Sandcasting Margot Batho, 1973 Introduces the techniques and necessary tools for creating a variety of plaster and wax objects by making impressions in sand The Pacific in the Age of Early Industrialization Kenneth Pomeranz, 2017-05-15
The essays selected for this volume show how the Pacific rapidly became part of an industrializing world Its raw materials notably rubber and copper were critical some of its handicraft industries were devastated by mechanized competition others survived and adapted contributing to distinctive patterns of industrialization that made Japan a new center of power and also laid the groundwork for later growth in Taiwan Korea and coastal China The Pacific coast of the Americas was also first drawn into an industrial world largely as an exporter of raw materials but North and South diverged rapidly portending futures even more different than those of Northeast and Southeast Asia By the 1930s when the uneven effects of industrialization would have much to do with plunging the Pacific into war one can already glimpse in outline the structural bases for many of the region's contemporary characteristics All this is set in context in the important introduction by Kenneth Pomeranz Early Modern Things Paula Findlen, 2021-03-01 Early Modern Things supplies fresh and provocative insights into how objects ordinary and extraordinary secular and sacred natural and man made came to define some of the key developments of the early modern world Now in its second edition this book taps a rich vein of recent scholarship to explore a variety of approaches to the material culture of the early modern world c 1500 1800 Divided into seven parts the book explores the ambiguity of things representing things making things encountering things empires of things consuming things and the power of things This edition includes a new preface and three new essays on encountering things to enrich the volume These look at cabinets of curiosities American pearls and the material culture of West Central Africa Spanning across the early modern world from Ming dynasty China and Tokugawa Japan to Siberia and Georgian England from the Kingdom of the Kongo and the Ottoman Empire to the Caribbean and the Spanish Americas the authors provide a generous set of examples in how to study the circulation use consumption and most fundamentally the nature of things themselves Drawing on a broad range of disciplinary perspectives and lavishly illustrated this updated edition of Early Modern Things is essential reading for all those interested in the early modern world and the history of material culture Arts and Crafts in the Middle Ages: A Description of Mediaeval Workmanship in Several of the Departments of Applied Art, Together with Some Account of Special Artisans in the Early Renaissance Julia de Wolf Gibbs Addison, 2020-09-28 Islamic Arts and Crafts Marcus Milwright, 2017-02-03 Islamic art is justly famed for its technological sophistication varied approaches to ornament and innovative employment of the written word But what do we know about the skilled artisans who spent their lives designing and creating the paintings objects and buildings that are so admired today This anthology of written sources dating from the seventh to the twentieth centuries explores numerous aspects of the crafts of the Middle East from the processing
