Fountain, Jean Weihs, 2011 This text is based on guidelines issued by the ALCTS It is a one stop handbook for librarians who organize information for children      Organizing Information Gobinda G. Chowdhury, Sudatta Chowdhury, 2007 Tomorrow s LIS professionals will have to be conversant with all the tools and techniques for organizing information in different domains from the library s shelves to the web and digital libraries This core text covers the organization of the entire spectrum of information and the principles tools and techniques needed to do this effectively The most up to date textbook yet available on this subject this comprehensive book covers everything from traditional cat class through to metadata information architecture and the semantic web Written by experienced lecturers in the subject who have authored several other successful textbooks this book provides both an overview of the whole field of information organization as well as an easy to understand introduction to each of the individual topics which can be followed up with further study by following the references at the end of each chapter The chapters cover cataloguing bibliographic format classification subject indexing and vocabulary control organization of digital information metadata mark up languages ontology information architecture the semantic web current research issues and trends Readership A key student text for all information and library studies courses the book is also useful for practising LIS professionals who need an understanding of the various tools and techniques they need to master to effectively organize information      Cataloging Library Resources Marie Keen Shaw, 2017-01-26 While there are many cataloging texts very few are written specifically for library support staff This is the one and only book purposefully aligned with the new American Library Association Library Support Staff Certification LSSC competency standards for Cataloging and Classification Written in clear language by someone who teaches cataloging in a library support staff program and featuring practical examples Cataloging Library Resources An Introduction will help library support staff become effective catalogers Other books on this topic are written for professional librarians rather than support staff And although 85% of library support staff do not hold professional degrees many are expected to do the complex and technical work of catalogers This book provides many examples that support staff can use to learn how to catalog all types of library print media and digital materials using the most up to date Library of Congress standards Using this handbook as a guide readers will be able to perform the ALA LSSC cataloging and classification competencies and the new RDA FRBR and BIBFRAME standards listed below Apply and manage the appropriate processes computer technology and equipment for cataloging and classification Apply principles of Resource Description and Access RDA and the Functional Requirements for Bibliographic Records FRBR when creating cataloging records Apply principles of the Bibliographic Framework Initiative BIBFRAME and utilize the BIBFRAME model to create cataloging records Use the basic cataloging and classification tools both print and online including bibliographic utilities and format standards Understand the value of authority control and its basic principles and can identify and apply appropriate access points for personal names corporate bodies series and subjects Explain the value and advantages of cooperative or collaborative cataloging practices to enhance services Know the basics of standard metadata formats and cataloging rules to select review and edit catalog records and to generate metadata in various formats And more XML for Catalogers and Metadata Librarians

Timothy W. Cole, Myung-Ja K. Han, 2013-05-23 This book provides a foundation of knowledge for catalogers metadata librarians and library school students on the Extensible Markup Language XML one of the most commonly listed qualifications in today's cataloger and metadata librarian job postings How are today's librarians to manage and describe the ever expanding volumes of resources in both digital and print formats The use of XML in cataloging and metadata workflows can improve metadata quality the consistency of cataloging workflows and adherence to standards This book is intended to enable current and future catalogers and metadata librarians to progress beyond a bare surface level acquaintance with XML thereby enabling them to integrate XML technologies more fully into their cataloging workflows Building on the wealth of work on library descriptive practices cataloging and metadata XML for Catalogers and Metadata Librarians explores the use of XML to serialize process share and manage library catalog and metadata records The authors expert treatment of the topic is written to be accessible to those with little or no prior practical knowledge of or experience with how XML is used Readers will gain an educated appreciation of the nuances of XML and grasp the benefit of more advanced and complex XML techniques as applied to applications relevant to catalogers and metadata librarians MARC 21, Format for Bibliographic Data Including Guidelines for Content Designation, Vol. 1, Etc., October 2002, 2003 Introduction to Modern Information Retrieval Gobinda G. Chowdhury, 2010 An information retrieval IR system is designed to analyse process and store sources of information and retrieve those that match a particular user's requirements A bewildering range of techniques is now available to the information professional attempting to successfully retrieve information It is recognized that today's information professionals need to concentrate their efforts on learning the techniques of computerized IR However it is this book's contention that it also benefits them to learn the theory techniques and tools that constitute the traditional approaches to the organization and processing of information In fact much of this knowledge may still be applicable in the storage and retrieval of electronic information in digital library environments The fully revised third edition of this highly regarded textbook has been thoroughly updated to incorporate major changes in this rapidly expanding field since the second edition in 2004 and a complete new chapter on citation indexing has been added Unique in its scope the book covers the whole spectrum of information storage and retrieval including users of IR and IR options database technology bibliographic formats cataloguing and metadata subject analysis and representation automatic indexing and file organization vocabulary control abstracts and indexing searching and retrieval user centred models of IR and user interfaces evaluation of IR systems and evaluation experiments online and CD ROM IR multimedia IR hypertext and mark up languages web IR intelligent IR natural language processing and its applications in IR citation analysis and IR IR in digital libraries and trends in IR research Illustrated with many examples and comprehensively referenced for an international audience this is an indispensable textbook for students of library and information studies It is also an invaluable aid for information practitioners wishing to brush up on their skills and keep up to date with the latest techniques      Moving Image Cataloging Martha M. Yee, 2007-10-30 Libraries archives and museums hold a wide variety of moving images all of which require the same level of attention to issues of organization and access as their print counterparts Consequently the people who create collection level records and metadata for these resources need to be equally conversant in the principles of cataloging Martha Yee covers both descriptive AACR2R AMIM and FIAF rules and subject cataloging with a focus on LCSH In the process the reader is encouraged to think critically and to be prepared to make decisions in ambiguous situations where solutions to problems are not always obvious or clearly dictated by specific rules      MARC 21 Specifications for Record Structure, Character Sets, and Exchange Media National Library of Canada.
