Evolutionary Systems G. Vijver,Stanley N. Salthe,M. Delpo,2013-04-17 The three well known revolutions of the past centuries the Copernican the Darwinian and the Freudian each in their own way had a deflating and mechanizing effect on the position of humans in nature They opened up a richness of disillusion earth acquired a more modest place in the universe the human body and mind became products of a long material evolutionary history and human reason instead of being the central immaterial locus of understanding was admitted into the theater of discourse only as a materialized and frequently out of control actor Is there something objectionable to this picture Formulated as such probably not Why should we resist the idea that we are in certain ways and to some degree physically biologically or psychically determined Why refuse to acknowledge the fact that we are materially situated in an ever evolving world Why deny that the ways of inscription traces of past events and processes are co determinative of further evolutionary pathways Why minimize the idea that each intervention of each natural being is temporally and materially situated and has as such the inevitable consequence of changing the world The point is however that there are many more or less radically different ways to consider the mechanization of man and nature There are in particular many ways to get the message of material and evolutionary determination as well as many levels at which this determination can be thought of as relevant or irrelevant

Reframing the Social Professor Poe Yu-ze Wan, 2013-01-28 Drawing extensively on the research findings of natural and social sciences both in America and Europe Reframing the Social argues for a critical realist and systemist social ontology designed to shed light on current debates in social theory concerning the relationship of social ontology to practical social research and the nature of the social It explores the works of the systems theorist Mario Bunge in comparison with the approach of Niklas Luhmann and critical social systems theorists to challenge the commonly held view that the systems based approach is holistic in nature and necessarily downplays the role of human agency Theoretically sophisticated and investigating the work of a theorist whose work has until now received insufficient attention in Anglo American thought this book will be of interest to those working in the field of social theory as well as scholars concerned with philosophy of social science the project of analytical sociology and the nature of the relationship between the natural and social sciences Evolutionary Interpretations of World Politics William R. Thompson, 2016-05-06 The field of international relations is often stagnated in realism and liberalism Groundbreaking and guaranteed to stir debate this work will move the field of international relations beyond its current and often inadequate assumptions The contributors describe how states ideologies and other areas of analysis evolve conquer others or disappear entirely Change and the fluid nature of history though so clearly a part of historical reality are not so deeply embedded in other paradigms as they are in the variation and selection model of evolutionary international relations Some contributors lay out the various controversies inherent to the new theory while others apply the paradigm to specific problems in IR theory Regardless of the approach the presentation of this entirely new perspective and method succeeds in forming a new paradigm of international relations Contributors include William R Thompson George Modelski Vincent S E Falger David P Rapkin Jennifer Sterling Folker Hendrik Spruyt Stewart Patrick Paul Hensel Karen Rasler Craig N Murphy Jeffrey A Hart Sangbae and Brian Pollins Foundations of Informing Science: 1999-2008 T. Grandon Gill, Eli Cohen, 2009 Continental Philosophy of Social Science Yvonne Sherratt, 2005-10-17 Continental Philosophy of Social Science demonstrates the unique and autonomous nature of the continental approach to social science and contrasts it with the Anglo American tradition Yvonne Sherratt argues for the importance of an historical understanding of the Continental tradition in order to appreciate its individual humanist character Examining the key traditions of hermeneutic genealogy and critical theory and the texts of major thinkers such as Gadamer Ricoeur Derrida Nietzsche Foucault the Early Frankfurt School and Habermas she also contextualizes contemporary developments within strands of thought stemming back to Ancient Greece and Rome Sherratt shows how these modes of thinking developed through medieval Christian thought into the Enlightenment and Romantic eras before becoming mainstays of twentieth century disciplines Continental Philosophy of Social Science will serve as the essential textbook for courses in philosophy or social sciences From Molecular Genetics to Genomics Jean-Paul Gaudillière, Hans-Jörg Rheinberger, 2004-10-07 With the rise of genomics the life sciences have entered a new era This book provides a comprehensive history of molecular genetics and genomics Institutional Diversity and Political Economy Paul Dragos Aligica, 2014-02 This book discusses some of the most challenging ideas emerging out of the research program on institutional diversity associated with the 2009 co recipient of 2009 Nobel Prize in economics Elinor Ostrom while outlining a set of new research directions and an original interpretation of the significance and future of this program Handbook of Entrepreneurship Research Zoltan J. Acs, David B. Audretsch, 2010-08-03 Interest in and attention to entrepreneurship has exploded in recent years Nevertheless much of the research and scholarship in entrepreneurship has remained elusive to academics policymakers and other researchers in large part because the field is informed by a broad spectrum of disciplines including management finance economics policy sociology and psychology often pursued in isolation from each other Since its original publication in 2003 the Handbook of Entrepreneurship Research has served as the definitive resource in the field bringing together contributions from leading scholars in these disciplines to present a holistic multi dimensional approach This new edition fully revised and updated and including several new chapters covers all of the primary topics in entrepreneurship including entrepreneurial behavior risk and opportunity recognition equity financing business culture and strategy innovation and the impact of entrepreneurship on economic growth and development Featuring an integrative introduction extensive literature reviews and reference lists the Handbook will continue to serve as a roadmap to the rapidly evolving and dynamic field of entrepreneurship

The Landscape of History John Lewis Gaddis, 2004 What is history and why should we study it Is there such a thing as historical truth Is history a science One of the most accomplished historians at work today John Lewis Gaddis answers these and other questions in this short witty and humane book The Landscape of History is at once an engaging introduction to the historical method for beginners a powerful reaffirmation of it for practitioners a startling challenge to social scientists and an effective skewering of post modernist claims that we can't know anything at all about the past It will be essential reading for anyone who reads writes teaches or cares about history

Qualitative Methods for Practice Research Jeffrey Longhofer, Jerry Floersch, Janet Hoy, 2012-06-29 Qualitative methods have become increasingly popular among researchers and while many comprehensive textbooks describe the standard techniques and philosophical assumptions it is often assumed that practitioners are consumers of research and not producers This innovative book describes how qualitative methods can be used to investigate the in vivo use of theory in social work practice It offers not just a comprehensive overview of methods but a concise accessible guide focused on how to study and explicate application of theory and the creative tension that inevitably exists between theory and practice Theory to practice gaps are indispensable conditions for conducting engaged scholarship which in turn promotes collaboration between researchers and practitioners in addressing practice related problems in real world settings Engaged scholarship and critical realist assumptions are applied to three case studies that combine research questions with data collection techniques and analytic strategies Thematic grounded theory and narrative research techniques are all illustrated including original quick start instructions for using ATLAS ti software Institutional ethnography is also presented as a method that is particularly useful for social work practice settings By generating knowledge of practice in open and natural systems qualitative methods can be used to examine how practice is experienced and how interventions may be understood and transformed This cutting edge pocket guide will equip practitioner scholars with the foundation for conducting research that makes a difference

Women Who Buy Sex Sarah Kingston,Natalie Hammond,Scarlett Redman,2020-05-10 Drawing on empirical data from women who pay for sexual services and those who provide services to women this ground breaking study is the first of its kind in the UK detailing the experiences of women who pay for sex in an explicit direct prearranged way Unlike previous research on clients which has predominantly focused on men who buy sex or women who engage in romance tourism in places such as the Caribbean this innovative research offers new and original insights into the demand side of commercial sex Too often it is assumed that only men pay for sex from women or other men Women are assumed to be service providers and are unimaginable as clients This book therefore offers a radical departure from existing scholarship on commercial sex In addition the book examines the experiences of couples who pay for commercial sex a client group that has received scant investigation The book explores women s reasons for their engagement in commercial sex services their backgrounds and characteristics their strategies for remaining safe and managing potential risks as well as their sexual health strategies The nature of sexual service bookings with women clients is also examined exploring the types of services women seek the places where bookings occur and the fees they pay Finally the experiences of men women and trans sex workers who provide sexual services to women are examined By drawing on our unique data and comparing it to the literature on men clients we present our theory Converging Sexualities We argue that commercial sex is a site of behavioural convergence and that women clients are behaving in ways that could be described as masculine or feminine Our study therefore offers new ways to understand sexuality This book will be of interest to researchers in the field of sexuality sex work and women s behaviour
