catholic University of America on the general topic One Hundred Years of Philosophy

Self/Same/Other Heather Walton, Andrew Hass, 2000-03-01 This collection of essays explores the way our notions of self other subjectivity gender and the sacred text are being re-visioned within contemporary theory These new ways of conceiving create upheavals and radical shifts that rework our understanding of philosophical psychological political sexual and spiritual identity allowing us to trace the fault lines regulatory forces exclusions and unmarked spaces both within our selves and within the discourses that attend these selves As such revisionings break down borders and the encounter of literature and theology becomes a crucial focus for these explorations as the self learns to resituate its own being creatively vis a vis others and ultimately the Other Philosophy in a Feminist Voice Janet A. Kourany, 1997-12-29 In this book Janet Kourany offers an antidote to the pervasive and pernicious strains in Western philosophy that discount women Most areas of Western philosophy tend not only to ignore women but also to perpetuate long standing antifeminine biases of the society as a whole It does not have to be this way Rather than be part of the problem philosophy can be a powerful force for much needed social change In this collection of essays by some of the most noted feminist philosophers Kourany showcases ideas on the newest work of Western philosophy that is benefiting women as well as men Included here are articles by Eileen O Neill Louise Antony Virginia Held Susan Okin Carolyn Korsmeyer Nancy Frankenberry Lorraine Code Janet Kourany Andrea Nye and Susan Bordo all of whom show further directions in which philosophy ought to proceed This book demonstrates that feminist philosophy is not a separate area of philosophy that can safely be ignored by philosophers not in it Rather it relates to at least most of the major areas of philosophy and its gains will stand to benefit all philosophers no matter what their field
