The Canadian Short Story Reingard M. Nischik,2007 Beginning in the 1890s reaching its first full realization by modernist writers in the 1920s and brought to its heyday during the Canadian Renaissance starting in the 1960s the short story has become Canada s flagship genre It continues to attract the country s most accomplished and innovative writers today among them Margaret Atwood Mavis Gallant Alice Munro Carol Shields and many others Yet in contrast to the stature and popularity of the genre and the writers who partake in it surprisingly little literary criticism and theory has been devoted to the Canadian short story This collection redresses that imbalance by providing the first collection of critical interpretations of a range of thirty well known and often anthologized Canadian short stories from the genre's beginnings through the twentieth century A historical survey of the genre introduces the volume and a timeline comparing the genre's development in Canada the US and Great Britain via representative examples completes it The collection is geared both to specialists in and to students of Canadian literature For the latter it is of particular benefit that the volume provides not only a collection of interpretations but a comprehensive introduction to the history of the Canadian short story Reingard M Nischik is professor and chair of American Literature at the University of Constance Germany Anglophone Jewish Literature Axel Stähler, 2007-09-14 English has become the major language of contemporary Jewish literature This book shows the transnational character of that literature and how traditional viewpoints need to be reassessed Yearbook of German-American Studies, 2008

Memory and Identity in Canadian Fiction Sharon Selby, 2018-09-14 Covering the works of Canadian authors Alistair Macleod Michael Ondaatje Jane Urquhart Margaret Atwood and Drew Hayden Taylor the author explores how the themes of memory storytelling and identity develop in their fiction For the narrative voices in these works the past is embedded in the present and a wider cultural history is written over with personal significance The act of storytelling shapes the characters lives letting them rewrite the past and be haunted by it Storytelling becomes an existential act of everyday connection among ordinary people and daily often unrecognized acts of heroism

Carnivalizing Reconciliation Hanna Teichler, 2021-10-15 Transitional justice and national inquiries may be the most established means for coming to terms with traumatic legacies but it is in the more subtle social and cultural processes of memory work that the pitfalls and promises of reconciliation are laid bare This book analyzes within the realms of literature and film recent Australian and Canadian attempts to reconcile with Indigenous populations in the wake of forced child removal As Hanna Teichler demonstrates their systematic emphasis on the subjectivity of the victim is problematic reproducing simplistic narratives and identities defined by victimization Such fictions of reconciliation venture beyond simplistic narratives and identities defined by victimization offering new opportunities for confronting painful histories The Cambridge History of Judaism: Volume 8, The Modern World, 1815-2000 Mitchell B.
