Reductionism And The Development Of Knowledge:

Reductionism and the Development of Knowledge Terrance Brown, Leslie Smith, 2003-01-30 Among the many conceits of modern thought is the idea that philosophy tainted as it is by subjective evaluation is a shaky guide for human affairs People it is argued are better off if they base their conduct either on know how with its pragmatic criterion of truth i e possibility or on science with its universal criterion of rational necessity Since Helmholtz there has been increasing concern in the life sciences about the role of reductionism in the construction of knowledge Is psychophysics really possible Are biological phenomena just the deducible results of chemical phenomena And if life can be reduced to molecular mechanisms only where do these miraculous molecules come from and how do they work On a psychological level people wonder whether psychological phenomena result simply from genetically hardwired structures in the brain or whether even if not genetically determined they can be identified with the biochemical processes of that organ In sociology identical questions arise If physical or chemical reduction is not practicable should we think in terms of other forms of reduction say the reduction of psychological to sociological phenomena or in terms of what Piaget has called the reduction of the lower to the higher e g teleology All in all then reductionism in both naive and sophisticated forms permeates all of human thought and may at least in certain cases be necessary to it If so what exactly are those cases The papers collected in this volume are all derived from the 29th Annual Symposium of the Jean Piaget Society The intent of the volume is to examine the issue of reductionism on the theoretical level in several sciences including biology psychology and sociology A complementary intent is to examine it from the point of view of the practical effects of reductionistic doctrine on daily life Reductionism Richard H. Jones, 2000 Reductionism s approach brings together many of the most interesting questions today in philosophy consciousness and computers and in science issues of complexity and self organization It also presents a brief history of how reductionism has developed in Western philosophy and religion with reference to Indian philosophy on certain issues 13th Chaotic Modeling and Simulation International Conference Christos H. Skiadas, Yiannis Dimotikalis, 2021-12-14 Gathering the proceedings of the 13th CHAOS2020 International Conference this book highlights recent developments in nonlinear dynamical and complex systems The conference was intended to provide an essential forum for Scientists and Engineers to exchange ideas methods and techniques in the field of Nonlinear Dynamics Chaos Fractals and their applications in General Science and the Engineering Sciences The respective chapters address key methods empirical data and computer techniques as well as major theoretical advances in the applied nonlinear field Beyond showcasing the state of the art the book will help academic and industrial researchers alike apply chaotic theory in their studies The History of Human Resource Development Claretha Hughes, Matthew W. Gosney, 2016-01-26 The history of human resource development embraces humankind s investment in one another s skills knowledge and abilities As the field transitions into a more mature discipline there is a need to understand the philosophies upon which certain theories and methodologies are based Providing a historical narrative of HRD from the beginning of human history through modern times this book reveals the consistent interaction between the philosophies of the time theories and methods of people management and how these philosophies impact what is known as HRD today Drs Gosney and Hughes offer a robust examination of HRD and provide a methodology for critical thinking to better understand the theories and assumptions of the field They provide a model whereby scholars and practitioners can better understand and evaluate modern HRD through the context of HRD history

Unity of Knowledge (in Transdisciplinary Research for Sustainability) - Volume I Gertrude Hirsch Hardon, 2008-12-31 Unity of Knowledge in Transdisciplinary Research for Sustainable Development theme is a component of Encyclopedia of Social Sciences and Humanities in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias Today there is a social need for a comprehensive unity of knowledge that would provide orientation and ensure action in the context of the complex problems of modern civilization Based on an intellectual need for unity of knowledge different concepts of unity of knowledge have emerged in the course of the history of ideas The intellectual need for unity can be directed at the world science action or the individual It can involve the quest for the unity of the world based on a principle that is immanent in it the unity of science as a theoretical methodical or epistemological unity the unity of action as a correlation of scientific pragmatic and moral knowledge or finally unity as the educational task of the individual The concepts associated with unity of knowledge can go in two directions The first assumes that there is a unity existing in the world that can be perceived by man It is thought of as an order of being i e an ontological unity of the plurality of phenomena that consist in their common nature The other direction is based on the assumption that unity is a construction of a subject based on its cognitive principles and structures Thus it is not something that can be discovered as an existing objective order and is instead subjective These two volumes present some aspects of Unity of Knowledge in Transdisciplinary Research for Sustainable Development in three parts The purpose of the first part is to trace back the core ideas in transdisciplinary thinking in the history of western philosophy and science to locate socially the concerns of transdisciplinary research and to give an account of the development of transdisciplinary research The second group of chapters deals with methodological and management problems related to transdisciplinary research with regard to problem identification and structuring of research questions with knowledge integration in problem investigation as well as with evaluation An outline of the institutional measures and transformations to enable and support transdisciplinary research is given in the third part Institutional strategies build on organizational arrangements and links across academic institutions in education and research on networks between science and society for joint knowledge production in temporally limited settings of research programs or projects but they also set up new institutions such as centers for advanced studies national offices agencies and networks These two volumes are aimed at a wide spectrum of audiences University and College Students Educators Research Personnel and all those concerned with sustainable development

The Theory of Info-Dynamics: Rational Foundations of Information-Knowledge Dynamics Kofi K. Dompere, 2017-12-06 This book focuses on the development of a theory of info dynamics to support the theory of info statics in the general theory of information It establishes the rational foundations of information dynamics and how these foundations relate to the general socio natural dynamics from the primary to the derived categories in the universal existence and from the potential to the actual in the ontological space It also shows how these foundations relate to the general socio natural dynamics from the potential to the possible to give rise to the possibility space with possibilistic thinking from the possible to the probable to give rise to possibility space with probabilistic thinking and from the probable to the actual to give rise to the space of knowledge with paradigms of thought in the epistemological space The theory is developed to explain the general dynamics through various transformations in quality quantity space in relation to the nature of information flows at each variety transformation The theory explains the past present future connectivity of the evolving information structure in a manner that illuminates the transformation problem and its solution in the never ending information production within matter energy space under socio natural technologies to connect the theory of info statics which in turn presents explanations to the transformation problem and its solution The theoretical framework is developed with analytical tools based on the principle of opposites systems of actual potential polarities negative positive dualities under different time structures with the use of category theory fuzzy paradigm of thought and game theory in the fuzzy stochastic cost benefit space The rational foundations are enhanced with categorial analytics The value of the theory of info dynamics is demonstrated in the explanatory and prescriptive structures of the transformations of varieties and categorial varieties at each point of time and over time from parent offspring sequences It constitutes a general explanation of dynamics of information knowledge production through info processes and info processors induced by a socio natural infinite set of technologies in the construction destruction space

The Theory of Categorical Conversion Dompere, Kofi Kissi,2017-09-17 The Theory of Categorical Conversion is advanced by Professor Kofi Kissi Dompere as mathematical philosophical and game theoretic foundations to solve the problem of socio natural transformation as governed by some internal process in relation to Marx Schumpeter and Nkrumah Dompere s methodology is based on the Africentric principles of opposites made up of actual potential polarity negative positive duality with relational continuum and unity under cost benefit rationality and Asantrofi Anoma principle supported by fuzzy paradigm of thought Socio natural transformations are seen in terms of game theories in a fuzzy stochastic space admitting of defective deceptive information structures in quality quantity space within the subjective objective duality The main premise of the monograph is that there exists a set of necessary and sufficient conditions for internal self transformation The necessary conditions are made up of categorical moments and categorical transfer functions forming the domain of control instrumentation in creating the sufficient conditions for categorical conversion processes

Dompere presents an important methodological framework for the study and construction of the theories of socioeconomic development and political change as well as info dynamics connecting knowledge sciences innovation and engineering to the space of knowing under qualitative quantitative transformational dynamics with defective deceptive information structures in the games for power and dominance by duals and poles in conflicts The necessary conditions of socio natural transformation are internally derived based on the relational structure of matter energy information activities within the dynamics of qualitative dispositions of dualities of actual potential polarities The theory consists of category formation showing ontological epistemological categories and categorial dynamics shows elemental conversions of categorial varieties in a continuum The logical tools and the paradigm of thought for the theoretical development of Nkrumah s framework involve self excitement self correction and self control systems induced by internal contradictions The set of necessary conditions constitutes the natural necessity that constrains cognitive freedom in socio natural transformations Had this conceptual system been familiar to economists and social scientists the construct of the theories of socioeconomic development and transformations would have been increasingly successful Back to Sociological Theory Nicos P. Mouzelis, 2016-07-27

Nicos Mouzelis argues against a marked tendency in present day sociology to conflate philosophy and sociological theory In trying to demonstrate the relative autonomy and specific logic of sociological theorising he draws from a variety of theoretical traditions in order to construct a set of interrelated concepts useful for bridging the gulf between macro and micro sociologies Drawing examples from the sociology of development and from the theory of organisations the author shows concretely how the conceptual framework proposed can help the researcher to avoid both the reification of macro institutional structures and their reduction to the intersubjective understandings of micro actors Fuzzy Rationality Kofi Kissi Dompere, 2009-03-20

Philosophy involves a criticism of scientific knowledge not from a point of view ultimately different from that of science but from a point of view less concerned with details and more concerned with the h mony of the body of special sciences Here as elsewhere while the older logic shut out possibilities and imprisoned imagination within the walls of the familiar the newer logic shows rather what may happen and refuses to decide as to what must happen Bertrand Russell At any particular stage in the development of humanity knowledge comes up against limits set by the necessarily limited character of the experience available and the existing means of obtaining knowledge But humanity advances by overcoming such limits New experience throws down the limits of old experience new techniques new means of obtaining knowledge throw down the limits of old techniques and old means of obtaining knowledge New limits then once again appear But there is no more reason to suppose these new limits absolute and final than there was to suppose the old ones absolute and final

Philosophy for AS and A2 Elizabeth Burns, Stephen Law, 2004 Philosophy for AS and A2 is the definitive textbook for students of Advanced Subsidiary or Advanced Level courses The book is structured directly around the AQA specification devoting a chapter each to the six themes covered by the syllabus From Belief to Knowledge Neil Douglas, Terry

Wykowski,2010-09-08 Belief is not knowledge but we tend to hold our beliefs as if they represent knowledge selecting whatever evidence is required to justify them And because humans tend to cling to their beliefs as truths organizations often ignore the need for change no matter how urgent that need From Belief to Knowledge Achieving and Sustaining an Adaptive C

Toward a Social History of Knowledge Fritz Ringer,2001-01-01 One of the foremost historians of intellectual life and education in Germany Fritz Ringer has brought together in this volume several of his articles most of which are not easily available are published here in English for the first time They focus on a whole range of contemporary and historical debates about the relationship between ideas and their context the role of education and middle class consciousness the social role of academics and intellectuals and competing ideals of learning science and history

Feminism, Violence and Nonviolence Selina Gallo-Cruz,2024-05-31 What can nonviolence offer to feminists working to end violence against women Can nonviolence be used by women to protect themselves from street and work harassment from partner battering date rape and sexual assault What are the connections between war and sexism and how should nonviolent activists address them How should feminists confront the structural violence of racism xenophobia colonialism land displacement and environmental destruction Feminism Violence and Nonviolence features a carefully curated selection of seminal texts originally published from the 1970s to the 2000s which document dynamic feminist thinking on the root causes of violence the social forces inculcating violence into patriarchal institutions and relationships and the many insights that nonviolence can gain from a feminist perspective This collection of essays articles pamphlets flyers and excerpts from books of feminist thought brings together the voices of the women and men who helped to transform movement consciousness on issues of sexism racism colonialism and a broader array of otherisms expanding and diversifying nonviolent philosophy With a sociological and historical introduction to the movement and author and organisational biographies this is an essential resource for students of gendered and sexualised peace violence and justice

Creativity, Culture, and Development Ai-Girl Tan,Christoph Perleth,2015-08-27 This volume presents a collection of writings on the relations among creativity culture and development The editors invited like minded researchers of creativity from around the world to share their respective notions of creativity Given that human creativity is a potential that can and should be nurtured in the course of lifespan development and across all cultural backgrounds the volume emphasizes the importance of promoting creativity in all cultures and through societal educational opportunities and offers a venue for the authors to make conceptual empirical and practical inquiries into the relations among creativity development and culture The authors represent a varied mix of contemporary and emerging creativity researchers who use different methodologies to investigate the importance of culture in creativity development and the reciprocal role of developing creativity and cultural enrichment The volume represents an attempt on the part of the editors and the authors to broaden our current understanding of creativity in the contexts of human and cultural development and in so doing to enhance our understanding of creativity culture and development in the contexts of flourishing human and societal activities As the first volume in a book series on Creativity in the Twenty First Century the book invites readers and researchers to engage in future interdisciplinary and intercultural discourses and dialogues on the importance of creativity for human and cultural development
