Macquarie Atlas of Indigenous Australia William Stewart Arthur, Frances Morphy, 2005 An atlas is a way of representing in graphic form a human landscape a pattern of human activities in space and time The Macquarie Atlas of Indigenous Australia opens up a window onto the landscape of Australian Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander lives from 60 000 years ago to the present time It covers a wide range of aspects of Indigenous life including society culture economics politics the environment technology land ownership and use the visual and performing arts sport education health and placenames Each chapter has been compiled by one or more experts in the field under the general editorship of Bill Arthur and Frances Morphy of the Centre for Aboriginal Economic Policy and Research at the Australian National University The core of maps is supplemented by explanatory text as well as numerous diagrams and illustrations including Indigenous artworks

More Than Words: The Making of the Macquarie Dictionary Pat Manser, 2021-02-23 The Editorial Committee of the dictionary of Australian English led by Arthur Delbridge were adamant that their dictionary was to be descriptive It was an important point of difference from traditional dictionary policy This dictionary would give an account of Australian English as it was heard and written We wanted it all spoken written technical polite rude The speech of labourers the jargon of merchants swearwords Australianisms as well as the basic core of English vocabulary The idea for a dictionary of Australian English was conceived in the 1960s but it wasn't until 1981 that the first edition of the Macquarie Dictionary was published More Than Words tells the story of how the dictionary was brought to life during this period from identifying the need for a genuinely Australian dictionary to the long road towards publication and explores how the dictionary has evolved over the years since then

Historical Dictionary of Australia Norman Abjorensen, James C. Docherty, 2014-12-05 Australia's development from the most unpromising of beginnings as a British prison in 1788 to the prosperous liberal democracy of the present is as remarkable as is its success as a country of large scale immigration Since 1942 it has been a loyal ally of the United States and has demonstrated this loyalty by contributing troops to the war in Vietnam and by being part of the coalition of the willing in the U S invasion of Iraq in 2003 and in operations in Afghanistan In recent years it has also been more willing to promote peace and democracy in its Pacific and Asian neighbors This fourth edition of Historical Dictionary of Australia covers its history through a chronology an introductory essay appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 500 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Australia

Ethnography & the Production of Anthropological Knowledge Yasmine Musharbash, Marcus Barber, 2011-02-01 Professor Nicolas Peterson is a central figure in the anthropology of Aboriginal Australia This volume honours his anthropological body of work his commitment to ethnographic fieldwork as a source of knowledge his exemplary mentorship of generations of younger scholars and his generosity in facilitating the progress of others The diverse collection produced by former students current colleagues and long term peers provides reflections on his legacy as well as fresh anthropological insights from Australia and the wider Asia Pacific region Inspired by Nicolas Peterson s work in Aboriginal Australia and his broad ranging contributions to anthropology over several decades the contributors to this volume celebrate the variety of his ethnographic interests Individual chapters address revisit expand on and ethnographically re examine his work about ritual material culture the moral domestic economy land and ecology The volume also pays homage to Nicolas Peterson s ability to provide focused research with long term impact exemplified by a series of papers engaging with his work on demand sharing and the applied policy domain

Planning in Indigenous Australia Sue Jackson,Libby Porter,Louise C. Johnson,2017-07-28 Planning in settler colonial countries is always taking place on the lands of Indigenous peoples While Indigenous rights identity and cultural values are increasingly being discussed within planning its mainstream accounts virtually ignore the colonial roots and legacies of the discipline s assumptions techniques and methods This ground breaking book exposes the imperial origins of the planning canon profession and practice in the settler colonial country of Australia By documenting the role of planning in the history of Australia s relations with Indigenous peoples the book maps the enduring effects of colonisation It provides a new historical account of colonial planning practices and rewrites the urban planning histories of major Australian cities Contemporary land rights native title and cultural heritage frameworks are analysed in light of their critical importance to planning practice today with detailed case illustrations In reframing Australian planning from a postcolonial perspective the book shatters orthodox accounts revising the story that planning has told itself for over 100 years New ways to think and practise planning in Indigenous Australia are advanced Planning in Indigenous Australia makes a major contribution towards the decolonisation of planning It is essential reading for students and teachers in tertiary planning programmes as well as those in geography development studies postcolonial studies anthropology and environmental management It is also vital reading for professional planners in the public private and community sectors

A Millennium of Cultural Contact Alistair Paterson,2016-06-16 Alistair Paterson has written a comprehensive textbook detailing the millennium of cultural contact between European societies and those of the rest of the world Beginning with the Norse intersection with indigenous peoples of Greenland Paterson uses case studies and regional overviews to describe the various patterns by which European groups influenced overcame and were resisted by the populations of Africa the Americas East Asia Oceania and Australia Based largely on the evidence of archaeology he is able to detail the unique interactions at many specific points of contact and display the wide variations in exploration conquest colonization avoidance and resistance at various spots around the globe Paterson s broad student friendly treatment of the history and archaeology of the last millennium will be useful for courses in historical archaeology world history and social change

Creativity in Transition Maruška Svašek, Birgit Meyer, 2016-07-01 In an era of intensifying globalization and transnational connectivity the dynamics of cultural production and the very notion of creativity are in transition Exploring creative practices in various settings the book does not only call attention to the spread of modernist discourses of creativity from the colonial era to the current obsession with innovation in neo liberal capitalist cultural politics but also to the less visible practices of copying recycling and reproduction that occur as part and parcel of creative improvisation

The Rights and Wrongs of Land Restitution Derick Fay, Deborah James, 2008-08-18 The Rights and Wrongs of Land Restitution Restoring What Was Ours offers a critical comparative ethnographic examination of land

restitution programs Drawing on memories and histories of past dispossession governments NGOs informal movements and individual claimants worldwide have attempted to restore and reclaim rights in land Land restitution programs link the past and the present and may allow former landholders to reclaim lands which provided the basis of earlier identities and livelihoods Addressing the practical and theoretical questions that arise this book offers a critical rethinking of the links between land restitution and property social transition injustice citizenship the state and the market Farmers or Hunter-gatherers? Peter Sutton, Keryn Walshe, 2021-06-16 Australians understanding of Aboriginal society prior to the British invasion from 1788 has been transformed since the publication of Bruce Pascoe's Dark Emu in 2014 It argued that classical Aboriginal society was more sophisticated than Australians had been led to believe because it resembled more closely the farming communities of Europe In Farmers or Hunter-gatherers Peter Sutton and Keryn Walshe ask why Australians have been so receptive to the notion that farming represents an advance from hunting and gathering Drawing on the knowledge of Aboriginal elders previously not included within this discussion and decades of anthropological scholarship Sutton and Walshe provide extensive evidence to support their argument that classical Aboriginal society was a hunter-gatherer society and as sophisticated as the traditional European farming methods Farmers or Hunter-gatherers asks Australians to develop a deeper understanding and appreciation of Aboriginal society and culture Handbook of Postcolonial Archaeology Jane Lydon, Uzma Z Rizvi, 2016-07-01 This essential handbook explores the relationship between the postcolonial critique and the field of archaeology a discipline that developed historically in conjunction with European colonialism and imperialism In aiding the movement to decolonize the profession the contributors to this volume themselves from six continents and many representing indigenous and minority communities and disadvantaged countries suggest strategies to strip archaeological theory and practice of its colonial heritage and create a discipline sensitive to its inherent inequalities Summary articles review the emergence of the discipline of archaeology in conjunction with colonialism critique the colonial legacy evident in continuing archaeological practice around the world identify current trends and chart future directions in postcolonial archaeological research Contributors provide a synthesis of research thought and practice on their topic The articles embrace multiple voices and case study approaches and have consciously aimed to recognize the utility of comparative work and interdisciplinary approaches to understanding the past This is a benchmark volume for the study of the contemporary politics practice and ethics of archaeology Sponsored by the World Archaeological Congress
