Marbot A Biography:

Marbot Wolfgang Hildesheimer, 1983 Biography Carl Rollyson, 2016-06-28 This is the only comprehensive annotated bibliography of writing about biography Rollyson a biographer and scholar of biography includes chapters on the history of biography beginning in the Greco Roman period and concluding with biographers such as Leon Edel and Richard Ellmann Ample sections on psychobiography the new feminist biography and on biographers who appear in works of fiction are also included Cited in many recent books on the genre of biography Biography An Annotated Bibliography is an essential research tool as well as a clearly written work for those wishing to browse through the commentary on this important genre The Distinction of Fiction Dorrit Cohn, 2000-12 Winner of the Aldo and Jeanne Scaglione Prize for Comparative Literary Studies from the Modern Language Association Winner of the Modern Language Association s Aldo and Jeanne Scaglione Prize for Comparative Literary Studies The border between fact and fiction has been trespassed so often it seems to be a highway Works of history that include fictional techniques are usually held in contempt but works of fiction that include history are among the greatest of classics Fiction claims to be able to convey its own unique kinds of truth But unless a reader knows in advance whether a narrative is fictional or not judgment can be frustrated and confused In The Distinction of Fiction Dorrit Cohn argues that fiction does present specific clues to its fictionality and its own justifications Indeed except in cases of deliberate deception fiction achieves its purposes best by exercising generic conventions that inform the reader that it is fiction Cohn tests her conclusions against major narrative works including Proust s A la Recherche du temps perdu Mann s Death in Venice Tolstoy s War and Peace and Freud s case studies She contests widespread poststructuralist views that all narratives are fictional On the contrary she separates fiction and nonfiction as necessarily distinct even when bound together An expansion of Cohn s Christian Gauss lectures at Princeton and the product of many years of labor and thought The Distinction of Fiction builds on narratological and phenomenological theories to show that boundaries between fiction and history can be firmly and systematically explored Fakes and Forgeries Peter Knight, Jonathan Long, 2004 The possibility that works of art and literature might be forged and that identity might be faked has haunted the cultural imagination for centuries That spectre seems to have returned with a vengeance recently with a series of celebrated hoaxes and scandals ranging from the Alan Sokal hoax article in Social Text to Benjamin Wilkomirski TM s oefake Holocaust memoir But as well as creating anxiety the possibility of oefaking it has now been turned into entertainment Traditionally these activities have been dismissed as dangerous and immoral but more recently some scholars have begun to speculate for example that all forms of national identity rely on forged myths of origin Recent cultural theory has likewise called into question traditional notions of authenticity and originality in both personal identity and in works of art Despite critical pronouncements of the death of the author and the substitution of the simulacrum for the original however making a distinction between the genuine and the fake continues to play a major role in our everyday understanding and evaluation of culture law and politics Consider for example the fiasco surrounding the forged Hitler diaries law suits against auction houses for failing to detect forgeries in the art market or the problem of plagiarism at universities It still seems to matter that we can spot the difference especially in the historical moment when we are capable of making copies that are indistinguishable perhaps even better than the original This collection of essays considers the moral aesthetic and political questions that are raised by the long history and current prevalence of fakes and forgeries The international team of contributors consider the issues thrown up by a wide range of examples drawn from fields ranging from literature to art history These case studies include little known subjects such as Eddie Burrup the Australian aboriginal artist who turned out to be an 81 year old white woman as well as new interpretations of familiar cases such as faked holocaust memoirs The strength of the collection is that it brings together not only a wide range of cultural examples of fakes and forgeries from different historical periods but also offers a wide variety of theoretical takes that will form a useful introduction and casebook on this growing field of inquiry

Learning from Lying Julia Luisa Abramson, 2005 Learning from Lying narrates a new literary history as seen through the lens of mystification Beginning with an examination of mystification's elaboration during the century of Enlightenment the book accounts for mystification's distinctiveness relative to other deceptive forms particularly forgery and provides a timely intervention in current debates about the study of fakes Readings of works by Denis Diderot Prosper Merimee and Wolfgang Hildesheimer follow out the cosmopolitan roots of the genre in the Republic of Letters and show how it theorizes literature through practical experiment For when textual imitation is revealed it unveils the necessary collusion between reader and writer that allows literature to exist as such

BOOK JACKET Intermediality and Storytelling Marina Grishakova, Marie-Laure Ryan, 2010 The narrative turn in the humanities which expanded the study of narrative to various disciplines has found a correlate in the medial turn in narratology Long restricted to language based literary fiction narratology has found new life in the recognition that storytelling can take place in a variety of media and often combines signs belonging to different semiotic categories visual auditory linguistic and perhaps even tactile The essays gathered in this volume apply the newly gained awareness of the expressive power of media to particular texts demonstrating the productivity of a medium aware analysis Through the examination of a wide variety of different media ranging from widely studied such as literature and film to new neglected or non standard ones such as graphic novels photography television musicals computer games and advertising they address some of the most fundamental questions raised by the medial turn in narratology how can narrative meaning be created in media other than language how do different types of signs collaborate with each other in so called multi modal works and what new forms of narrativity are made possible by the emergence of digital media

Biography and the Postmodern Historical Novel John F. Keener, 2001 This book describes and evaluates the ever intensifying uneasiness felt by contemporary readers and critics when they confront real people in fictional texts The book's range and depth of analysis is impressive The fortunes of Dutch Schultz Lee Harvey Oswald and Richard Nixon at the hands of novelists dramatists film makers and composers receive close attention and so do fictional representations of biographers themselves

The Text and Its Context Nigel Harris, Joanne Sayner, 2008 This Festschrift for Ronald Speirs Professor of German at the University of Birmingham contains twenty four original essays by scholars from Great Britain Germany Austria and Norway Between them they encompass the entire modern period from the later eighteenth century onwards and focus on a wide range of German speaking environments Several essays throw new light on authors to whom Professor Speirs himself has devoted particular attention such as Brecht Thomas Mann Nietzsche and Fontane whilst others discuss writers such as Lenz Bchner Bhlau C F Meyer Keyserling Jahn and Huch Above all however the contributions address the complexities of writing in ideologically diverse contexts including the Third Reich and the former German Democratic Republic This interplay between text and context is the cornerstone which links all the essays as it has consistently informed Ronald Speirs's own work which combines a scrupulous attention to textual detail with an acute awareness of the socio political milieu and philosophical influences that shape creative literature

Avatars of Story Marie-Laure Ryan, 2006 Since its inception narratology has developed primarily as an investigation of literary narrative fiction By grappling with semiotic media other than language and technology other than print the text reveals how digital media convey meaning and create stories

Neverending Stories Ann Fehn, Ingeborg Hoesterey, Maria M. Tatar, 2014-07-14 In these compelling new essays leading critics sharpen our understanding of the narrative structures that convey meaning in fiction taking as their point of departure the narratological positions of Dorrit Cohn Grard Genette and Franz Stanzel This collection demonstrates how narratology with its attention to the modalities of presenting consciousness offers a point of entry for scholars investigating the socio cultural dimensions of literary representations Drawing from a wide range of literary texts the essays explore the borderline between fiction and history explain how characters are constructed by both author and reader through the narration of consciousness show how gender shapes narrative strategies ranging from the depiction of consciousness through intertextuality to the representation of the body address issues of contingency in narrative and present a debate on the crucial function of person in the literary text The contributors are Stanley Corngold Gail Finney Kte Hamburger Paul Michael Ltzeler David Mickelsen John Neubauer Thomas Pavel Jens Rieckmann Shlomith Rimmon Kenan Judith Ryan Franz Stanzel Susan Suleiman Maria Tatar David Wellbery and Larry Wolff Originally published in 1991 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905
