Bookseller's catalogues James Coleman (bookseller.),1869 The Ideology of Conduct (Routledge Revivals) Nancy Armstrong,Leonard Tennenhouse,2014-06-17 In The Ideology of Conduct first published in 1987 scholars from various fields from the medieval period to the present day discuss literature in which the sole purpose is to instruct women in how to make themselves desirable This collection investigates how middle class writers who had long emulated the behaviour of the aristocracy began to criticise that behaviour by formulating an alternative object of desire They did so without appearing to breed political controversy because it seemed to concern only the female But writing for and about women in fact became a powerful instrument of hegemony as it introduced a whole new vocabulary for social relations induced certain forms of economic behaviour as desirable in men and women respectively and insured the reproduction of the nuclear family It is argued therefore that the literature of conduct not only recorded but also assisted the production of our contemporary gender based culture Thoughts in the Form of Maxims Addressed to Young Ladies on Their First Establishment in the World Isabella Howard Carlisle,2023-07-18 This book provides advice to young women on how to navigate the challenges of adult life and achieve success both in their personal and professional lives The author presents her thoughts in the form of maxims making the book easy to read and remember This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant
