Reforming Africa's Institutions Ownership Incentives And Capabilities:

Party Politics and Economic Reform in Africa's Democracies M. Anne Pitcher, 2012-05-07 Argues that the interaction of formal institutions and the quality of democracy explain patterns of private sector development across Africa

Sub-Saharan Africa's Development Challenges O. Kimanuka, 2009-01-05 The first analysis of the 1994 genocide written by a Rwandan national Kimanuka examines Rwanda's survival from being a failed state looking at how leaders' bold decisions and the commitment of the Rwandan people led to reform programs and economic recovery Wider conversation of Africa's general development challenges are also explored

Reforming Africa's Institutions Steve Kayizzi-Mugerwa, 2003 There is not a single African country that did not attempt public sector reforms in the 1990s Governments no longer see themselves as sole suppliers of social services frequently opting for partnerships with the private sector Efficiency and choice have entered the language of the planning and implementation units of Africa's line ministries while privatization is no longer the controversial subject it was a decade ago There have also been moves towards more open and democratic governments

Reforming Africa's Institutions looks at the extent to which reforms undertaken in Sub-Saharan Africa in recent years have enhanced institutional capacities across the breadth of government To what extent have reforms been internalized and defended by governments The authors also look specifically at the impact of public sector reforms on these economies and pose the question whether ownership can be attained when countries continue to be heavily dependent on external support The volume is presented in three parts The first focuses on the issue of reform ownership on the issues of governance the political economy of reform ownership and the contradictions inherent in using aid as an instrument for enhancing domestic reform ownership Part two examines the nature of incentives in the African civil service and the reforms undertaken in recent years to raise public sector efficiency in Africa The third part discusses issues related to institutional capabilities in Africa and how they have been affected by the reforms undertaken in the 1990s including privatization and movement towards political pluralism

Civil service reforms in Pakistan Abdul Wajid Rana, 2019-11-12 Effective governance is one of the key challenges for both developing and developed countries Governments today are increasingly encountering complex and cross-cutting issues such as economic and financial volatility internal and external conflicts growing social tensions adverse demographic trends climate change vulnerabilities weak regulatory regimes huge infrastructure and service delivery gaps state and elite capturing and sustaining rule of law Faced with growing criticism of ineffectiveness of state institutions undermining country's economic social and political development because of weakening capacity of public officials to pace up with emerging challenges there is a renewed interest in reforming the governance and reforming the civil service

Rethinking Development Challenges for Public Policy K. Hanson, G. Kararach, T. Shaw, 2012-04-05 Covers topical issues for Africa's development economics and politics of climate change water management public service delivery and delivering aid The authors argue that these issues should be included in the post MDG paradigm and add an important voice to recent moves by academics and practitioners to engage with each other      Regressive Leadership and Governance

Chizoba “Dr. Zee” Madueke, Ph.D.,2010-06-22 At the heart of the litany of Nigeria s public sector problems is a fundamental crisis of governance The current crisis of development in Nigeria can be attributed in part to a history of poor governance characterized by corruption social injustice and political instability Effective leadership and governance are critical to a country s economic and sociopolitical development During the 1950s and 1960s Nigerian public sector was regarded as one of the best in Africa today it is ranked among the worst in the world The factors isolated include ineffective control of corruption lack of rule of law poorly articulated government policies and poor policy implementations The implications for Nigeria have been a regressive leadership poor governance and the lack of social and societal development      ENSO

Signal Network Newsletter ,2003      Developmental State of Africa in Practice Steve Kayizzi-Mugerwa,Charles Leyeka Lufumpa,2020-12-03 This book is the product of research undertaken at the African Development Bank AfDB on the lessons that the continent of Africa can draw from the role of the state in Asia s rapid economic development in the last 50 years The book applies a cross national comparative framework to analyse Africa s performance drawing broadly on the developmental states of Asia i e Japan China India Vietnam etc with focus on South Korea The book argues that for Africa to replicate Asia s developmental success it may require more than just tweaking the public sector machinery Dedicated institutions and a citizenry capable of demanding accountability from governments must become key ingredients of the development strategy The book also provides insight into the learning experiences of Asia in addressing key national policy challenges i e land reform and quality of public administration at the federal and local levels enhancing technical skills boosting capabilities for sciences engineering and mathematics and industrialization      Value Chains, Social Inclusion and Economic Development A.H.J. Helmsing,Sietze Vellema,2012-05-23 Lead firms development organisations donors and governments view value chains and voluntary standards as vital instruments for achieving millennium development goals through trade and market related interventions The precise foundations for these development strategies which suggest positive development outcomes from integration of poor actors into value chains are as yet underdeveloped The interdisciplinary work in this volume shows how trade is managed and asks theory driven questions about how value chains relate to locally rooted development processes Policy makers and development practitioners are increasingly using value chain analysis to frame pro poor development interventions This book offers multiple conceptualizations of development outcomes of inclusion of small producers firms and workers in value chains Processes of inclusion at different scales are unpacked in order to identify the terms of participation of small producers firms and workers As value chains are embedded the book further argues that inclusion can be conceptualized as the degree of alignment between value chain logics and the institutions and capacities in the local business system The combination of inclusive governance and endogenous development informs a grounded debate on roles of development oriented partnerships Chapters in this volume draw on multiple strands of economics sociology political science geography and management studies and for empirical grounding engage in comparative analysis of cases from Latin America SubSaharan Africa and East and South East Asia These are combined with processes taking place at a global level such as the proliferation of standards and the growth of roundtables and multi stakeholder partnerships The contributions explore contrasts between contexts between industries or commodities products and between conceptual frameworks and the context dependency of development impact necessitates cross case investigations This collection will be of interest to scholars in development studies economics business studies as well as to development policy makers

The Challenges of Democratic Governance in Nigeria's Fourth Republic Stanley Naribo Ngoa, Farooq A. Kperogi, Eghosa E. Osaghae, 2024-10-14 This book is a collection of scholarly essays from some of Nigeria's most notable social science scholars on the character contours and peculiarities of democratic practices in Nigeria's fourth attempt at constitutional rule after years of brutally absolutist military regimes The Fourth Republic began in 1999 and continues to this day It is coterminous with the restoration of constitutional rule after 16 years of sustained military rule which represents the longest stretch of democratic self rule since Nigeria won independence from British colonialism in 1960 The chapters in this book contain scholarly insights into the pitfalls of governance institutional dysfunctions and foundational woes that continue to threaten the vitality of the Fourth Republic Contributors to the book offer critical theoretical lenses to gaze at the decline in democratic citizenship weakening of faith in the promises of democracy loss of critical media engagement with the state and deterioration of the socio political fortunes of the state in Nigeria

Institutions and Democracy in Africa Nic Cheeseman, 2018-02-22 Historically African political institutions such as constitutions legislatures and judiciaries have been seen as weak and vulnerable to manipulation leading some to claim that the continent is institutionless However recent developments including the consolidation of presidential term limits in a number of countries demonstrate that this depiction is no longer tenable By drawing attention to how institutions can shape the practice of politics this book demonstrates that electoral commissions economic regulations and systems of land tenure are vital to our understanding of contemporary Africa A series of cutting edge contributions from leading scholars explain how the rules of the game shape political developments across the continent from Kenya to Nigeria and from Benin to South Africa In chapters that cover bureaucracies constitutions elections political parties the police and more the authors argue that a new research agenda is required if we are to better understand the process of democratisation

Towards Africa's Renewal Jeggan C. Senghor, 2017-11-22 Africa still finds itself in the clutches of poverty and underdevelopment The expected benefits from economic restructuring have not been realized and the debt burden continues to weigh heavily on African economies constraining the possibilities of growth Problems that have existed since the 1960s remain and links with the global economy continue to increase but fall short of requirements Against this background it is not surprising that the vast majority of African states will not meet the Millennium Development Goals The search for political systems that can deliver development have been categorized by cynics as old wine in old bottles with new stickers As the dividends from globalization elude Africa in the 21st century it becomes clear that it is a series of failed states rogue states and even stateless states This volume brings together leading researchers and analysts to examine issues and identify policy options which can lead to renewal in Africa It provides an opportunity to reflect and offers a critical multidisciplinary appraisal of the future challenges facing Africa

Ownership Leadership and Transformation Thomas Theisohn, Carlos Lopes, 2013-07-04 The third and final in a series this text bridges the conceptual foundations of capacity development and the difficulties and practical realities in the field It demystifies the process of capacity development to make it more user friendly The book has two parts The first shows how long standing development dilemmas can be turned into opportunities for capacity development and societal transformation It proposes a set of principles to guide the search for context specific approaches as the norm and based on these default principles the authors explore relevant issues in comprehensible stages through a capacity lens The second part is a compilation of experiences and lessons from around the world to showcase promising initiatives and innovative solutions It forms a casebook of insights and good rather than best practices on how development stakeholders can turn development dilemmas into opportunities tailored to the needs of their societies

Privatization and Alternative Public Sector Reform in Sub-Saharan Africa K. Bayliss, B. Fine, 2007-11-12 it is increasingly apparent that the privatization experiment in sub Saharan Africa has failed This book shows that the state is set to dominate service delivery for the foreseeable future in much of the region and that the public sector must be considered as a viable policy option for the delivery of water and electricity

Decentralization in Ethiopia Taye Assefa, Tegegne Gebre-Egziabher, 2007 The 1991 government change in Ethiopia ushered in a centralised system of governance aimed to bring about harmony and cooperation between different groups and to promote local self rule It has proceeded in two phases 1991-2001 centred on creating and powering National Regional Governments termed mid level decentralisation Further powers were devolved in 2001 through the District Level Decentralization Program and Urban Management Program This volume brings together studies by the Forum for Social Studies and others with the aim of identifying knowledge gaps for further research and to generate debate on the issues in Ethiopia The study is in two parts a literature review seeking to document existing studies and highlight research gaps and field work which involved a rapid assessment of eight weredas and two kifle ketemas in Addis Ababa The other three studies are synopses of master theses submitted to the Institute of Regional and Local Development Studies of Addis Ababa University

African Development Report 2005 The African Development Bank, 2005-12-22 The African Development Report 2005 is the seventeenth annual survey of economic and social progress in Africa The Report provides comprehensive analysis of the state of the African economy examining development policy issues affecting the economic prospects of the continent The African Development Bank Group is a regional multilateral development finance institution the members of which are all of the 53 countries in Africa and 25 countries from Asia the Middle East Europe North and South America The purpose of the Bank is to further the economic development and social progress of African countries individually and collectively To this end the Bank promotes the investment of public and private capital for development primarily by providing loans and grants for projects and programs that contribute to poverty reduction and broad based sustainable development in Africa The non concessional operations of the Bank are financed from its ordinary capital resources In addition the Bank s soft window affiliates the African Development Fund and the Nigeria Trust Fund provide concessional financing to low income countries that are not able to sustain loans on market terms Wider Angle ,2005 From Conflict to Recovery in Africa Tony Addison,2003-02-13 Revitalizing private sectors 4 Transforming states Conclusions For a list of contributions go to the full text area of this record Handbook on China and Developing Countries Carla P Freeman,2015-04-30 This Handbook explores the rapidly evolving and increasingly multifaceted relations between China and developing countries Cutting edge analyses by leading experts from around the world critically assess such timely issues as the China model Beijing Challenges of African Growth B. J. Ndulu,2007 Poverty in Africa is largely the outcome of slow growth With the region hosting 10 percent of the world s population but a staggering 30 percent of the world s poor the challenges it faces are enormous but NOT insurmountable The message of this book is clear poverty eradicating development in Africa is possible In fact there are indications that Africa is at a turning point and there is growing momentum among front runner economies in the region toward higher and sustained growth This study challenges African countries and their development partners to consolidate and continue this momentum and to exploit the advantages of the continent as a latecomer particularly in innovation and in drawing lessons from successful export led growth experiences in Asia and Latin America Challenges of African Growth identifies opportunities constraints and strategic choices that African countries face in their quest for achieving the growth necessary for poverty alleviation More important the study provides a broad menu of strategic options for ensuring not only that countries embark on a growth path but also that the growth is shared and sustainable The critical areas for action rest on four pillars the investment climate infrastructure innovation for increasing productivity and competitiveness and institutional capacity
