Scents and Sensibility Catherine Maxwell,2017-10-11 This lively accessible book is the first to explore Victorian literature through scent and perfume presenting an extensive range of well known and unfamiliar texts in intriguing and imaginative new ways that make us re think literature s relation with the senses Concentrating on aesthetic and decadent authors Scents and Sensibility introduces a rich selection of poems essays and fiction exploring these texts with reference to both the little known cultural history of perfume use and the appreciation of natural fragrance in Victorian Britain It shows how scent and perfume are used to convey not merely moods and atmospheres but the nuances of the aesthete or decadent s carefully cultivated identity personality or sensibility A key theme is the emergence of the olfactif the cultivated individual with a refined sense of smell influentially represented by the poet and critic Algernon Charles Swinburne who is emulated by a host of canonical and less well known aesthetic and decadent successors such as Walter Pater Edmund Gosse John Addington Symonds Lafcadio Hearn Michael Field Oscar Wilde Arthur Symonds Mark Andr Raffalovich Theodore Wratislaw and A Mary F Robinson This book explores how scent and perfume pervade the work of these authors in many different ways signifying such diverse things as style atmosphere influence sexuality sensibility spirituality refinement individuality the expression of love and poetic creativity and the aura of personality dandyism modernity and memory A coda explores the contrasting twentieth century responses of Virginia Woolf and Compton Mackenzie to the scent of Victorian literature

Past Scents Jonathan Reinartz,2014-03-30 In this comprehensive and engaging volume medical historian Jonathan Reinartz offers a historiography of smell from ancient to modern times Synthesizing existing scholarship in the field he shows how people have relied on their olfactory sense to understand and engage with both their immediate environments and wider corporal and spiritual worlds This broad survey demonstrates how each community or commodity possesses or has been thought to possess its own peculiar scent Through the meanings associated with smells osmologies develop what cultural anthropologists have termed the systems that utilize smells to classify people and objects in ways that define their relations to each other and their relative values within a particular culture European Christians for instance relied on their noses to differentiate Christians from heathens whites from people of color women from men virgins from harlots artisans from aristocracy and pollution from perfume This reliance on smell was not limited to the global North Around the world Reinartz shows people used scents to signify individual and group identity in a morally constructed universe where the good smelled pleasant and their opposites reeked With chapters including Heavenly Scents Fragrant Lucre and Odorous Others Reinartz's timely survey is a useful and entertaining look at the history of one of our most important but least understood senses
