Lukang Commerce And Community In A Chinese City:

Lukang Donald R. DeGlopper, 1995-10-12 Based on anthropological fieldwork in Lukang an old seaport in Taiwan this book examines the city's history economic structure and social organization It addresses such matters as an annual rock fight between the city's major clans the way votes are bought in local elections and why the inhabitants of a fairly large industrial and commercial city describe it as a cozy community where everyone knows everyone else The book uses the framework of a community study to address such large questions as the adequacy of Confucianism as model for Chinese society the nature of Chinese social organization beyond the realm of the family and kinship and the structure of Chinese cities rather than villages The argument of the book is propelled by a set of intellectual puzzles concerning the disjunctions if not contradictions between the structure of Chinese society or the city of Lukang and the ways the members of that society talk about their society and their own places in it

Religion and Charity Robert P. Weller, 2018 This book challenges our assumptions about morality by explaining how industrialized philanthropy and universalized goodness came to dominate Chinese religious engagement

Commodifying Communism David L. Wank, 1999 Commodifying Communism is an ethnographically grounded account of the institutional organization and political consequences of China's historically unprecedented market growth Drawing upon almost two years of ethnographic fieldwork this book challenges conventional views of post communist emerging markets being tied to the retreat of the state David Wank shows how entrepreneurs running private trading companies in Xiamen City Fujian Province one of China's five special economic zones maximize profit and security through patron client networks with local state agents The book examines how processes of opportunity exchange expectations and advantage are constrained by both statist and popular institutions in market clientelism It also considers the implications of market clientelism for the dynamism of China's emerging market economy relative to Eastern European post communist economies and its political consequences for state society and center local relations

Urban China Reframed Wing-Shing Tang, Kam Wing Chan, 2021-06-21 Given China's rapid economic growth and massive urbanization no one in the world can ignore what is happening in urban China This book is a critical review of existing urban China research which is found wanting due to the decontextualized use of theories and concepts developed in the West Urban China Reframed A Critical Appreciation consists of epistemological theoretical and methodological contributions to remedy these limitations by focusing on a number of relevant topics First models are widely employed in any study and China nowadays has invoked models like city system zones and global city in socio economic development How to interpret them in terms of knowledge production in a strong party state Second given the global prevalence of neoliberalism it is an important debate whether neoliberalism is applicable to China Third what is urban ideology in China How to contextualize it Are debates about the differentiation between the city and urbanization relevant to China Fourth massive rural urban migration in China has taken place within its mega rural urban dual system an institution that has persisted since the 1950s How does it manifest nowadays Fifth has the town country divide in China like in the West disappeared If not how can one interpret China's town country relations within the politics and administration of the Chinese state Sixth how to decipher the territorial development in the Pearl River Delta the world's factory under the auspices of the state The collection of essays in this volume contributes to the theoretical understanding of urban China The chapters in this book were originally published in the Eurasian Geography and Economics

Taiwanese Pilgrimage to China D. Hatfield, 2009-12-21 This book examines the pilgrimages to China from Taiwan in the late 1980s and early 1990s and offers a wide ranging account of urban planning statements arguments about ritual propriety and the material culture of pilgrimage Taiwanese Pilgrimage to China argues that as Taiwanese pilgrims and their Chinese hosts translated values produced in ritual contexts into the terms of economic and political reform they became complicit in a shared project of composing historical truth With its attention to pilgrimages at a possible center of geopolitical conflict Taiwanese Pilgrimage to China provides an account of how shared frameworks for action grow and advances anthropological understandings of conflict resolution The Indigenous Dynamic in Taiwan's Postwar Development: Religious and Historical Roots of

Entrepreneurship Ian Skoggard, 2016-09-16 Using Taiwan's third largest export industry shoe manufacturing as a case study this work contends that economic development can be tied to Taiwan's own cultural history as well as to the influx of foreign capital or the initiatives of the state government Steps of Perfection Donald S. Sutton, 2020-03-23 Despite Taiwan's rise as an economic force in the world modernity has not led to a Weberian process of disenchantment or curbed religiosity To the contrary other factors social economic political have stimulated religion How and why this has happened are central issues in this book One part of Taiwan's flourishing religious culture is the elaborate and colorful procession of local gods accompanied by troupes of musicians and dancers Among them are performers with outlandishly painted faces portraying underworld generals who serve the gods and punish the living Through their performances these troupes claim to exorcise harmful forces from the community In conducting fieldwork among these troupes Donald Sutton confronted their claims to a long history when all evidence indicated that the troupes had been insignificant until the 1970s and their assertions of devotion to tradition given the diversity of performances Concentrating on the stylistic variations in performances the author describes the troupes as organizations shaped by the market forces of supply and demand in the culture of religious festivals By focusing on performances as the nexus of market and art he shows how bodily performance is the site where religious statements are made and the power of the gods made visible Muslim Chinese Dru C. Gladney, 2020-03-17 This second edition of Dru Gladney's critically acclaimed study of the Muslim population in China includes a new preface by the author as well as a valuable addendum to the bibliography already hailed as one of the most extensive listing of modern sources on the Sino Muslims China's ten million Hui are one of the Muslim national minorities recognized by the Chinese government Dru Gladney's fieldwork among these people has enabled him to identify diverse patterns of interaction between their rising nationalism and state policy The Baba of Melaka Tan Chee-Beng, 2022-12-07 The fullest and most comprehensive ethnography of the Baba community in Malaysia The author is a meticulous ethnographer and provides three chapters of richly detailed information on Baba kinship and marriage practices ancestor worship Chinese folk religion and festivals and a variety of Baba social patterns and organizations This is certainly a necessary and pleasurable reading materials for scholars of Malaysia and for those interested in ethnicity more generally Professor Judith Nagata Pacific Affairs 62 2 1989 Based on a long term ethnographic study the new edition of this book provides a comprehensive description of Baba culture and identity in Melaka Malaysia Tan Chee Beng's landmark study analyses the term Baba the development of Baba society their distribution in Melaka and overt features of identity the Baba Malay dialect customs and religion kinship and social interactions all of which tie in to changes in Baba identity By discussing cultural change and ethnic identification of a Chinese Peranakan community in Malaysia the reader can gain a more complete understanding of this unique minority group within a minority in a rapidly changing Malaysian context      Anthropology in the City Italo Pardo, Giuliana B.
