Red Hot Blues:

TV-A-Go-Go Jake Austen, 2005-07 From Elvis and a hound dog wearing matching tuxedos and the comic adventures of artificially produced bands to elaborate music videos and contrived reality show contests television as this critical look brilliantly shows has done a superb job of presenting the energy of rock in a fabulously entertaining but patently fake manner The dichotomy of fake and real music as it is portrayed on television is presented in detail through many generations of rock music the Monkees shared the charts with the Beatles Tupac and Slayer fans voted for corny American Idols and shows like Shindig and Soul Train somehow captured the unhinged energy of rock far more effectively than most long haired guitar smashing acts Also shown is how TV has often delighted in breaking the rules while still mostly playing by them Bo Diddley defied Ed Sullivan and sang rock and roll after he had been told not to the Chipmunks subversive antics prepared kids for punk rock and things got out of hand when Saturday Night Live invited punk kids to attend a taping of the band Fear Every aspect of the idiosyncratic history of rock and TV and their peculiar relationship is covered including cartoon rock music programming for African American audiences punk on television Michael Jackson's life on TV and the tortured history of MTV and its progeny

Negro Workaday Songs Howard Washington Odum, Guy Benton Johnson, 1926 Negro workaday songs Howard Washington Odum, Guy Benton Johnson, 2023-07-10 Negro Workaday Songs is a profound anthology weaving together the vibrant tapestry of African American labor songs Embedded within the shared cultural experiences of toil and resilience this collection is an exploration of the tunes that underscored daily life for countless individuals The anthology captures the varied rhythms and themes from improvisational spirituals to poignant work chants reflecting the socio economic conditions and communal strength of African American life With each piece resonating with emotional depth the anthology paints a mosaic of cultural expression through music and storytelling offering insights into the historical labyrinth in which these songs were born The editors Howard Washington Odum and Guy Benton Johnson bring their scholarly backgrounds and empathetic insights to this collection providing a critical platform for these overlooked narratives Both scholars dedicated their careers to the social sciences focusing on Southern culture and African American life Their expertise and respect for these oral traditions illuminate the historical and cultural dynamism of the songs This collection is interleaved with academic rigor and cultural sensitivity bridging the gap between historical contexts and modern interpretations ensuring the songs retain their vibrancy and relevance Negro Workaday Songs is essential for anyone seeking to understand the cultural currents that shaped African American life offering a diverse exploration of themes deeply embedded in society This anthology stands as a testament to the enduring power of collective memory capturing the essence of a community's struggle and triumph through song By engaging with these works readers are invited to partake in a dialogue that transcends the written page experiencing the intertwining of culture history and artistic expression This volume is a scholarly treasure trove valuable for its breadth insight and educational merit
