Redevelopment Agencies in California Casey Blount,Wendy Ip,Ikuo Nakano,Elaine Ng,2015 Effective February 1 2012 the State of California ceased operating local redevelopment agencies RDAs which had operated since the end of World War II In recent times these agencies served as an important component of the affordable housing development landscape in California This paper developed by the U S Department of Housing and Urban Development s HUD s Office of Policy Development and Research PD R examines the history of California s RDAs describes their successes and failures and addresses the anticipated effects of their shut down on the future of affordable housing development in California The first section of the paper traces the history and development of RDAs from their inception in 1945 through the legislative fight that dissolved them in 2011 The next section presents examples of the RDAs successes and failures over the years The third section examines the RDAs closures and the anticipated impact that the closures will have on affordable housing development The final section of this paper details how the closure of RDAs will affect affordable housing production in the cities of Los Angeles and San Jose      Who Will Redevelop Redevelopment? Tim Kowal,2006 Although California s redevelopment law is among the strictest in the nation from a layperson s perspective redevelopment agencies RDAs appear to be no more obstructed from their projects in California as they would be in say Connecticut This article addresses a sort of tragedy of the commons problem applied to redevelopment If redevelopment powers are over harvested such as to instigate serious political revolt against them they will become barren and useless and will no longer be available for the purposes for which they were intended and for which they are still needed Even assuming that redevelopment is efficacious and necessary restrictions on redevelopment ought not be vacuous In a post Kelo society redevelopment finds itself in danger of being neutered of its ability to do what it is truly meant to do to overcome market failure in urban areas and restore and preserve the vitality of our communities If redevelopment agencies abuse their powers by manipulating the market rather than facilitating it they expose themselves to political attack in an already volatile property rights climate We are in need of reform that reminds RDAs why they exist in the first place market facilitation not revenue generation The problem cannot be properly addressed at the local level In the example of 99 Cents Only Stores v Lancaster Redevelopment Agency it became clear that unscrupulous businesses will employ hostage taker strategies to capture the RDA s eminent domain power Cities are left resorting to economically cogent yet legally pathetic claims such as future blight in order to appease 800 pound gorillas such as Costco or Wal Mart Thus it is not enough simply for local governments to self regulate their use of eminent domain it must be regulated from without Because an ill conceived redevelopment regime allows rent seekers to blackmail cities and entices cities to use coercive bargaining and offend landowners sensibilities RDAs are in danger of ruining the tools it needs to achieve the purpose of true blight removal the purpose for which it was designed Thus without careful review RDAs threaten to kill the golden goose The solution is to remove the blight in our redevelopment law and redevelop
