Machine Learning Proceedings 1988 John Laird, 2014-05-23 Machine Learning Proceedings 1989 Alberto Maria Segre, 2014-06-28 Machine Learning Yves Kodratoff, Ryszard Stanisław Michalski, Jaime Guillermo Carbonell, Tom Michael Mitchell, 1983 One of the largest and most active areas of AI machine learning is of interest to students of psychology philosophy of science and education Although self contained volume III follows the tradition of volume I 1983 and volume II 1986 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Elements of Machine Learning Pat Langley, 1996 Machine learning is the computational study of algorithms that improve performance based on experience and this book covers the basic issues of artificial intelligence Individual sections introduce the basic concepts and problems in machine learning describe algorithms discuss adaptations of the learning methods to more complex problem solving tasks and much more Human and Machine Perception 3 Virginio Cantoni, Vito di Gesù, Alessandra Setti, Domenico Tegolo, 2012-12-06 The following are the proceedings of the Fourth International Workshop on Human and Machine Perception held in Palermo Italy on June 20 23 2000 under the auspices of three Institutions the Cybernetic and Biophysics Group GNCB of the Italian National Research Council CNR and the two Inter Department Centers of Cognitive Sciences of Palermo and Pavia University respectively A broad spectrum of topics are covered in this series ranging from computer perception to psychology and physiology of perception The theme of this workshop on Human and Machine Perception was focused on Thinking Deciding and Acting As in the past editions the final goal has been the analysis and the comparison of biological and artificial solutions The focus of the lectures has been on presenting the state of the art and outlining open questions In particular they sought to stress links suggesting possible synergies between the different cultural areas The panel discussion has been conceived as a forum for an open debate briefly introduced by each panelist and mainly aimed at deeper investigation of the different approaches to perception and strictly related topics The panelists were asked to prepare a few statements on hot points as a guide for discussion These statements were delivered to the participants together with the final program for a more qualified discussion Learning to Classify Text Using Support Vector Machines Thorsten Joachims, 2002-04-30 Based on ideas from Support Vector Machines SVMs Learning To Classify Text Using Support Vector Machines presents a new approach to generating text classifiers from examples The approach combines high performance and efficiency with theoretical understanding and improved robustness In particular it is highly effective without greedy heuristic components The SVM approach is computationally efficient in training and classification and it comes with a learning theory that can guide real world applications Learning To Classify Text Using Support Vector Machines gives a complete and detailed description of the SVM approach to learning text classifiers including training algorithms transductive text classification efficient performance estimation and a statistical learning model of text classification In addition it includes an overview of the field of text classification making it self contained even for newcomers to the field This book gives a concise introduction to SVMs for pattern recognition and it includes a detailed description of how to formulate text classification tasks for machine learning

Readings in Machine Learning Jude W. Shavlik, Thomas Glen Dietterich, 1990 The ability to learn is a fundamental characteristic of intelligent behavior Consequently machine learning has been a focus of artificial intelligence since the beginnings of AI in the 1950s The 1980s saw tremendous growth in the field and this growth promises to continue with valuable contributions to science engineering and business Readings in Machine Learning collects the best of the published machine learning literature including papers that address a wide range of learning tasks and that introduce a variety of techniques for giving machines the ability to learn The editors in cooperation with a group of expert referees have chosen important papers that empirically study theoretically analyze or psychologically justify machine learning algorithms The papers are grouped into a dozen categories each of which is introduced by the editors

Machine Learning: ECML 2001 Luc de Raedt, Peter Flach, 2003-06-30 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 12th European Conference on Machine Learning ECML 2001 held in Freiburg Germany in September 2001 The 50 revised full papers presented together with four invited contributions were carefully reviewed and selected from a total of 140 submissions Among the topics covered are classifier systems naive Bayes classification rule learning decision tree based classification Web mining equation discovery inductive logic programming text categorization agent learning backpropagation reinforcement learning sequence prediction sequential decisions classification learning sampling and semi supervised learning

FGCS '92, 1992 Artificial Intelligence Margaret A. Boden, 1996-06-20 Artificial Intelligence is the study of how to build or program computers to enable them to do what minds can do This volume discusses the ways in which computational ideas and computer modeling can aid our understanding of human and animal minds Major theoretical approaches are outlined as well as some promising recent developments Fundamental philosophical questions are discussed along with topics such as the differences between symbolic and connectionist AI planning and problem solving knowledge representation learning expert systems vision natural language creativity and human computer interaction This volume is suitable for any psychologist philosopher or computer scientist wanting to know the current state of the art in this area of cognitive science Up to date account of how computational ideas and techniques are relevant to psychology Includes discussions of classical symbolic AI of connectionism neural nets of evolutionary programming and of A Life Discusses a wide range of psychology from low level vision to creativity

Machine Learning - EWSL-91 Yves Kodratoff, 1991-02-20 In this book contemporary knowledge of superconductivity is set against its historical background First the highlights of superconductivity research in the twentieth century are reviewed Further contributions then describe the basic phenomena resulting from the macroscopic quantum state of superconductivity such as zero resistivity the Meissner Ochsensfeld effect and flux quantization and review possible mechanisms including the classical BCS theory and the more recent alternative theories The main categories of superconductors elements intermetallic phases chalcogenides oxides and organic compounds are described Common features and differences in their structure and electronic properties are pointed out This broad overview of superconductivity is completed by a discussion of properties related to the coherence length Newcomers to the field who seek an overall picture of research in superconductivity and of the cross links between its branches will find this volume especially useful

Machine Learning Methods for Planning Steven Minton, 2014-05-12 Machine Learning Methods for Planning provides information pertinent to learning methods for planning and scheduling This book covers a wide variety of learning methods and learning architectures including analogical case based decision tree explanation based and reinforcement learning Organized into 15 chapters this book begins with an overview of planning and scheduling and describes some representative learning systems that have been developed for these tasks This text then describes a learning apprentice for calendar management Other chapters consider the problem of temporal credit assignment and describe tractable classes of problems for which optimal plans can be derived This book discusses as well how reactive integrated systems give rise to new requirements and opportunities for machine learning The final chapter deals with a method for learning problem decompositions which is based on an idealized model of efficiency for problem reduction search This book is a valuable resource for production managers planners scientists and research workers

The Principles of Deep Learning Theory Daniel A. Roberts, Sho Yaida, Boris Hanin, 2022-05-26 This volume develops an effective theory approach to understanding deep neural networks of practical relevance

Genetic Algorithms for Machine Learning John J. Grefenstette, 2012-12-06 The articles presented here were selected from preliminary versions presented at the International Conference on Genetic Algorithms in June 1991 as well as at a special Workshop on Genetic Algorithms for Machine Learning at the same Conference Genetic algorithms are general purpose search algorithms that use principles inspired by natural population genetics to evolve solutions to problems The basic idea is to maintain a population of knowledge structure that represent candidate solutions to the problem of interest The population evolves over time through a process of competition i e survival of the fittest and controlled variation i e recombination and mutation Genetic Algorithms for Machine Learning contains articles on three topics that have not been the focus of many previous articles on GAs namely concept learning from examples reinforcement learning for control and theoretical analysis of GAs It is hoped that this sample will serve to broaden the acquaintance of the general machine learning community with the major areas of work on GAs The articles in this book address a number of central issues in applying GAs to machine learning problems For example the choice of appropriate representation and the corresponding set of genetic learning operators is an important set of decisions facing a user of a genetic algorithm The study of genetic algorithms is proceeding at a robust pace If experimental progress and theoretical understanding continue to evolve as expected genetic algorithms will continue to provide a distinctive approach to machine learning Genetic Algorithms for Machine Learning is an edited volume of original research made up of invited contributions by leading researchers Goal-driven Learning Ashwin Ram, David B. Leake, 1995 Brings together a diversity of research on goal driven learning to establish a broad interdisciplinary framework that describes the goal driven learning process In cognitive science artificial intelligence psychology and education a growing body of research supports the view that the learning process is strongly influenced by the learner's goals The fundamental tenet of goal driven learning is that learning is largely an active and strategic process in which the learner human or machine attempts to identify and satisfy its information needs in the context of its tasks and goals its prior knowledge its capabilities and environmental opportunities for learning This book brings together a diversity of research on goal driven learning to establish a broad interdisciplinary framework that describes the goal driven learning process It collects and solidifies existing results on this important issue in machine and human learning and presents a theoretical framework for future investigations The book opens with an overview of goal driven learning research and computational and cognitive models of the goal driven learning process This introduction is followed by a collection of fourteen recent research articles addressing fundamental issues of the field including psychological and functional arguments for modeling learning as a deliberative planful process experimental evaluation of the benefits of utility based analysis to guide decisions about what to learn case studies of computational models in which learning is driven by reasoning about learning goals psychological evidence for human goal driven learning and the ramifications of goal driven learning in educational contexts The second part of the book presents six position papers reflecting ongoing research and current issues in goal driven learning Issues discussed include methods for pursuing psychological studies of goal driven learning frameworks for the design of active and multistrategy learning systems and methods for selecting and balancing the goals that drive learning A Bradford Book Machine Learning Balas K.
