The Index of Middle English Prose when completed will be a monumental achievement

REVIEW OF ENGLISH STUDIES Two very different collections are surveyed in this volume The manuscripts of Pembroke College Cambridge are typical of a medieval foundation Its core of books is a working library of that period representing the interests and needs of its Fellows very often given or bequeathed by them to the College The collection was substantially enlarged in 1599 through the gift by William Smart of Ipswich of a large number of manuscripts which until the Reformation had belonged to the Abbey of Bury St Edmunds By contrast the emphasis of the Fitzwilliam Museum collection is to a great extent art historical At its heart are the manuscripts bequeathed by Lord Fitzwilliam in 1816 These were supplemented throughout the 19th century by a series of gifts and bequests culminating in 1904 in the largest bequest to date from Frank McClean of some 203 manuscripts In spite of the different character of the two collections both contain a range of Middle English prose items among them Chaucer's Boece a complete Wycliffite sermon cycle and several Paston letters all from Pembroke the Anlaby Cartulary the Canutus pestilence tract the Brut Lydgate's Serpent of Division and Nicholas Love's Mirror of the Blessed Life of Jesus Christ from the Fitzwilliam KARI ANNE RAND is Professor of Older English Literature at the University of Oslo

The Digital Medieval Manuscript Suzette van Haaren, 2025-08-28

We increasingly encounter medieval books as digital facsimiles zooming in on high resolution images clicking through virtual pages or engaging with interactive displays But what actually happens when a parchment manuscript is translated into a digital object How does this change affect our understanding of cultural heritage This book explores the digital medieval manuscript as a unique cultural artifact not just a copy of its physical counterpart Through three case studies it reveals how digital manuscripts function in libraries museums and scholarship today Blending manuscript studies with digital humanities it offers a fresh materialist approach to the discourse surrounding the digitisation of cultural heritage and provides a nuanced view of how it shapes the way we perceive handle and preserve medieval manuscripts in an increasingly digital world addition to a black and white facsimile of the recovered portion of the manuscript the book includes a survey of the twelfth century Lambach scriptorium and a detailed codicological reconstruction of the codex Appendices of charts and tables demonstrate how the Gottschalk Antiphonary compares to other liturgical manuscripts from the same period Der heilige Wikingerkönig Olav Haraldsson und sein hagiographisches Dossier (2 vols.) Lenka Jiroušková, 2014-10-30 The twelfth century vita of Saint Olav the Norwegian King Olav Haraldsson is an outstanding example of how the intersection of power and sanctity was politically functionalised in the Middle Ages Olav's hagiographic dossier is transmitted in several and in part newly discovered manuscripts Its contents depend on both the Latin and the vernacular tradition while the milieus in which it was used range from the clerics of the High Middle Ages to the Hanseatic merchants at the end of the epoch Fourteen studies on language and style on codicological as well as cultic and cultural context of individual copies of the Passio Olavi on the veneration of Olav in Scandinavia England Northern France and Northern Germany on the construction of sanctity strategies of propagating Olav's cult and their narrative realisation and finally on changes of the text its spread and usage are presented alongside the first critical edition of the complete dossier Reading Medieval Images Elizabeth Sears, Thelma K. Thomas, 2002 What is it that art historians do when they approach works of art What kind of language do they use to describe what they see How do they construct arguments using visual evidence What sorts of arguments do they make In this unusual anthology eighteen prominent art historians specializing in the medieval field European Byzantine and Islamic provide answers to these fundamental questions not directly but by way of example Each author responding to invitation has chosen for study a single image or object and has submitted it to sustained analysis The collection of essays accompanied by statements on methodology by the editors offers an accessible introduction to current art historical practice Elizabeth L. Morgan, Lotte Hellinga, Rodney M. Thomson, Joseph Burney Trapp, John Barnard, David McKitterick, Maureen Bell, Michael F. Suarez, Michael L. Turner, Ian R. Willison, 1999 The history of the book offers a distinctive form of access to the ways in which human beings have sought to give meaning to their own and others lives Our knowledge of the past derives mainly from texts Landscape architecture sculpture painting and the decorative arts have their stories to tell and may themselves be construed as texts but oral tradition manuscripts printed books and those other forms of inscription and incision such as maps music and graphic images have a power to report even more directly on human experience and the events and thoughts which shaped it The seven volumes of the History of the Book in Britain will help explain how these texts were created why they took the forms they did their relations with other media and what influence they had on the minds and actions of those who heard read or viewed them Its range too in time place and the great diversity of the conditions of text production including reception challenges any attempt to define its limits and give an account adequate to its complexity It addresses whether by period country genre or technology widely disparate fields of enquiry each of which demands and attracts its own forms of scholarship The Cambridge History of the Book in Britain seeks to represent much of that variety The volumes investigate the creation material production dissemination and reception of texts effectively plotting the intellectual history of Britain Publisher description Bury St Edmunds and the Norman Conquest Tom Licence, 2014 Responses to the impact of the Norman Conquest examined through the wealth of evidence provided by the important abbey of Bury St Edmunds Bury St Edmunds is noteworthy in so many ways in preserving the cult and memory of the last East Anglian king in the richness of its archives and not least in its role as a mediator of medical texts and studies All these aspects and more are amply illustrated in this collection by specialists in their fields The balance of the whole work and the care taken to place the individual topics in context has resulted in a satisfying whole which places Abbot Baldwin and his abbey squarely in the forefront of eleventh century politics and society Professor Ann Williams The abbey of Bury St Edmunds by 1100 was an international centre of learning outstanding for its culting of St Edmund England's patron saint who was known through France and Italy as a miracle worker principally but also as a survivor who had resisted the Vikings and the invading king Swein and gained strength after 1066 Here we journey into the concerns of his community as it negotiated survival in the Anglo Norman empire examining on the one hand the roles of leading monks such as the French physician abbot Baldwin and on the other the part played by ordinary women of the vill The abbey of Bury provides an exceptionally rich archive including annals historical texts wills charters and medical recipes The chapters in this volume written by leading experts present differing perspectives on Bury's responses to conquest reflecting the interests of the monks they cover literature music medicine palaeography and the history of the region in its European context DrTom Licence is Senior Lecturer in Medieval History and Director of the Centre of East Anglian Studies at the University of East Anglia Contributors Debbie Banham David Bates Eric Fernie Sarah Foot Michael Gullick Tom Licence Henry Parkes Vronique Thouroude Elizabeth van Houts Thomas Waldman Teresa Webber
