Reconceptualising Professional Learning Tara Fenwick, Monika Nerland, 2014-03-14 This book presents leading edge perspectives and methodologies to address emerging issues of concern for professional learning in contemporary society The conditions for professional practice and learning are changing dramatically in the wake of globalization new modes of knowledge production new regulatory regimes and increased economic political pressures In the wake of this a number of challenges for learning emerge more practitioners become involved in interprofessional collaboration developments in new technologies and virtual workworlds emergence of transnational knowledge cultures and interrelated circuits of knowledge The space and time relations in which professional practice and learning are embedded are becoming more complex as are the epistemic underpinnings of professional work Together these shifts bring about intersections of professional knowledge and responsibilities that call for new conceptions of professional knowing Exploring what the authors call sociomaterial perspectives on professional learning they argue that theories that trace not just the social but also the material aspects of practice such as tools technologies texts but also bodies and actions are useful for coming to terms with the challenges described above Reconceptualising Professional Learning develops these issues through specific contemporary cases focused on one of the book s three main themes 1 professionals knowing in practice 2 professionals work arrangements and technologies or 3 professional responsibility Each chapter draws upon innovative theory to highlight the sociomaterial webs through which professional learning may be reconceptualised Authors are based in Australia Canada Italy Norway Sweden and the USA as well as the UK and their cases are based in a range of professional settings including medicine teaching nursing engineering social services the creative industries and more By presenting

Values-Based Health & Social Care Jill McCarthy, Pat Rose, 2010-06-22 Is evidence based practice really best practice This is a hotly debated question in health and social care circles and the starting point for this book Engaging firmly in the debate Values Based Health Social Care calls into question the dominance of evidence based practice and sets out an alternative vision of care which places holism professional judgement intuition and client choice at its centre Bringing together writers from a range of health and social care backgrounds the book describes the rise of evidence based practice and explores major criticisms of the approach It argues that evidence should be seen as part of a broader vision of practice which places equal value on a holistic vision of the needs of patients and clients professional knowledge and intuition and seeing patients and clients as partners in their care Examples are used throughout the book to help readers link the concepts to practice The book concludes with suggestions on how to develop a values based approach in practice and through professional education Values Based Health Social Care sets out key debates surrounding the nature of practice which will be of interest to students and practitioners alike      Professional Experience and the Investigative Imagination Alyson

Buck, Paula Sobiechowska, Richard Winter, 2013-03-07 This book explains and demonstrates how creative writing can be used successfully in the context of professional education where traditionally a more distanced approach to reporting on professional experience has been favoured It is based on many practical examples drawn from several years experience of running courses for social workers nurses teachers managers and higher education staff in which participants explore their professional practice through imaginative forms of writing The participants experience of the work is presented through a discussion of interviews and evaluative documents The book includes a set of distance learning materials for those wishing to undertake such work for themselves or to establish similar courses as well as a full analysis of the link between professional reflection and the artistic imagination The book makes available a new and more broadly based approach to the process of professional reflection and the concept of the patchwork text has general relevance for debates about increasing access to higher education qualifications      Reconstructing Kobe David W. Edgington, 2011-01-01 Six thousand people died and hundreds of thousands lost their homes when an earthquake hit Kobe in January 1995 The Hanshin Earthquake was the largest disaster to affect postwar Japan and one of the most destructive postwar natural disasters to strike a developed country Although the media focused on the disaster s immediate effects the long term reconstruction efforts have gone largely unexplored Based on fieldwork and interviews with planners activists and bureaucrats Reconstructing Kobe records the first ten years of reconstruction and recovery and offers detailed descriptions of the geography of crisis and opportunity Which districts were most vulnerable to the quake and why Did planners successfully exploit opportunities to revitalize the city and make it more sustainable and disaster proof David Edgington s intricate investigation of one of the largest redevelopments in recent history offers a compelling post disaster case study for planners and policy makers and is essential reading for students and scholars of Japanese urban and planning history From Experience to Relationships Jasna K. Schwind,Gail M. Lindsay,2008-04-01 The six writers in this book explore the contribution and the transferability of narrative inquiry from curriculum studies to daily life in education and in healthcare They examine the interconnectivity of reconstructed experience with the construction of disciplinary identity and knowledge Thinking narratively they write auto biographically about relationships between teachers students nurses colleagues and or people in their care As narrative inquirers they are curious how research moves forward professional situations in education and healthcare The narrative plotlines of knowledge construction curriculum building and identity formation thread through the chapters In education and healthcare the reconstructed experience of a teacher is shown to be foundational to curriculum content and processes In nursing education we see congruence between narrative inquiry Clandinin Connelly and theorists such as Watson 1999 include the nurse in the caring situation as shapers of the experience of people in their care As practitioner researchers teachers in education and healthcare construct who they are and how they are in relationship in the context of social situations Inquiry not certainty Dewey 1929 is a life stance that is formative for education Practitioners in education and in healthcare will be interested in this book as a way to make meaning of their experience Policymakers and administrators will be interested in this book as a way of conceptualizing teachers knowledge as a source of curriculum Researchers will be interested in this book as a demonstration of how narrative inquiry illuminates ways of being that are educative and an innovative way to study curriculum Coaching for Change John L.
