Reconstructing Individualism, 1988      Reconstructing Individualism Thomas C. Heller, Morton Sosna, David E. Wellbery, 1986      Postmodernity and the Fragmentation of Welfare John Carter, 2012-10-12 Postmodern ideas have been vastly influential in the social sciences and beyond However their impact on the study of social policy has been minimal Postmodernity and the Fragmentation of Welfare analyses the potential for a postmodern or cultural turn in welfare as it treats postmodernity as an evolving canon from the seminal works of Baudrillard Foucault and Lyotard through to recent theories of the risk society Already disorientated by globalisation new technologies and the years of new right ascendancy welfare faces a significant challenge in the postmodern It suggests that rather than universality and state provision the new social policy will be consumerised and fragmented a welfare state of ambivalence With contributions from authors coming from a variety of fields offering very different perspectives on postmodernity and welfare Postmodernity and the Fragmentation of Welfare also keeps social policy's intellectual inheritance in view By exploring ways in which theorisations of postmodernity might improve understanding of welfare issues in the 1990s and assessing the relevance of theories of diversity and difference to mainstream and critical social policy traditions this book will be an essential text for all students of social policy social administration social work and sociology      Moral Injury and Soldiers in Conflict Time Molendijk, 2021-03-15 This book advances an interdisciplinary understanding of moral injury by analyzing the stories of military veterans of combat and peace missions In the past decade the concept of moral injury has emerged to address the potential moral impact of deployment This book contributes to an interdisciplinary conceptualization of moral injury while at the same time critically evaluating the concept's premises and implications It paints an urgent and compassionate picture of the moral impact of soldiers' deployment experience and the role of political practices and public perceptions in moral injury It does so by drawing on the experiences of close to a hundred Dutch veterans deployed to Bosnia Srebrenica and Afghanistan and analyzing their stories from the perspectives of psychology philosophy theology and social sciences Ultimately this book advances the understanding of moral political and societal dimensions of moral injury and contributes to practical efforts aimed at its prevention This book will be of much interest to students of ethics and war cultural anthropology conflict studies and international relations      Edge of Catastrophe Roger Frie, 2024-07-16 In Edge of Catastrophe Roger Frie introduces readers for the first time to the unpublished Holocaust letters in the family of the public intellectual and psychoanalyst Erich Fromm The letters provide new insights into Fromm's life and work particularly in relation to his lifelong concerns with fascism racism and human destructiveness The image of Fromm that emerges enriches our understanding of what it means to be both a social critic and practicing psychologist In light of the racial hatred antisemitism and political crises we see today this book demonstrates that a politics of engagement and a psychology of well being go hand in hand      Neoliberalism, Management and Religion Edward Wray-Bliss, 2019-03-14 The use of non secular religious concepts in contemporary managerial discourse to legitimise leadership organisation and work has been undertheorised Concepts such as organisational soul Spiritual Leadership a wider deification and demonisation of leaders and the mantra of individual freedom each evoke long religio historical roots The deployment of such terms in the present to re enrol people into the service of capitalism speaks both to high levels of religious belief worldwide and more specifically to a history of religion intersecting with public life in the US a context pivotal in the development and dissemination of managerialism and wider neoliberal discourse Organised around the concepts of Gods Devils Soul and the Individual this book will show how these concepts are being employed in current managerial leadership and organisation discourses critically examine the religio historical and philosophical roots of such and demonstrate how the religio historical and religio philosophical can be brought into the lexicon of critical organisational scholarship to provide a language to engage with the non secular legitimization of capitalism and its institutions In so doing this book is a timely addition to organisation and management theory It comes at a time that is witnessing a wider theological turn in continental philosophy mounting calls within organisation studies to take religion seriously and an ongoing legitimization crisis of neoliberalism one that is raising pivotal questions concerning how neoliberalism endures despite the deprivations and harms it occasions This book is intended to be engaging and erudite drawing upon a trans disciplinary combination of popular and academic management texts contemporary and classical philosophy literature and religio historical sources foundational in the construction of the Western subject

Gender, Culture and Human Rights Siobhán Mullally, 2006-05-26 In recent years feminist theory has increasingly defined itself in opposition to universalism and to discourses of human rights Rejecting the troubled legacies of Enlightenment thinking feminists have questioned the very premises upon which the international human rights movement is based Rather than abandoning human rights discourse however this book argues that feminism should reclaim the universal and reconstruct the theory and practice of human rights Discourse ethics and its post metaphysical defence of universalism is offered as a key to this process of reconstruction The implications of discourse ethics and the possibility of reclaiming universalism are explored in the context of the reservations debate in international human rights law and further examined in debates on women s human rights arising in Ireland India and Pakistan Each of these states shares a common constitutional heritage and in each religious cultural claims intertwined with processes of nation building have constrained the pursuit of gender equality Ultimately this book argues in favour of a dual track approach to cultural conflicts combining legal regulation with an ongoing moral political dialogue on the scope and content of human rights

Energy Futures proposes and demonstrates a new critical and interventional futures oriented energy anthropology. Combining the theories and methods of futures anthropology with the critical expertise and perspectives of energy anthropology creates a powerful mode of engagement which this book argues is needed to disrupt the dominant narratives about our energy futures. Its contributors collectively reveal and evidence through innovative ethnographic practice how new knowledge about imagined and possible energy futures can be mobilised in engagements with emerging technologies, anthropocene challenges and everyday realities. In doing so it brings together authors' analytical expertise and ethnographic evidence from the global south, north and places in between, generated through innovative methodologies including remote video and comic strip methods and documentary video practice as well as long term fieldwork. Rethinking Drinking and Sport Catherine Palmer, 2016-03-09. Rethinking Drinking and Sport examines the complex nature of sport related drinking. With close attention to the contradictory nature of sport related drinking, this book considers both the problem of drinking in sport as well as some of the issues for treatment and recovery that sports related drinking presents. Bringing together a range of methodological and theoretical debates that address the relationships between alcohol and sport, Rethinking Drinking and Sport draws on rich new interview material with fans and both drinking and non drinking sportsmen and women as well as documentary and media sources. Based on research across a variety of sports in the UK and Australia, Rethinking Drinking and Sport explores not only the relationship between alcohol, fans, participants and industry but also questions of gender and identity to provide fresh insights into the complex relationships between drinking and sport. Examining possible directions for health and public policy in relation to sport related drinking, this book will appeal to social scientists and policy makers with interests in consumption, leisure, sport, drinking and health.
