

An Argument

I've oft been told by learned friars,
That wishing and the crime are one,
And Heaven punishes desires
As much as if the deed were done.

If wishing damns us, you and I
Are damned to all our heart's content;
Come, then, at least we may enjoy
Some pleasure for our punishment!

Thomas Moore

white man's burden to create a historical frame for understanding race and literature in America. She maintains that literature symptomized and channeled anxiety about the racial components of the U.S. world mission while also providing a potentially powerful medium for multiethnic authors interested in redrawing global color lines. She identifies a common theme in the writings of African, Asian, and Native American authors who exploited anxiety about race and national identity through narratives about a multiracial U.S. empire. University Library Bulletin Cambridge University Library, 1902

Seven chapters discuss the poetic image of Laura in the Triumphs historically, critically, and contextually, the last focussing on Laura as nova figura not allegory.
