Records Of Han Administration:

Records of Han Administration Michael Loewe, 2002 The first volume is a survey and discussion of the inscriptions on about 700 wooden strips found in the excavations at Edson gol being records of the official Han administration concerned largely with military organisation The second volume sets out the evidence itself Records of Han Administration: Historical assessment Michael Loewe, 1967 Records of Han Administration Michael Loewe, Records of Han Administration Loewe, 1967 Records of Han administration. 2. Documents Loewe, 1967 Vol.11. Records of Han administration M. Loewe, 1967 Records of Han Administration: Historical assessment Michael Loewe, 1967 Vol.12. Records of Han administration M. Loewe, 1967 Records of Han Administration: Documents Michael Loewe, Records of Han Administration Michael Loewe, 1967 Records of Han Administration Michael Loewe, 1970 Records of Han administration, 1967 Records of Han Administration Michael Loewe, 1967 Records of Han Administration Michael Loewe, University (Cambridge), 1967 Problems of Han Administration Michael Loewe, 2016 Michael Loewe calls on literary and material evidence to examine three problems that arose in administering China's early empires Religious rites due to an emperor's predecessors must both pay the correct services to his ancestors and demonstrate his right to succeed to the throne In practical terms tax collectors merchants farmers and townsmen required the establishment of a standard set of weights and measures that was universally operative and which they could trust Those who saw reason to criticise the decisions taken by the emperor and his immediate advisors whether on grounds of moral principles or political expediency needed opportunities and the means of expressing their views whether as remonstrants to the throne by withdrawal from public life or as authors of private writings Provided by publisher Early Japanese Trade, Administration and Interactions with the West Louis Cullen, 2025-10-01 Throughout his academic career Louis Cullen's main research interest has been foreign trade originally that of England Ireland and France but from the mid 1990s his focus turned to Japanese history resulting in his critically acclaimed A history of Japan 1582-1941: Internal and External Worlds Subsequently he concentrated on the analysis of archival sources and of the problems they pose for the interpretation of Japanese history papers on some of these themes and their associated statistical dimensions have appeared in Nichibunken's Japan Review and are republished here together with a collection of other papers including interpreting Tokugawa history and the knowledge and the use of Japanese by the Dutch on Dejima island Keeping Record Abigail S. Armstrong, Matthias J. Kuhn, Jörg Peltzer, Chun Fung Tong, 2024-06-04 The production and retention of written records was a common and important facet of pre-modern rulership and administration Much of our understanding of governmental practices and expressions of authority come from the contents of such documents which have been well studied Less studied however are the records themselves as artefacts This volume is an attempt to redress this balance by taking a more holistic material approach to a range of written records Through a series of case studies this volume explores questions regarding the material characteristics of various records and their use It demonstrates that the material features of the records including the size and shape the hands that wrote them and the material substrate can shed new light on the functioning of government and the declarations of power these records asserted The ten contributions of this volume focus on records from a variety of rulers political systems and administrations With four case studies from early China and six from medieval Europe this volume offers transcultural perspectives to demonstrate how different cultures expressed rulership and administration materially through the use of text bearing artefacts

Medieval Chinese Warfare 300-900 David Graff, 2003-09-02 Shortly after 300 AD barbarian invaders from Inner Asia toppled China's Western Jin dynasty leaving the country divided and at war for several centuries Despite this the empire gradually formed a unified imperial order Medieval Chinese Warfare 300-900 explores the military strategies institutions and wars that reconstructed the Chinese empire that has survived into modern times Drawing on classical Chinese sources and the best modern scholarship from China and Japan David A Graff connects military affairs with political and social developments to show how China's history was shaped by war

The Grand Scribe's Records, Volume XI Ssu-ma Ch'ien, 2019-07-31 Part of the extraordinary multi volume portrait of ancient China written by a court official of the Han Dynasty The Grand Scribe's Records Volume XI presents the final nine memoirs of Ssu ma Ch ien's history continuing the series of collective biographies with seven more prosopographies on the ruthless officials the wandering gallants the artful favorites those who discern auspicious days turtle and stalk diviners and those whose goods increase punctuated by the final account of Emperor Wu's wars against neighboring peoples and concluded with Ssu ma Ch ien's postface containing a history of his family and himself Praise for the series An indispensable addition to modern sinology China Review International The English translation has been done meticulously Choice
