Reef, Range, and Red Dust David Alastair Wadley, Queensland. Department of Lands, 1993 Genocide and Settler Society A. Dirk Moses, 2005-03-01 Colonial Genocide has been seen increasingly as a stepping stone to the European genocides of the twentieth century yet it remains an under researched phenomenon This volume reconstructs instances of Australian genocide and for the first time places them in a global context Beginning with the arrival of the British in 1788 and extending to the 1960s the authors identify the moments of radicalization and the escalation of British violence and ethnic engineering aimed at the Indigenous populations while carefully distinguishing between local massacres cultural genocide and genocide itself These essays reflect a growing concern with the nature of settler society in Australia and in particular with the fate of the tens of thousands of children who were forcibly taken away from their Aboriginal families by state agencies Long considered a relatively peaceful settlement Australian society contained many of the pathologies that led to the exterminatory and eugenic policies of twentieth century Europe APAIS 1994: Australian public affairs information Land and Language in Cape York Peninsula and the Gulf Country Jean-Christophe Verstraete, Diane Hafner, 2016-02-18 This volume offers a state of the art survey of linguistic anthropological archaeological and historical work focused on Cape York Peninsula and the Gulf Country in Australia's northeast The volume also honours Bruce Rigsby emeritus professor of anthropology at the University of Queensland whose work has inspired all of the contributors The papers in the volume are organized in terms of five key themes including the use of historical and archaeological methods to reconstruct aspects of language and social organization anthropological and linguistic work uncovering aspects of world view embedded in languages and ethnographic data sets the study of post contact transformations in language and society and the return of archival data to communities Its thematic intersections draw together the varied disciplinary threads in an overview of the cultures and languages of the region and will appeal to all those interested in Australian Aboriginal studies linguistics anthropology and associated disciplines Memoirs of the Queensland Museum Queensland Museum, 2016
