Long Time No See:

Long Time, No See Beth Finke, 2010-10-01 Long Time No See is certainly an inspiring story but Beth Finke does not aim to inspire. Eschewing reassuring platitudes and sensational pleas for sympathy, she charts her struggles with juvenile diabetes, blindness, and a host of other hardships, sharing her feelings of despair and frustration as well as her hard-won triumphs. Rejecting the label "courageous," she prefers to describe herself using the phrase her mother invoked in times of difficulty: "She did what she had to do." With unflinching candor and acerbic wit, Finke chronicles the progress of the juvenile diabetes that left her blind at the age of twenty-six, as well as the seemingly endless spiral of adversity that followed. First, she was forced out of her professional job. Then, she bore a multiply handicapped son. But she kept moving forward, confronting marital and financial problems and persevering through a rocky training period with a seeing-eye dog. Finke's life story and her commanding knowledge of her situation give readers a clear understanding of diabetes, blindness, and the issues faced by parents of children with significant disabilities. Because she has taken care to include accurate medical information as well as personal memoir, Long Time No See serves as an excellent resource for others in similar situations and for professionals who deal with disabled adults or children.

With the feelings of a young lady, Dongfang Ziqing became the empress of Xuanyuan Kingdom. Originally, she was a proud daughter of heaven, but after three short years of happiness, she had a painful taste of the purgatory in the human world. Power and subject should not be linked together. Dongfang Family would definitely pay the price for these two words. That includes the young monarch's brows furrowed slightly, but under Dongfang Ziqing's clear laughter, he relaxed and gently called out, "Qing Er, the pool is dangerous, come to our side." One was a naive and innocent girl, the other was an experienced young lord with a black stomach. This love is destined to lose on the motto: "Since it is shallow, how can love be deep?" Many years later, when Dongfang Ziqing finally understood this logic, they were dead. But all that was left was a bloody hatred.
