Transpersonal Knowing Tobin Hart, Peter L. Nelson, Kaisa Puhakka, 2000-07-20 Offering the perspectives of some of the most respected thinkers in transpersonal psychology and consciousness studies this book explores the farther reaches of knowing both ourselves and the world described here as transpersonal post conventional or spiritual The contributors work is presented from their own authentic knowing whether through personal narrative or through conceptualization informed by such knowing They explore what knowledge can consist of as it stretches beyond conventional objective observation and analysis Contributors include Arthur Deikman Jorge Ferrer Fred J Hanna Tobin Hart Zia Inyhat Khan Peter L Nelson Kaisa Puhakka Donald Rothberg Jenny Wade Michael Washburn and John Welwood A Fractal Epistemology for a Scientific Psychology Terry Marks-Tarlow, Yakov Shapiro, Katthe P. Wolf, Harris L. Friedman, 2020-01-06 Fractal dynamics provide an unparalleled tool for understanding the evolution of natural complexity throughout physical biological and psychological realms This book's conceptual framework helps to reconcile several persistent dichotomies in the natural sciences including mind brain linear nonlinear subjective objective and even personal transpersonal processes A fractal approach is especially useful when applied to recursive processes of consciousness both within their ordinary and anomalous manifestations This novel way to study the interconnection of seemingly divided wholes encompasses multiple dimensions of experience and being It brings together experts in diverse fields neuropsychologists psychiatrists physicists physiologists psychoanalysts mathematicians and professors of religion and music composition to demonstrate the value of fractals as model method and metaphor within psychology and related social and physical sciences The result is a new perspective for understanding what has often been dismissed as too subjective idiosyncratic and ineffably beyond the scope of science bringing these areas back into a natural scientific framework

Psychoanalytical neuroscience: Exploring psychoanalytic concepts with neuroscientific methods Nikolai Axmacher, Henrik Kessler, Gerd Thomas Waldhauser, 2015-01-09 Sigmund Freud was a trained neuroanatomist and wrote his first psychoanalytical theory in neuroscientific terms Throughout his life he maintained the belief that at some distant day in the future all psychoanalytic processes could be tied to a neural basis We must recollect that all of our provisional ideas in psychology will presumably one day be based on an organic substructure Freud 1914 On Narcissism An Introduction Fundamental Freudian concepts reveal their foundation in the physiological science of his time most importantly among them the concept of libidinous energy and the homeostatic principle of constancy However the subsequent history of psychoanalysis and neuroscience was mainly characterized by mutual ignorance or even opposition many scientists accused psychoanalytic viewpoints not to be scientifically testable and many psychoanalysts claimed that their theories did not need empirical support outside of the therapeutic situation On this historical background it may appear surprising that the recent years have seen an increasing interest in re connecting psychoanalysis and neuroscience in various ways By studying psychodynamic consequences of brain lesions in neurological patients by investigating how psychoanalytic therapy affects brain structure and function or even by operationalizing psychoanalytic concepts in well controlled experiments and exploring their neural correlates These empirical studies are accompanied by theoretical work on the philosophical status of the neuropsychanalytic endeavour In this volume we attempt to provide a state of the art overview of this new exciting field All types of submissions are welcome including research in patient populations healthy human participants and animals review articles on some empirical or theoretical aspect and of course also critical accounts of the new field Despite this welcome variability we would like to suggest that all contributions attempt to address one or both of two main questions which should motivate the connection between psychoanalysis and neuroscience and that in our opinion still remain exigent First from the neuroscientific side why should researchers in the neurosciences address psychoanalytic ideas and what is or will be the impact of this connection on current neuroscientific theories Second from the psychoanalytic side why should psychoanalysts care about neuroscientific studies and how can current psychoanalytical theory and practice benefit from their results Of course contributors are free to provide a critical viewpoint on these two questions as well

Psychology of the Future Stanislav Grof, 2019-03-28 Summarizes Grof's experiences and observations from more than forty years of research into non ordinary states of consciousness This accessible and comprehensive overview of the work of Stanislav Grof one of the founders of transpersonal psychology was specifically written to acquaint newcomers with his work Serving as a summation of his career and previous works this entirely new book is the source to introduce Grof's enormous contributions to the fields of psychiatry and psychology especially his central concept of holotropic experience where holotropic signifies moving toward wholeness Grof maintains that the current basic assumptions and concepts of psychology and psychiatry require a radical revision based on the intensive and systematic research of holotropic experience He suggests that a radical inner transformation of humanity and a rise to a higher level of consciousness might be humankind's only real hope for the future. It's rare to find a textbook that is both extremely informative and enjoyable to read. Psychology of the Future has to be one of the first ones I've ever come across. Each chapter brought an entirely new concept, theory, or method that was just as engaging as the previous one.

Dr. Tami Brady TCM Reviews: This book is by a pioneering genius in consciousness research. It presents the full spectrum of Grof's ideas from his earliest mappings of using LSD psychotherapy to his clinical work with people facing death to his more recent work with holotropic breathing to his latest thoughts about the cosmological implications of consciousness research and the prospects for dealing with an emerging planetary crisis. Grof has always been one of the most original thinkers in the transpersonal field, and his creativity has kept pace with the maturity of his overall vision.

Michael Washburn, author of Transpersonal Psychology in Psychoanalytic Perspective, offers an outstanding contribution to the ever-growing debate about the nature of human consciousness and about the place of humankind in the cosmos. If more psychiatrists could be persuaded that human consciousness transcends the limitations of the physical brain and instead is but an aspect of what may best be described as cosmic consciousness, we could not only expect treatment modalities to change but we could also anticipate the possibility of culture-wide rethinking of the basic presuppositions of modern cosmology, the cosmology that grounds Western institutions, ideologies, and beliefs about the nature of personhood.

Michael E. Zimmerman, author of Contesting Earth's Future: Radical Ecology and Postmodernity. Stanislav Grof, MD, is a psychiatrist with more than fifty years of experience in research of non-ordinary states of consciousness. He has been Principal Investigator in a psychedelic research program at the Psychiatric Research Institute in Prague, Czechoslovakia; Chief of Psychiatric Research at the Maryland Psychiatric Research Center; Assistant Professor of Psychiatry at the Johns Hopkins University; and Scholar in Residence at the Esalen Institute. He is currently Professor of Psychology at the California Institute of Integral Studies, conducts professional training programs in holotropic breathwork, and gives lectures and seminars worldwide. He is one of the founders and chief theoreticians of transpersonal psychology and the founding president of the International Transpersonal Association (ITA). In 2007, he was granted the prestigious Vision 97 award from the Vaclav and Dagmar Havel Foundation in Prague. He is the author and editor of many books, including The Adventure of Self-Discovery, Dimensions of Consciousness, and New Perspectives in Psychotherapy and Inner Exploration. Ancient Wisdom and Modern Science, Beyond the Brain, Birth, Death, and Transcendence in Psychotherapy, The Cosmic Game, Explorations of the Frontiers of Human Consciousness, and Human Survival and Consciousness Evolution, all published by SUNY Press.
