Charles Rennie Mackintosh

Mackintosh Architecture:

Mackintosh Architecture Charles Rennie Mackintosh, 1984 Charles Rennie Mackintosh John McKean, 2000 Traces the life and work of Charles Rennie Mackintosh Scotland's renowned architect and designer Glasgow School of Art James Macaulay, Charles Rennie Mackintosh, 1993 One of the works of great Arts and Crafts architecture the School is a creative synthesis of opposites austere and delicate dark and light derivative yet innovative While the towering outer wall seems to echo the Scottish baronial tradition and the exterior impression is one of imposing grandeur the interior is a lively and complex set of spaces C. R. Mackintosh David Brett, 1992 A persuasive reappraisal of the work of Charles Rennie Mackintosh whose buildings and interiors in and around Glasgow Scotland established him as one of the great figures of early 20th century architecture and design David Brett argues that Mackintosh's originality was grounded in a highly subjective poetics of workmanship in which the structure features interiors and furnishings of each building became subject to a unifying system of forms metaphors and unconscious associations The Architects' Architect Murray Grigor, Charles Rennie Mackintosh, Richard Murphy, 1993 Mackintosh Architecture Charles Rennie Mackintosh, Jackie Cooper, David Dunster, Barbara Bernard, 1984-12-01 Charles Rennie Mackintosh James Steele, Charles Rennie Mackintosh, 1994 Insightful analysis into Mackintosh's architecture with many previously unpublished views of his most important buildings

Charles Rennie Mackintosh Robert Macleod, 1983 Charles Rennie Mackintosh Charles Rennie Mackintosh, 1990 Mackintosh's only known writings on architecture comprise six lecture scripts and a diary reproduced in full They illuminate the roots of his genius in unexpected ways and give insight into both his respect for tradition and his passionate commitment to creative independence Essays by established experts in the field introduce the texts and illustrations include many previously unpublished or inaccessible Mackintosh drawings Mackintosh's Masterwork Charles Rennie Mackintosh, 2004 Of the many practitioners of art nouveau in Great Britain Charles Rennie Mackintosh 1868 1928 has outlasted them all His work bridged the more ornate style of the later nineteenth century and the forms of international modernism that followed Like Frank Lloyd Wright with whom he is frequently compared he is known for so thoroughly integrating art and decoration that the two became inseparable His work has been honored by a major exhibition at the Metropolitan Museum of Art and his designs have proliferated to such an extent that they can be found reproduced in posters prints jewelry and even new buildings His most important project was the Glasgow School of Art which still functions as a highly prestigious art school This glorious building is visited each year by thousands of tourists from around the world Built over a dozen years beginning in 1897 the Glasgow School of Art is Mackintosh's greatest and most influential legacy This completely redesigned and heavily illustrated edition of Mackintosh's Masterwork has been greatly expanded and contains newly discovered material about both the early life of the architect and the formative years in which his plans for the School of Art were executed Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Architecture R. Stephen Sennott, 2004 For more information including the introduction a full list of entries and contributors a generous selection of sample pages and more visit the Encyclopaedia of 20th Century Architecture website Focusing on architecture from all regions of the world this three volume set profiles the twentieth century's vast chronicle of architectural achievements both within and well beyond the theoretical confines of modernism Unlike existing works this encyclopedia examines the complexities of rapidly changing global conditions that have dispersed modern architectural types movements styles and building practices across traditional geographic and cultural boundaries

C. R. Mackintosh David Brett, 2004-04-02 Between 1896 and 1906 Charles Rennie Mackintosh 1868 1928 produced a series of buildings and interiors in and around Glasgow of such startling invention that he immediately established himself as one of the truly great figures in early twentieth century architecture and design David Brett argues that Mackintosh's originality was grounded in a highly subjective poetics of workmanship in which the structure features interiors and furnishings of each individual building became subject to a unifying system of forms metaphors and unconscious associations The system Mackintosh evolved allowing for the formulation of an almost infinite series of ensembles After focusing on the various decorative details and interior spaces of Mackintosh's buildings the author reaches to the heart of Mackintosh's poetic system the suffused eroticism of the sleek feminine and intensely private white interiors A notable feature of this persuasive reappraisal of Mackintosh's work is the wealth of photographs by the author showing rarely featured details of buildings interiors and furnishings

Charles Rennie Mackintosh and the Art of the Four Roger Billcliffe, 2017-10-26 The Glasgow Style is the name given to the work of a group of young designers and architects working in Glasgow from 1890 1914 At its centre were four young friends who had trained at Glasgow School of Art two architects and two artists Charles Rennie Mackintosh Herbert MacNair Margaret Macdonald and Frances Macdonald who were simply known by their friends and contemporaries as The Four Their work was a personal vision in the new international style of the 1890s Art Nouveau and is perhaps best known for Mackintosh's architecture and furniture But at the root of this new style was a graphic language which all four shared Charles Rennie Mackintosh and the Art of The Four presents the most coherent story to date of this important group concentrating on the entirety of their artistic imagery and output far beyond the best known work of the 1890s and charting the constantly changing relationships between the artists and their work

Directory of British Architects, 1834-1914 Antonia Brodie, British Architectural Library, Royal Institute of British Architects, 2001-12-20 A comprehensive biographical directory of some 11 000 British architects who worked between 1834 and 1914

Makers of Modern Architecture Martin Filler, 2007-07-17 Everyone knows what modern architecture looks like but few understand how this revolutionary new form of building emerged little more than a century ago or what its aesthetic social even spiritual aspirations were Through illuminating studies of the leading men and women who forever changed our built environment veteran architecture critic Martin Filler offers fresh insights into this unprecedented cultural transformation From Louis Sullivan father of the skyscraper to Frank Gehry magician of post millennial museum Filler emphasizes how their force of personality has had a decisive effect on everything from how we inhabit our homes to how we shape our cities Why was the sudden shift in architectural fashion that wrecked the career of the Scottish designer Charles Rennie Mackintosh not enough to destroy the indomitable spirit of Frank Lloyd Wright who rose from adversity to become America's greatest architect Why was Philip Johnson dean of American architecture during the 1980s so haunted by the superior talent of this less fortunate contemporary Louis Kahn that he could barely utter his name even at the peak of his own success How did Ludwig Mies van der Rohe's dictum Less is more give way to Robert Venturi's Less is a bore Surveying such current urban design sagas as the reconstruction of Ground Zero and the reunification of Berlin Filler also trains his sharp eye on some of the biggest names in architecture today puncturing more than one overinflated reputation while identifying the true masters who are now building for the ages The Oxford Dictionary of Architecture James Stevens Curl, Susan Wilson, 2015 With over 6 000 entries this is the most authoritative dictionary of architectural history available

Charles Rennie Mackintosh [1868-1928], 1968 Analysing Architecture Simon Unwin, 2002-09-11 Analysing Architecture offers a unique notebook of architectural strategies to present an engaging introduction to elements and concepts in architectural design Beautifully illustrated throughout with the author's original drawings The Quest for Charles Rennie Mackintosh John Cairney, 2020-05-28 Like Charles Rennie Mackintosh John Cairney began his career at the age of 15 at the Glasgow School of Art He tells of the working life of Charles Rennie Mackintosh as well as the beautiful love story which tragically ended with Mackintosh's sudden death at the age of 60 His wife and co artist Margaret Macdonald died three years later Mackintosh Architecture Charles Rennie Mackintosh, Jackie Cooper, David Dunster, Barbara Bernard, 1984-12
