Reframing Difference Beur And Banlieue Filmmaking In France:

Reframing Difference Carrie Tarr, 2005-09-17 This is the first major study of two overlapping strands of contemporary French cinema: cinéma beur films by young directors of Maghrebi immigrant origin and cinéma de banlieue films set in France's disadvantaged outer city estates. Carrie Tarr's insightful account draws on a wide range of films from directors such as Mehdi Charef, Mathieu Kassowitz and Djamel Bensalah. Foregrounding such issues as the quest for identity, the negotiation of space and the recourse to memory and history, she argues that these films challenge and reframe the symbolic spaces of French culture, addressing issues of ethnicity and difference which are central to today's debates about what it means to be French.

Mobility and Migration in Film and Moving Image Art Nilgun Bayraktar, 2015-12-07 Mobility and Migration in Film and Moving Image Art explores cinematic and artistic representations of migration and mobility in Europe from the 1990s to today. Drawing on theories of migrant and diasporic cinema, moving image art and mobility studies, Bayraktar provides historically situated close readings of films, videos and cinematic installations that concern migratory networks and infrastructures across Europe, the Middle East and Africa. Probing the notion of Europe as a coherent entity and a borderless space, this interdisciplinary study investigates the ways in which European ideals of mobility and fluidity are deeply enmeshed with forced migration, illegalization and xenophobia. With a specific focus on distinct forms of mobility such as labor migration, postcolonial migration, tourism and refugee mobilities, Bayraktar studies the new counter-hegemonic imaginations invoked by the work of filmmakers such as Ayşe Polat, Fatih Akin, Michael Haneke and Tony Gatlif, as well as video essays and installations of artists such as Kutlu Ataman, Ursula Biemann, Ergin Avuçoğlu, Maria Iorio and Raphaël Cuomo. Challenging aesthetic as well as national, cultural and political boundaries, the works central to this book envision Europe as a diverse, inclusive and unfixed continent that is reimagined from many elsewhere, as well beyond its borders.

Screening Integration Sylvie Durmelat, Vinay Swamy, 2012-01-01 North African immigrants, once confined to France's social and cultural margins, have become a strong presence in France's national life. Similarly, descendants of immigrants from Morocco, Algeria and Tunisia have gained mainstream recognition as filmmakers and as the subject of films. The first collective volume on this topic, Screening Integration offers a sustained critical analysis of this cinema. In particular, contributors evaluate how Maghrebi films have come to participate in, promote and at the same time critique France's integration. In the process, these essays reflect on the conditions that allowed for the burgeoning of this cinema in the first place, as well as on the social changes the films delineate. Screening Integration brings together established scholars in the fields of postcolonial Francophone and film studies to address the latest developments in this cinematic production. These authors explore the emergence of various genres that recast the sometimes fossilized idea of ethnic difference. Screening Integration provides a much needed reference for those interested in comprehending the complex shifts in twenty-first century French cinema and in the multicultural social formations that have become an integral part of contemporary France in the new millennium.

The Cinematic Enfant Terrible Karolina Westling, 2025-06-26 The Cinematic Enfant Terrible is a groundbreaking study of rule breakers in French cinema The book approaches the concept of the enfant terrible in the literal sense of the term young people labelled terrible awful by the adult generation It explores a rich cinematic tradition from Jean Vigo's Zéro de conduite 1933 and François Truffaut's Les quatre cents coups 1959 to Catherine Breillat's 36 fillette 1988 and Ladj Ly's Les Misérables 2019 The book encompasses the cinematic enfants terribles across age groups and genders addressing the differences between unruly boys and rebellious teenage girls The early post war focus on juvenile delinquency and sexual provocations diversifies into filles fatales and angry girls but also precarious boys and parents terribles The book charts the evolution of the enfant terrible concept from a negative label to a sympathetically viewed figure of anti authoritarian resistance reflecting the changing position of children within the family in post war France The films address the ethical paradox of democratic upbringing the dilemma of raising children to become obedient individuals with a mind of their own The asymmetrical relationship between children and parents is seen as a tacit family contract that highlights the importance of an intergenerational perspective for the understanding of generational conflicts. Rebellious children and teenagers on screen are seen in the light of wider social transformations. The book clarifies the interplay between individual protests and cultural currents such as existentialism, feminism and ethnic conflicts. Cinema and the Republic Jonathan Ervine, 2013-05-15. This book analyses contemporary French films by focussing closely on cinematic representations of immigrants and residents of suburban housing estates known as banlieues. It begins by examining how these groups are conceived of within France's Republican political model, before analysing films that focus on four key issues. Firstly, it will assess representations of undocumented migrants known as sans papiers, before then analysing depictions of deportations made possible by the controversial double peine law. Next, it will examine films about relations between young people and the police in suburban France, before exploring films that challenge clichés about these areas. The conclusion assesses what these films show about contemporary French political cinema.
