Wildlife Abstracts U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 1954 Nature Magazine, 1959 An illustrated monthly with popular articles about nature The Possessor and the Possessed Peter Kivy, 2008-10-01 The concept of genius intrigues us Artistic geniuses have something other people don't have In some cases that something seems to be a remarkable kind of inspiration that permits the artist to exceed his own abilities It is as if the artist is suddenly possessed as if some outside force flows through him at the moment of creation In other cases genius seems best explained as a natural gift The artist is the possessor of an extra talent that enables the production of masterpiece after masterpiece This book explores the concept of artistic genius and how it came to be symbolized by three great composers of the modern era Handel Mozart and Beethoven Peter Kivy a leading thinker in musical aesthetics delineates the two concepts of genius that were already well formed in the ancient world Kivy then develops the argument that these concepts have alternately held sway in Western thought since the beginning of the eighteenth century He explores why this pendulum swing from the concept of the possessor to the concept of the possessed has occurred and how the concepts were given philosophical reformulations as views toward Handel Mozart and Beethoven as geniuses changed in the eighteenth nineteenth and twentieth centuries Vienna Tales Helen

Constantine, 2014-11-13 Situated on the cusp of West and East between the foothills of the Alps and the mighty Blue Danube Vienna has long presented authors with a wealth of material for stories that entertain and intrigue The city's famous quality of life and rich variety of cultural offerings is apparent here at every turn but so too is its darker side whether it be the Viennese obsession with death and decay or the dramatic tragic events of its twentieth century history In stories from the early to mid nineteenth century in particular the city stands for wine women and song for a laid back perhaps somewhat lax outlook on life that is invariably linked to its location as German culture's southernmost centre In more recent tales the theme of the good life and of Vienna's beauty continues but there are very few authors who do not dwell on elements of darkness or melancholy Indeed from the mid twentieth century onward death itself seems to have become literature's preferred guide to the city The collection concentrates on stories set at the city's margins The tales are arranged geographically rather than chronologically around and through the city from west to east and back again We begin and end with Arthur Schnitzler and Joseph Roth two authors already indelibly associated with Vienna but represented here by little known gems translated for the first time Other authors include stars of Vienna s nineteenth century feuilleton journalism Heinrich Laube Ferdinand K rnberger Adalbert Stifter but also the most recent generation of Viennese writers Doron Rabinovici Eva Menasse Dimitr Dinev with tales as yet unknown in English Catalog of Copyright Entries, Third Series, 1949 The record of each copyright registration listed in the Catalog includes a description of the work copyrighted and data relating to the copyright claim the name of the copyright claimant as given in the application for registration the copyright date the copyright registration number etc Gertrud Bodenwieser and Vienna's Contribution to Ausdruckstanz Bettina Vernon-Warren, Charles Warren, 2013-12-19 Born in Vienna in 1890 Gertrud Bodenwieser became a leading exponent of Ausdruckstanz Expressionist Dance during the 1920s and 1930s developing a definitive personal style and a philosophy of dance that distinguished her from all her contemporaries In 1938 she emigrated to Australia to start her career afresh with the remaining nucleus of her company from Nazi occupied Austria In this collection of writings initially compiled by Bettina Vernon and posthumously completed by her husband Charles Warren each contributor highlights Bodenwieser s achievements from a different perspective with reminiscences from her pupils and company members together with scholarly studies
