Reclaiming The City Innovation Culture Experience:

Reclaiming the City Marjaana Niemi, Ville Vuolanto, 2003 This book provides historical and comparative perspectives on topical questions examining in particular the impact of global and local forces on urban development in the long term the cities capacity to rise to the challenge and their continuous needs to both enhance and contain diversity These themes are developed by exploring different aspects of urban development such as counter urbanisation cultural innovations changes in spatial form migration and identity formation

The World of Ladoga Jukka Korpela, 2008 This book is one of the first to focus on Medieval and Early Modern state formation on the north eastern periphery of Europe Researchers have traditionally perceived an East West conflict between Sweden and Novgorod concerning the late medieval colonization of the northern forest areas but it seems that the East Fennoscandian boreal forest zone was not an unpopulated area at that time but was a landscape inhabited by heterogeneous hunting and fishing populations and possessing another kind of culture The ways of life of these populations can be observed by coordinating various bodies of palaeoecological palaeobotanic genetic meteorological folkloristic philological and archaeological material The traditional written sources did not extend to this area and its nature is only reflected in the expansion and organization of the European Christian culture and power both Russian and Swedish Also the increasing number of source documents the growing population as reflected in those written documents and the expansion of arable cultivation do not indicate any real colonization but simply a change of the existing economic system from a semi nomadic hunting and fishing economy to a field based agriculture in response to the expansion of regular taxation and state control Seen from this perspective the people who earlier were invisible gradually become visible in the sources The East Fennoscandian boreal forest zone was a European periphery during the Viking Age but was connected to the European exchange of goods through the same waterways that also brought the first Christian cultural impact The European economic crisis of the 14th Century nevertheless excluded the area from the late medieval process of state formation and it became an object of both Muscovite and Swedish interests only after the end of the 15th Century This meant the formation of parishes the organization of an early local administration with regular taxation the permanent stationing of military forces the establishment of a physical border and the assimilation of the local people into European culture accompanied by marginalization of the traditional forms of life

Tourism Strategies and Local Responses in Southern Africa Petri Hottola, 2009 This book discusses tourism development in Namibia It consists of 12 major chapters Chapter 2 explores the opportunities and challenges of implementing a national tourism policy in Namibia as perceived by tourism entrepreneurs Chapter 3 presents the South African experiences for local economic development LED in rural route tourism also a potentially strategic tool for development through tourism in the rest of Southern Africa Chapter 4 discusses the modernization approach to tourism development both in theory and practice Chapter 5 discusses their commoditization in the Namibian tourism promotion thereby defining their symbolic role in Namibian tourism development policies Chapter 6 evaluates the applicability of the strategic objectives and government policy in regard to community based catering services among the Hananwa Chapter 7 analyses the effectiveness of tourism development in the simultaneous achievement of successful nature conservation and better means of subsistence in the Okavango Delta Chapter 8 analyses the resources and restraints of coastal bird tourism in Namibia Chapter 9 explores the awareness and responses of the Southern African tourism sector to control HIV AIDS and the perceptions on the effects of the disease on its operational environment The process of mutual learning is however a complicated one and has a number of critical points as described in Chapter 10 Chapter 11 elaborates on the applicability of information and communication technology ICT for school based tourism marketing in Namibia based on experiences and studies in his former home region the eastern Caprivi Strip Chapter 12 discuss the possibilities for communities in or close to the park to benefit from its existence focusing on the partnerships between the Makuleke community the park s management and the private sector and on a comparative situation on the Mozambican side in the former Coutada Sixteen National Park Chapter 13 discusses some of the lessons learned from the Southern African case studies are brought together to outline the current issues of strategic tourism development in terms of both academic research and applied work in the tourism sector

Tourism in European Cities explores the relationship between tourist activity and the architecture and built environment within which it takes place This is the first book to consider urban tourism with a particular focus on European cities Tourism in European Cities considers the tourist experience and the various elements that shape it In many cities the historic core plays a crucial role in tourism either as the location of the more important attractions or as an attraction in its own right The book dedicates a chapter to urban heritage and its relationship to tourism including urban conservation and UNESCO World Heritage Sites Another chapter considers contemporary architecture and debates some cities efforts to use iconic architecture in particular to enhance their attractiveness in the context of increased competition between cities In the context of competition many cities are resorting to events as a strategy to reposition and differentiate themselves from other cities Major events are accompanied by major investment in event venues and in urban infrastructure The city often serves as a backdrop to the urban festival as activities and performances are staged in the city s urban spaces This book is essential reading for students of tourism and urban geography It is also of interest to students of urban planning and architecture and anyone keen to learn more about tourism and European cities

The European City and Green Space Peter

Clark,2016-12-05 Recent years have seen sustained public debate and controversy over the greening of European cities associated with the environmental movement pressures of urban redevelopment and the promotional strategies of cities competing in a global market But the European debate over urban green space has a long history dating back to Victorian concerns for the green lungs of the city to combat the health and social problems caused by rapid population and industrial growth This book explores the multiplicity of green space developments in the modern city ranging over parks and commons garden suburbs and the cities in the park allotment gardens green belts and national urban parks It is concerned not only with the different types of green space but the many influences shaping their evolution from international planning ideas to the rise of modern day sport and leisure and the effects of the transport revolution No less vital in this story is the interaction of the many actors involved in the often fractious political process of creating green spaces architects and planners politicians developers and other businessmen NGOs and local residents This volume is particularly concerned with contexts how international planning ideas are transmitted and adapted in different European cities how the construction of green space is affected by local power structures and relationships and how ordinary people perceive and use green spaces quite often at variance with official designs The European City and Green Space looks at these and other issues through the prism of four metropolises London Stockholm Helsinki and St Petersburg All represent different types of North European city yet each has experienced distinctive economic political and cultural trajectories whilst also facing powerful challenges and problems of similar kinds with regard to green space This volume examines how each has responded to them and what patterns emerge

Invisible Bicycle ,2018-09-11 The Invisible Bicycle brings together different insights into the social cultural and economic history of the bicycle and cycling in historical eras of ubiquitous bicycle use that have remained relatively invisible in bicycle history It revisits the typical timeline of cycling s decline in the 1950s and 1960s and the renaissance beginning in the 1970s by bringing forth the large national and local variations varying uses and images of the bicycle and different bicycle cultures as well as their historical background and motivations To understand the role possibilities and challenges of the bicycle today it is necessary to know the history that has formed them Therefore The Invisible Bicycle is recommended also to present day practitioners and planners of bicycle mobility Contributors are Peter Cox Martin Emanuel Tiina M nnist Funk Timo Myllyntaus Nicholas Oddy Harry Oosterhuis William Steele Manuel Stoffers Sue Yen Tjong Tjin Tai Frank Veraart

Valuing World Heritage Cities Tanja Vahtikari,2016-11-03 With its celebrated World Heritage List UNESCO steers the global heritage agenda through the definition and redefinition of what constitutes heritage and by offering the highest level forum for heritage professionalism While it is the national governments that nominate sites for inclusion in the World Heritage List and the intergovernmental World Heritage Committee that makes the final decision on inclusion or non inclusion it is the International Council on Monuments and Sites ICOMOS for cultural heritage that determines whether the necessary level of outstanding universal value is met Focusing on the discourses of ICOMOS and their transmission to the local context this book is the first in depth historical analysis of the construction of heritage value in the context of cities illustrated through a case study of Old Rauma in Finland The book contributes to the understanding of the discursive and constructed nature of World Heritage values as opposed to intrinsic values critically scrutinizes the role of ICOMOS in making valuations concerning urban heritage and sheds light on the interactions and tensions of universal and local urban perspectives in the practice of heritage valuation Valuing World Heritage Cities is the first in depth historical analysis of the construction of heritage value in the context of cities in the transnational discourses of heritage This unique and timely contribution will be of interest to scholars and students working in Heritage Studies Cultural Geography Urban Studies and Tourism      The Paper Trade in Early Modern Europe Daniel Bellingrad,Anna

Reynolds,2021-04-12 This book attends to the most essential lucrative and overlooked business activity of early modern Europe the trade of paper Despite the well known fact that paper was crucial to the success of printing and record keeping alike paper remains one of the least studied areas of early modern history Organised into three sections Hotspots and Trade Routes Usual Dealings and Recycling Economies the chapters in this collection shed light on the practices materials and networks of the paper trade Altogether the collection uncovers the actors involved in the networks of paper production transportation purchase and reuse between the thirteenth and nineteenth centuries and across the central and peripheral papermaking regions of Europe Contributors Renaud Adam Daniel Bellingradt Frank Birkenholz Simon Burrows Orietta Da Rold Michael Falk Anna Gialdini Rachel Hendery Silvia Hufnagel Jean Beno t Krumenacker Katherine McDonough Krisztina Rbai Anna Reynolds Benito Rial Costas Tapio Salminen Helen Smith Jan Willem Veluwenkamp Andreas Weber and Megan Williams      Experiencing Society and the Lived Welfare State Pertti Haapala,Minna Harjula,Heikki Kokko,2023-05-23 This open access book presents a new approach to the history of welfare state By applying the concepts of experiencing society and the lived welfare state the collection introduces theoretical methodological and empirical insights for bridging the everyday life and institutional structures The chapters analyze how the welfare state as a particular individual society relationship has become an integral part of living in the modern society With a long term perspective the chapters explore the experience of society which enabled the building and the resilience of a welfare state As the welfare state is not a universal model of social development but historically unique in different contexts the book broadens the focus from the Nordic countries to Southern Europe colonial Asia and post colonial South America This collection is essential reading for scholars and students in the social sciences and history as well as for policymakers and practitioners who face the contemporary and future challenges of the welfare states      Migration and Multi-ethnic Communities Maija

Ojala-Fulwood,2018-02-19 This book aims to shed light on a global and complex phenomenon migration In order to grasp this vast and ambiguous issue the book offers ten multi layered case studies each focussing on one aspect of migration With this selection of articles this collected volume builds a bridge between the past and the present and highlight the many sides of migration The chapters will demonstrate how the questions of controlled migration movement of labour improvement of one s life and interaction of people of different origin have puzzled us in the course of the last five hundred years      Cycling and Recycling Ruth Oldenziel,Helmuth Trischler,2015-12-01 Technology has long been an essential consideration in public discussions of the environment with the focus overwhelmingly on creating new tools and techniques In more recent years however activists researchers and policymakers have increasingly turned to mobilizing older technologies in their pursuit of sustainability In fascinating case studies ranging from the Early Modern secondhand trade to utopian visions of human powered vehicles the contributions gathered here explore the historical fortunes of two such technologies bicycling and waste recycling tracing their development over time and providing valuable context for the policy successes and failures of today

Lived Religion and the Long Reformation in Northern Europe c. 1300-1700 Raisa Maria Toivo, Sari Katajala-Peltomaa, 2016-09-27 Lived Religion and the Long Reformation in Northern Europe puts Reformation in a daily life context using lived religion as a conceptual and methodological tool exploring how people lived out their religion in their mundane toils and how religion created a performative space for them This collection reinvestigates the character of the Reformation in an area that later became the heartlands of Lutheranism The way people lived their religion was intricately linked with questions of the value of individual experience communal cohesion and interaction During the late Middle Ages and Early Modern Era religious certainty was replaced by the experience of doubt and hesitation Negotiations on and between various social levels manifest the needs aspirations and resistance behind the religious change Contributors include Kaarlo Arffman Jussi Hanska Miia Ij s Sari Katajala Peltomaa Jenni Kuuliala Marko Lamberg Jason Lavery Maija Ojala P ivi R is nen Schr der Raisa Maria Toivo Farnese Helge Gamrath, 2007 Bodies, Borders, Believers Anne Hege Grung, Marianne Bjelland Kartzow, Anna Rebecca Solevag, 2015-10-01 This stimulating collection of essays by prominent scholars honors Turid Karlsen Seim Bodies Borders Believers brings together biblical scholars ecumenical theologians archeologists classicists art historians and church historians working side by side to probe the past and its receptions in the present The contributions relate in one way or another to Seim s broad research interests covering such themes as gender analysis bodily practices and ecumenical dialogue The editors have brought together an international group of scholars and among the contributors many scholarly traditions theoretical orientations and methodological approaches are represented making this book an interdisciplinary and border crossing endeavor A comprehensive bibliography of Seim s work is included

Frontiers in the Middle Ages Fédération internationale des instituts d'études médiévales, 2006 The first uses of the term frontiere in thirteenth fourteenth century French were military referring to the first line of troops in a battle In architecture it meant the front of a building and at the end of the fourteenth century it was first used as a geographical term in Spain specifically about the divide between the Christians and the Muslims More than obstacles medieval frontiers whether geographical political military intellectual or artistic seem to have been bridges and points of contact Frontiers was the theme of the Third European Congress of Medieval Studies organised by the FIDEM in Jyväskylä Finland in 2003 True to the nature of the FIDEM it was highly interdisciplinary bringing together scholars from all over the world addressing problems ranging from Byzantine administration to Icelandic vernacular scribal culture during a week of extraordinary intellectual excitement This volume brings together forty four contributions by specialists of history history of ideas medieval philosophy philology linguistics literature as well as manuscript and archival studies The Immigration and Ethnic History
