Luton Images Of England:

Crime and Society in England Clive Emsley, 2013-09-13 Acknowledged as one of the best introductions to the history of crime in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Crime and Society in England 1750 1900 examines the developments in policing the courts and the penal system as England became increasingly industrialised and urbanised The book challenges the old but still influential idea that crime can be attributed to the behaviour of a criminal class and that changes in the criminal justice system were principally the work of far sighted humanitarian reformers In this fourth edition of his now classic account Professor Emsley draws on new research that has shifted the focus from class to gender from property crime to violent crime and towards media constructions of offenders while still maintaining a balance with influential early work in the area Wide ranging and accessible the new edition examines the value of criminal statistics the effect that contemporary ideas about class and gender had on perceptions of criminality changes in the patterns of crime developments in policing and the spread of summary punishment the increasing formality of the courts the growth of the prison as the principal form of punishment and debates about the decline in corporal and capital punishments Thoroughly updated throughout the fourth edition also includes for the first time illuminating contemporary illustrations The Photo-beacon, 1893 "Art in the North of England, 1979?2008" Gabriel N. Gee, 2017-07-05 Based on rare archival material and numerous interviews with practitioners Art in the North of England 1979 2008 analyses the relation between political and economic changes stemming from the 1980s and artistic developments in the principal cities of the North of England in the late 20th century Looking in particular at the art scenes of Liverpool Manchester Leeds Sheffield and Newcastle Gabriel Gee unveils a set of powerful aesthetic reactions to industrial change and urban reconstruction during this period on the part of artists including John Davies Pete Clarke the Amber collective Richard Wilson Karen Watson Nick Crowe Ian Rawlinson John Kippin and the contribution of organisations such as Projects UK Locus East Street Arts the Henry Moore Sculpture Trust and the Bluecoat Gallery in Liverpool While the geographical focus of this study is highly specific a key concern throughout is the relationship between regional national and international artistic practices and identities Of interest to all scholars and students concerned with the developments of British art in the second half of the 20th century the study is also of direct pertinence to observers of global narratives which are here described and analysed through the concept of trans industriality

Television and British Cinema Hannah Andrews, 2014-05-07 Undertaking a thorough and timely investigation of the relationship between television and cinema in Britain since 1990 Hannah Andrews explores the convergence between the two forms at industrial cultural and intermedial levels and the ways in which the media have also been distinguished from one another through discourse and presentation Liverpool and Manchester Photographic Journal, 2004

Understanding and Responding to Child Sexual Exploitation Helen Beckett, Jenny Pearce, 2017-12-15 The issue of child sexual exploitation CSE has received intense scrutiny in recent years following a number of high profile legal cases serious case reviews and inquiries This has resulted in increasing expectations that those working in the field will know how to appropriately manage and respond to this form of abuse Of course this is no easy task given the widely acknowledged difficulties of identifying and responding to sexual abuse and the particular complexities associated with the gain dynamic within CSE and the predominantly older age of children affected by it This edited collection draws on the latest research evidence and academic thinking around CSE to consider issues of understanding and response Written by researchers from The International Centre Researching child sexual exploitation violence and trafficking at the University of Bedfordshire Part I considers issues of understanding and conceptualisation Part II considers the practical implications of some of this thinking sharing learning from research and evaluation on prevention identification and response Understanding and Responding to Child Exploitation presents critical learning for academics and students and for those working in the fields of policy practice and commissioning It is relevant to a wide range of disciplines including social care youth work education criminology health and social policy
