Manuscripts and memories Michael Earls,1967      Manuscripts and Memories Michael Earls,1967      Manuscripts and Memories of Minneapolis ,1988      Manuscripts and memories. Chapters in our literary tradition. (Repr.) Michael Earls (S. J.),1967      Archives, Documentation, and Institutions of Social Memory Francis Xavier Blouin,William G. Rosenberg,2006-03-31 As sites of documentary preservation rooted in various national and social contexts artifacts of culture and places of uncovering archives provide tangible evidence of memory for individuals communities and states as well as defining memory institutionally within prevailing political systems and cultural norms By assigning the prerogatives of record keeper to the archivist whose acquisition policies finding aids and various institutionalized predilections mediate between scholarship and information archives produce knowledge legitimize political systems and construct identities Far from being mere repositories of data archives actually embody the fragments of culture that endure as signifiers of who we are and why The essays in Archives Documentation and Institutions of Social Memory conceive of archives not simply as historical repositories but as a complex of structures processes and epistemologies situated at a critical point of the intersection between scholarship cultural practices politics and technologies      Manuscript, Print and Memory Eva Maria Wilden,2014-11-10 The ancient Tamil poetic corpus of the Ca am The Academy is a national treasure for Tamilians and a battle ground for linguists and historians of politics culture and literature Going back to oral predecessors probably dating back to the beginning of the first millennium it has had an extremely rich and variegated history Collected into anthologies and endowed with literary theories and voluminous commentaries it became the centre piece of the Tamil literary canon associated with the royal court of the Pandya dynasty in Madurai Its decline began in the late middle ages and by the late 17th century it had fallen into near oblivion before being rediscovered at the beginning of the print era The present study traces the complex historical process of its transmission over some 2000 years using and documenting a wide range of sources in particular surviving manuscripts the early prints the commentaries of the literary and grammatical traditions and a vast range of later literature that creates a web of inter textual references and quotations      Manuscripts and Memories Michael Earles,1973-01-01      Handbook of Pre-Modern Nordic Memory Studies Jürg Glauser,Pernille Hermann,Stephen A. Mitchell,2018-11-19 In recent years the field of Memory Studies has emerged as a key approach in the Humanities and Social Sciences and has increasingly shown its ability to open new windows on Nordic Studies as well The entries in this book document the work to date of this approach on the pre modern Nordic world mainly the Viking Age and the Middle Ages but including as well both earlier and later periods Given that Memory Studies is an ever expanding critical strategy the approximately eighty contributors in this volume also discuss the potential for future research in this area Topics covered range from texts to performance to visual and other aspects of material culture all approached from within an interdisciplinary framework International specialists coming from such relevant fields as archaeology mythology history of religion folklore history law art literature philology language and mediality offer assessments on the relevance of Memory Studies to their disciplines and show it at work in case studies Finally this handbook demonstrates the various levels of culture where memory had a critical impact in the pre modern North and how deeply embedded the role of memory is in the material itself New Studies in the Manuscript Tradition of Njáls saga Svanhildur Óskarsdóttir, Emily Lethbridge, 2018-10-22 Njáls saga is the best known and most highly regarded of all medieval Icelandic sagas and it occupies a special place in Icelandic cultural history The manuscript tradition is exceptionally rich and extensive The oldest extant manuscripts date to only a couple of decades after the saga's composition in the late 13th century and the saga was subsequently copied by hand continuously up until the 20th century even alongside the circulation of printed text editions in latter centuries The manuscript corpus as a whole has great socio historical value showcasing the myriad ways in which generations of Icelanders interpreted the saga and took an active part in its transmission the manuscripts are also valuable sources for evidence of linguistic change and other phenomena The essays in this volume present new research and a range of interdisciplinary perspectives on the Njáls saga manuscripts Many of the authors took part in the international research project The Variance of Njáls saga which was funded by the Icelandic Research Council from 2011-2013 Among Arabic Manuscripts I.Y.
