Marathon Groups Elizabeth E. Mintz,1971 Early Psychological Research Contributions from Women of Color, Volume 2 Rihana Shiri Mason,Jon E. Grahe,Michelle L. Ceynar,2024-07-29 This volume serves as a companion to Early Psychological Research Contributions from Women of Color Volume I It focuses on the dissertations of 20 builders women of color who earned their doctoral degrees in psychology prior to 1990 and who were leaders in the field through their leadership or innovation An introductory chapter bridges the two volumes Each subsequent chapter summarizes and examines a dissertation using a consistent format including a biographical sketch of the builder with an emphasis on her significant contribution to an organization or innovation that moved the field forward a summary of the dissertation a reproducibility critique of the dissertation and an alternative framework section that analyzes the dissertation from a modern theoretical perspective or methodological approach e g feminist theory liberation psychology mestiza consciousness etc The topics cover the breadth of the discipline of psychology including physiological cognitive developmental social and clinical Some topics are also relevant to business education medicine and social work The varying nature of these dissertations allows the book to be used to augment coursework either as a complete collection or as individual chapters This volume is intended for both instructors and students The course activities provide examples of how to integrate key aspects of the dissertation research into the classroom The volume was written with upper level undergraduate students in mind so that it could be used across the psychology curriculum but the editors envision this book as a potential graduate level text as well

Clinical Psychology Sol L. Garfield,2007-12-01 Interest in clinical psychology has been growing as indicated by large numbers of undergraduates applying for admission to graduate programs and the professional degrees granted This book is written for anyone with a strong interest in clinical psychology but also provides a comprehensive and realistic view of the field The book therefore can serve as a reference for courses in clinical psychology but it will be relevant to courses in personality and personal counseling Professional clinical psychologists and members of related professions may also find the book valuable because Garfield describes important historical developments that have helped to shape the field the roles and functions of the clinical psychologist their training programs and contemporary issues and problems The text also describes the theoretical models that guide the work of the clinical psychologist and upon which the divergent approaches to clinical work are based Changes in the functions of the clinical psychologist are reflected in the greater emphasis on psychotherapeutic and behavior change methods and in the correspondingly reduced emphasis on diagnostic testing procedures a development discernible in the decline in studies of high quality bearing on diagnostic issues This book provides a reliable source of information for the individual who contemplates a professional career as a clinical psychologist and seeks to learn what the profession encompasses Sol L Garfield 1918 2004 was Professor of Psychology and Director Clinical Psychology Program Washington University in St Louis Garfield has been widely published in the major journals and his books include Handbook of Psychotherapy and Behavior Change co edited with A E Bergin and The Practice of Brief Psychotherapy He is a former President of the Division of Clinical Psychology American Psychological Association and has been Consulting Editor for the American Journal of Mental Deficiency the Journal of Abnormal Psychology and the Journal of Consulting and Clinical Psychology The Criminal Personality Samuel Yochelson, Stanton Samenow, 1995-04-01 This is the second of a three volume landmark study of the criminal mind This book describes an intensive therapeutic approach designed to completely change the criminals way of thinking The authors reject traditional treatment approaches as reinforcing of the criminals sense of being a victim of society Rather Yochelson and Samenow stress that the criminal must make a choice to give up criminal thinking and learn morality A Jason Aronson Book National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1971 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70
