Discussion Notes on Alice Walker's Possessing the Secret of Joy Adele Murdolo,1995

Pleasure Erased Catherine Malabou,2022-06-24 The clitoris was absent in anatomy books in paintings and sculptures absent in spirit and even body it has long been the organ of erased pleasure We assume that this oversight has been repaired in our times today the clitoris is not forgotten but honoured Conferences books manifestos works of art are all devoted to it The autonomy of clitoral jouissance is recognized The boundaries of feminism have also moved queer intersex and trans approaches claim that the clitoris is perhaps no longer the exclusive preserve of the woman And yet there remains a wounded space Because genital mutilation is still common practice Because millions of women are still denied pleasure The clitoris continues to mark the enigmatic space of the feminine Constrained by the extreme difficulty and the extreme urgency of returning to this scorched earth it is time to give voice to an organ of pleasure which has still not become an organ of thought

New Essays in Ecofeminist Literary Criticism Glynis Carr,2000 The present volume gathers new essays in ecofeminist literary criticism and theory that extend this critical trajectory for ecocriticism in the context of social eco feminist theory and practice BOOK JACKET Alice Walker Gerri Bates, 2005-10-30 Alice Walker born in Eatonton Georgia in 1944 overcame a disadvantaged sharecropping background blindness in one eye and the tense times of the Civil Rights Movement to become one of the world's most respected African American writers While attending both Spelman and Sarah Lawrence Colleges Walker began to draw on both her personal tragedies and those of her community to write poetry essays short stories and novels that would tell the virtually untold stories of oppressed African and African American women providing readers with hope and inspiring activism Perhaps best known for her novel The Color Purple 1982 which won the Pulitzer Prize in 1983 and became a controversial film three years later Walker has introduced and developed womanist theory criticism and practice and continues to champion the causes of women of color by encouraging their strength and liberation in her life and her writings Literary works analyzed in this volume The Third Life of Grange Copeland Meridian The Color Purple The Temple of My Familiar Possessing the Secret of Joy By the Light of My Father's Smile The Way Forward Is With a Broken Heart Now is the Time to Open Your Heart Identity and identification Ángel Mateos-Aparicio Martín-Albo, Eduardo de Gregorio Godeo, 2017-07-05 The present volume includes the Proceedings of The 14th International Culture and Power Conference organized by the University of Castilla La Mancha and held in Ciudad Real Spain between 22 and 24 March 2010 under the auspices of The Iberian Association for Cultural Studies IBACS The collection incorporates a selection of the papers presented The conference revolved around the topic of identity and identification which in the contributions is explored in various cultural products across a wide range of social and national contexts Identity and identification processes are examined as interrelated with other social and cultural dimensions Readings echo a multiplicity of theoretical approaches the number of issues contemplated being representative of the relevance of identity and identification processes as crucial analytical perspectives for cultural studies today African Settings in Contemporary American Novels Dave Kuhne, 1999-05-30 Africa has long captured the Western imagination as a land shrouded in danger and mystery British and American novels written before World War II established popular conventions and stereotypes about Africa that have been increasingly challenged by contemporary American novels set in Africa Kuhne's book overviews the ways in which Africa has been employed as a powerful setting for American novels written since World War II Kuhne argues that contemporary American novels with African settings are largely didactic that these novels convey specific lessons about Africa and Africans and that they compare African and American cultures in order to evaluate and critique the two worlds The book begins by summarizing the conventions and themes Westerners have traditionally associated with Africa and by detailing how British and American authors from Aphra Behn to Ernest Hemingway depicted Africa before World War II It then looks at contemporary American novels set in invented African nations novels that typically suggest that the problems that trouble actual African nations are the result of colonialism A separate chapter then examines the African novels of African Americans which generally aim to correct the historical record refute stereotypes and detail the horrors of the slave trade The volume also looks at genre fiction set in Africa while a final chapter discusses postcolonial novels with African settings

Analysis of Alice Walker's Sources in Possessing the Secret of Joy Donna Brinkley,1995 Empathy and the Novel Suzanne Keen,2007-04-19 Does empathy felt while reading fiction actually cultivate a sense of connection leading to altruistic actions on behalf of real others Empathy and the Novel presents a comprehensive account of the relationships among novel reading empathy and altruism Drawing on psychology narrative theory neuroscience literary history philosophy and recent scholarship in discourse processing Keen brings together resources and challenges for the literary study of empathy and the psychological study of fiction reading Empathy robustly enters into affective responses to fiction yet its role in shaping the behavior of emotional readers has been debated for three centuries Keen surveys these debates and illustrates the techniques that invite empathetic response She argues that the perception of fictiveness increases the likelihood of readers empathy in part by releasing them from the guarded responses necessitated by the demands of real others Narrative empathy is a strategy and subject of contemporary novelists from around the world writers who tacitly endorse the potential universality of human emotions when they call upon their readers empathy If narrative empathy is to be taken seriously Keen suggests then women s reading and responses to popular fiction occupy a central position in literary inquiry and cognitive literary studies should extend its range beyond canonical novels In short Keen s study extends the playing field for literature practitioners causing it to resemble more closely that wide open landscape inhabited by readers
