Recoding Nature Critical Perspectives On Genetic Engineering:

Recoding Nature Richard A. Hindmarsh, Geoffrey Lawrence, 2004 The book addresses some fundamental and profound questions such as Are GM foods safe to eat What do consumers think about GM foods and alternatively organic produce What are the real risks of genetic pollution And is it appropriate to delete a supposed gene for sadness Recoding Nature challenges the assumptions of those preparing the world for a recoded DNA future Recoding Nature is at the cutting edge of critical reflection about the biotechnology revolution the redesign of nature through genetically modified plants animals and even designer humans to eat What do consumers think about GM foods and alternatively organic produce What are the real risks of genetic pollution Is it appropriate to delete a supposed gene for sadness Where did the idea of the DNA code come from and how is it shaping thought for a genetics future Why has commercial release of GM canola been approved when all canola growing States have declared moratoriums there genes for crime or is this just an illusion What about the prospects of corporate bioprospecting among Indigenous peoples And why have large grass roots movements in Asia surfaced to contest the notion that GM foods will feed the hungry In fourteen essays by Australian and New Zealand writers critiquing the new biology and with a stimulating foreword by Mae Wan Ho the UK scientist leading a global attack on genetic engineering as bad science Recoding Nature challenges the assumptions of those preparing the world for a recoded DNA future

Resistance Is Fertile Wilhelm Peekhaus, 2013-03-13 For decades government industry and the mainstream media have extolled the virtues of biotechnology while downplaying its negative side effects Focusing on agriculture Resistance Is Fertile challenges this dominant rhetoric by analyzing the major issues around which opponents of biotechnology in Canada are mobilizing resistance namely the enclosure of the biological and the knowledge commons which together form the BioCommons What emerges is an empirically and theoretically informed analysis of Canada's regulatory regime the corporate control of seeds and attempts to construct and control public discussions about agricultural biotechnology

Biotechnology Nico Stehr, 2017-09-08 While other books have addressed isolated aspects of recent developments in the biomedical sciences Biotechnology Between Commerce and Civil Society is the first book to engage with the full range of biotechnology's implications for social science and for society at large Professor Volker Meja New scientific knowledge is no longer merely the key to unlocking the secrets of nature and society It now represents the becoming of a new world Scientific developments affect the ways in which we conduct our affairs as well as how we comprehend the changes underway as the result of novel technical artefacts and scientific knowledge The practical fruits of biotechnology are a case in point they have grasped our imaginations and generated worldwide debate and concern Debates on biotechnology shift between images of utopia and dystopia The social sciences deserve a voice in the debate and can do so through sober examination of the economic social and cultural implications of biotechnology Some economists even predict that the importance of biotechnology as the technology of the future will far exceed that of the information technologies in particular the Internet

The contributors to this volume are drawn from a broad spectrum of the social sciences and include Nico Stehr Gene Rosa Steve Fuller Steve Best and Douglas Kellner Nikolas Rose Fred Buttel Javier Lezaun Anne Kerr Susanna Hornig Priest and Toby Ten Eyck Martin Schulte Alexander Somek Steven P Vallas Daniel Lee Kleinman Abby Kinchy and Raul Necochea Herbert Gottweis J Rogers Hollingsworth Gysli Pblsson Elizabeth Ettore Richard Hindmarch and Reiner Grundmann The impact of science on society is destined to be a fundamental concern in the new century This volume illustrates the contributions anthropology law political science and sociology can make to the ongoing discussions about the role of biotechnology in modern societies Nico Stehr is senior research associate Institut for Technikfolgenabschotzung Forschungszentrum Karlsruhe and Institut for Kostenforschung GKSS Germany He also is a fellow in the Center for Advanced Cultural Studies in Essen Germany editor of the Canadian Journal of Sociology and a fellow of the Royal Society of Canada Among his recent books are Werner Sombart Economic Life in the Modern Age with Reiner Grundmann published by Transaction The Fragility of Modern Societies Knowledge and Risk in the Information Age Knowledge and Economic Conduct The Social Foundations of the Modern Economy and Wissenspolitik Die berwachung des Wissens      Crucible For Survival Timothy Doyle, Melissa Risely, 2008-07-22 In this collection Timothy Doyle and Melissa Risely bring together an international group of environmentalists political scientists and international relations scholars to address key issues vital to determining the human and environmental security of the Indian Ocean Region Addressing topics that include agrifood production systems the geopolitics of water resources along the Mekong River basin oil production transportation waste disposal and climate change the contributors highlight the importance of regional collaboration and offer policy and management strategies for cooperative multinational problem solving      The Biotechnology Debate Bernice Bovenkerk, 2012-01-05 This book grounds deliberative democratic theory in a more refined understanding of deliberative practice in particular when dealing with intractable moral disagreement regarding novel technologies While there is an ongoing vibrant debate about the theoretical merits of deliberative democracy on the one hand and more recently empirical studies of specific deliberative exercises have been carried out these two discussions fail to speak to one another Debates about animal and plant biotechnology are examined as a paradigmatic case for intractable disagreement in today s pluralistic societies This examination reveals that the disagreements in this debate are multi faceted and multi dimensional and can often be traced to fundamental disagreements about values or worldviews One of the acute insights to emerge from this examination is that deliberation can serve different purposes vis vis different types of problem In the case of deeply unstructured problems like the modern biotechnology debate the aim of inclusion is more appropriate than the aim of consensus This book highlights the importance of political culture and broader institutional settings in shaping the capacity and propensity of citizens to engage in deliberation and the degree to which governments are prepared to relinquish authority to deliberative mini publics Robyn Eckersley University of Melbourne Australia      The Moral, Social, and Commercial Imperatives of Genetic Testing and Screening Michela Betta, 2007-06-24 In the past people were classified as being healthy or sick With genetic testing and screening adults might be healthy predisposed to an illness probably at risk or carriers of certain risks Genetic testing and screening hits another dramatic note when cells and embryos are tested and subsequently altered to hit targets of perfection This insightful book combines theory and social practice drawing on a range of disciplines and presenting contrasting viewpoints

Genetically Modified Foods Salah E. O. Mahgoub, 2016-04-19 An increasingly hot button issue genetically modified GM food is considered by some as the best way to feed the world's growing population and by others as an experiment gone wrong on the unsuspecting public Genetically Modified Foods Basics Applications and Controversy details the basics of biotechnology and its applications in the laborat

Eco Crime and Genetically Modified Food Reece Walters, 2010-10-04 The GM debate has been ongoing for over a decade yet it has been contained in the scientific world and presented in technical terms Eco Crime and Genetically Modified Food brings the debates about GM food into the social and criminological arena This book highlights the criminal and harmful actions of state and corporate officials It concludes that corporate and political corruption uncertain science bitter public opposition growing farmer concern and bankruptcy irreversible damage to biodiversity corporate monopolies and exploitation disregard for social and cultural practices devastation of small scale and local agricultural economies imminent threats to organics weak regulation and widespread political and biotech mistrust do not provide the bases for advancing and progressing GM foods into the next decade Yet with the backing of the WTO the US and UK Governments march on but at what cost to future generations The Nexus of Law and Biology Barbara Ann Hocking, 2016-02-17 Although law and science have interacted for centuries today their interactions pose enormous challenges These challenges are reflected in issues ranging from reproductive technology and resource conservation to genetic technology and biological warfare The emerging dialogue is complex and requires an ongoing rethinking of general principles such as expert biological evidence which features in a wide range of legal contexts and including medical law torts crime and intellectual property Studying the many ways in which law and biology come together in many areas of contemporary life The Nexus of Law and Biology New Ethical Challenges explores the juridical uses of biological sciences to illuminate key issues and contemporary intersections arguing that each of several disciplines must communicate with one another recognizing a common ground in ethics Featuring an impressive list of contributors this book is an invaluable reference for legal scholars students practising lawyers and scientists engaged with the legal system

Transgenic Crop Protection O Kaul, 2004-01-05 This book focuses on critical issues in the development of transgenic crops their problems and prospects both in developed and developing countries It deals with genetically modified herbicide tolerant crops and transgenic crops that resist diseases

Sustainable Food Production Includes Human and Environmental Health W. Bruce Campbell, Silvia López-Ortíz, 2013-11-01 Agroecology not only encompasses aspects of ecology but the ecology of sustainable food production systems and related societal and cultural values To provide effective communication regarding status and advances in this field connections must be established with many disciplines such as sociology anthropology environmental sciences ethics agriculture economics ecology rural development sustainability policy and education or integrations of these general themes so as to provide integrated points of view that will help lead to a sustainable construction of values Such designs are inherently complex and dynamic and go beyond the individual farm to include landscapes communities and biogeographic regions by emphasizing their unique agricultural and ecological values and their biological societal and cultural components and processes Renaissance Posthumanism Joseph Campana, Scott Maisano, 2016-03-01 Connecting Renaissance humanism to the variety of critical posthumanisms in twenty first century literary and cultural theory Renaissance Posthumanism reconsiders traditional languages of humanism and the human not by nostalgically enshrining or triumphantly superseding humanisms past but rather by revisiting and interrogating them What if today s critical posthumanisms even as they distance themselves from the iconic representations of the Renaissance are in fact moving ever closer to ideas in works from the fourteenth to the seventeenth century What if the human is at once embedded and embodied in evolving with and de centered amid a weird tangle of animals environments and vital materiality Seeking those patterns of thought and practice contributors to this collection focus on moments wherein Renaissance humanism looks retrospectively like an uncanny contemporary and ally of twenty first century critical posthumanism

Rebels for the Soil Matthew Reed, 2010-09-23 This book investigates the emergence of organic food and farming as a social movement Using the tools of political sociology it analyzes and explains how both people and ideas have shaped a movement that from its inception aimed to change global agriculture Starting from the British Empire in the 1930 s where the first trans national roots of organic farming took hold through to the internet mediated social protests against genetically modified crops at the end of the twentieth century the author traces the rise to prominence of the movement As well as providing a historical account the book explains the movement s on going role in fostering and organising alternatives to the dominant intensive and industrial forms of agriculture such as promoting local food produce and animal welfare By considering it as a trans national movement from its inception aiming at cultural and social change the book highlights what is unique about the organic movement and why it has risen only relatively recently to public attention The author reports original research findings focusing largely on the English speaking world The work is grounded in academic enquiry and theory but also provides a narrative through which the movement can be understood by the more general interested reader

Going Organic , 2006-01-01 Sets out to examine what really is going on in the organic sector socially and politically In the process it debunks a number of apparently common sense beliefs that organic consumers are wealthy environmental and health extremists that media is antagonistic and that the industry is driven by consumer demand Australian authors Food Security, Nutrition and Sustainability Geoffrey Lawrence, Kristen Lyons, Tabatha Wallington, 2013-10-18 As the threats of food insecurity loom ever larger the world faces the sad irony of food shortages in the global South alongside a purported obesity epidemic in the global North The twin issues of food production and food access are of particular concern in the context of climate change peak oil biofuels and land grabs by wealthy nations Food Security Nutrition and Sustainability offers critical insights by international scholars with chapters on global food security supermarket power new technologies and sustainability The book also assesses the contributions of diet and nutrition research in building socially just and environmentally sustainable food systems and provides policy recommendations to improve the health and environmental status of contemporary agri food systems The book features contributions from a range of social science perspectives including sociology anthropology public health and geography with case study material drawn from throughout the world

A Handbook of Food Crime Allison Gray, Ronald Hinch, 2018-05-09 Food today is over corporatized and under regulated It is involved in many immoral harmful and illegal practices along production distribution and consumption systems These problematic conditions have significant consequences on public health and well being nonhuman animals and the environment often simultaneously In this insightful book Gray and Hinch explore the phenomenon of food crime Through discussions of food safety food fraud food insecurity agricultural labour livestock welfare genetically modified foods food sustainability food waste food policy and food democracy they problematize current food systems and criticize their underlying ideologies Bringing together the best contemporary research in this area they argue for the importance of thinking criminologically about food and propose radical solutions to the realities of unjust food systems Agricultural Governance Vaughan Higgins, Geoffrey Lawrence, 2007-05-07 Drawing upon the expertise of some of the most prominent names in rural sociology geography and anthropology this book shows how globalization has opened up a new regulatory politics The Testimonial Uncanny Julia V. Emberley, 2014-09-30 Through the study of Indigenous literary and artistic practices from Canada Australia New Zealand and the United States Julia V Emberley examines the ways Indigenous storytelling discloses and repairs the traumatic impact of social violence in settler colonial nations She focuses on Indigenous storytelling in a range of cultural practices including novels plays performances media reports Internet museum exhibits and graphic novels In response to historical trauma such as that experienced at Indian residential schools as well as present day violence against Indigenous bodies and land Indigenous storytellers make use of Indigenous spirituality and the sacred to inform an ethics of hospitality They provide uncanny configurations of political and social kinships between people between the past and the present and between the animate and inanimate This book introduces readers to cultural practices and theoretical texts concerned with bringing Indigenous epistemologies to the discussion of trauma and colonial violence

The Joy of Gluten-Free Amanda Silver, 2021-03-24 The health and vitality gained after changing the diet is so miraculous that gluten free people want to tell their loved ones all about it in hopes that they too will want to change So it is with great love and hope in her heart that Amanda Silver presents The Joy of Gluten Free in order to share the Silver family s experience and some carefully developed recipes This book acknowledges the enormous emotional factor of this major life change and the importance of maintaining the change against all odds in a world that does not yet fully recognize the reality of the multiple latent detrimental effects of gluten. More than a cookbook, the reader will learn the depths from which the Silvers were rescued within a few months, encouragement and wonderful practical solutions for the family with school-aged children. She knows that a parent's time is precious and hopes that this little guide will cut straight to the action of taking on this difficult change. Her book speaks directly to the reader to encourage this new beginning, the mind set needed to follow through, and the resolution to never give up. After the family story and then an earnest discussion about mental preparation, sections include actual step-by-step instructions in the physical preparation of the home and solutions for packing school lunches, enjoying celebrations, and travel considerations. In her approach to cooking, the author plainly sets forth the elementary steps of basic cooking for the uninitiated. Besides some basic techniques for cooking plain whole foods, there are seventy-five gluten- and dairy-free recipes. They are recreated family favorites, a few inspired by some authentic ethnic dishes, and of course some delicious snacks and desserts. As a doctor that recommends gluten-free diets for patients suffering from tough neurological and autoimmune-based conditions, I am so thrilled this book exists. It's a great resource for my patients starting a gluten-free diet. Amanda's passion is clear in her book that provides people with inspiration, clear objectives, practical solutions, and encouragement. Dr. Joseph Childs, chiropractic neurologist, Active Integrated Medical Center<sup>115</sup>.

Sustainability and Change in Rural Australia Chris Cocklin, Jacqui Dibden, 2005. By addressing themes such as social and economic change, government policy, and gender relations, this volume tackles the thematic complexities of sustainability. It attempts to understand how small rural communities have survived in the past, what factors shaped them, and how these factors will impact on their future survival.
