Goldsmith, 2012-12-06 The international perspective for this book is the unprecedented level of concern over deforestation recognized by the meeting of world leaders at the 1992 Earth Summit in Rio de Janeiro and culminating in the appointment of the Intergovernmental Panel on Forests IPF under the auspices of the UN Commission on Sustainable Development The wide range of issues covered by the authors in this volume reflects the breadth of the international debate from national policies and activist campaigning through economic and social objectives to the sustainable management of forest and soil resources Since the conservation campaigns of the 1980s the focus of international concern has widened from tropical rain forests to all forest formations in all regions with increased recognition of global values and common responsibilities However while forest cover in some temperate countries is increasing irrational deforestation at historically unprecedented levels of damage to biodiversity and to other environmental values remains most acute in tropical countries where the need to use the natural resources for sustainable development is greatest and the capability weakest While accepting the urgency of the situation and the need for greater coherence of action at a global level the 1997 report of the
