Matrix Of Narrative Family Systems And The Semiotics Of Story:

The Matrix of Narrative Denis Jonnes,1990 The Classical Plot and the Invention of Western Narrative N. J. Lowe,2000-06-01 From Homer to Hollywood the western storytelling tradition has canonised a distinctive set of narrative values characterised by tight economy and closure This book traces the formation of that classical paradigm in the development of ancient storytelling from Homer to Heliodorus To tell this story the book sets out to rehabilitate the idea of plot notoriously disconnected from any recognised system of terminology in literary theory The first part of the book draws on developments in narratology and cognitive science to propose a way of formally describing the way stories are structured and understood This model is then used to write a history of the emergence of the classical plot type in the four ancient genres that shaped it Homeric epic fifth century tragedy New Comedy and the Greek novel with insights into the fundamental narrative poetics of each Wes Anderson's Symbolic Storyworld Warren Buckland,2018-10-18 Wes Anderson's Symbolic Storyworld presents a theoretical investigation of what makes the films of Wes Anderson distinctive Chapter by chapter it relentlessly pulls apart each of Anderson's narratives to pursue the proposition that they all share the same deep underlying symbolic values a common symbolic storyworld Taking the polemical strategy of outlining and employing Claude Lévi Strauss's distinguished and notorious work on myth and kinship to analyze eight of Anderson's films Warren Buckland unearths the peculiar symbolic structure of each film plus the circuits of exchange tangible and intangible gift giving and unusual kinship systems that govern the lives of Anderson's characters He also provides an analysis of Wes Anderson's visual and aural style identifying several distinctive traits of Anderson's mise en scène Narrative and Narration Warren Buckland,2020-12-15 From mainstream blockbusters to art house cinema narrative and narration are the driving forces that organize a film Yet attempts to explain these forces are often mired in notoriously complex terminology and dense theory Warren Buckland provides a clear and accessible introduction that explains how narrative and narration work using straightforward language Narrative and Narration distills the basic components of cinematic storytelling into a set of core concepts narrative structure processes of narration and narrative agents The book opens with a discussion of the emergence of narrative and narration in early cinema and proceeds to illustrate key ideas through numerous case studies Each chapter guides readers through different methods that they can use to analyze cinematic storytelling Buckland also discusses how departures from traditional modes such as feminist narratives art cinema and unreliable narrators can complicate and corroborate the book's understanding of narrative and narration Examples include mainstream films both classic and contemporary art house films of every stripe and two relatively new styles of cinematic storytelling the puzzle film and those driven by a narrative logic derived from video games Narrative and Narration is a concise introduction that provides readers with fundamental tools to understand cinematic storytelling The Anthem Handbook of Screen Theory Hunter Vaughan,Tom Conley,2018-07-30 The Anthem Handbook of Screen Theory offers a unique and progressive survey of screen theory and how it can be applied to a range of moving image texts and sociocultural contexts Focusing on the handbook angle the book includes only original essays from established authors in the field and new scholars on the cutting edge of helping screen theory evolve for the twenty first century vistas of new media social shifts and geopolitical change This method guarantees a strong foundation and clarity for the canon of film theory while also situating it as part of a larger genealogy of art theories and critical thought and reveals the relevance and utility of film theories and concepts to a wide array of expressive practices and specified arguments The Anthem Handbook of Screen Theory is at once inclusive applicable and a chance for writers to innovate and really play with where they think the field is can and should be heading The Sequential Dynamics of Narrative Ken Ireland,2001 Building on critical theories of narrative this study analyses temporal and continuity relations in fiction The Ties That Bind Sara E. Cooper,2004-04-30 The Ties That Bind comprises the first collection of critical essays that explore the family system in Spanish and Latin American culture This thought provoking volume addresses the intersection of language narrative structure social reality and family dynamics through examples from a diverse range of literary works including Cervantes Don Quijote Reinaldo Arenas Celestino antes del alba and the Chicano film My Family Mi Familia Issues of feminism gender and sexuality abuse trauma and communication take the forefront in this ground breaking book which takes psychological literary criticism a step beyond traditional psychoanalytical approaches

Reading the Family Dance John V. Knapp,Kenneth Womack,2003 The development in recent years of the intersections between the family and literary study continues to emerge as one of the most productive and illuminating arenas of contemporary critique In addition to addressing the family dynamic through which a given literary character develops a fully realized sense of self family systems therapy allows readers to examine the patterns by which characters function in their larger intimate systems whether those systems be social institutional or even global As the intellectual foundation for the forms of therapy practiced by the majority of contemporary American and European psychotherapists the study of family systems theory and its intersections with literary works affords readers with an illuminating glimpse into the terminology and processes involved in this dynamic form of critique Perhaps most significantly family systems therapy allows critics to consider the distinctly social interactions that characterise our pathways to interpersonal development and selfhood John V Knapp is Professor of English with a joint appointment in modern literature and in teacher education at Northern Illinois University Kenneth Womack is Assist Implications of Parent-Child Boundary Dissolution for Developmental Psychopathology Patricia K. Kerig,2014-06-03 Gain a better understanding of parent child boundaries and the mechanisms for their dissolution The breakdown of appropriate generational boundaries between parent and child can threaten the child s psychological development Implications of Parent Child Boundary Dissolution for Developmental Psychopathology Who Is the Parent and Who Is the Child explores this covert and oftentimes ignored form of emotional abuse discussing in detail the various ways it can manifest This revealing text comprehensively examines how the burden of meeting the emotional needs of the parent interferes with the child's healthy development. The boundary dissolution patterns of role reversal, enmeshment, psychological control, and triangulation are closely examined with an eye toward providing appropriate strategies for dealing with the problem. Implications of Parent-Child Boundary Dissolution for Developmental Psychopathology is separated into four sections to focus extensively on every aspect of the problem. The first section discusses definitions, concepts, and methodological concerns of the phenomena, including a consideration of the child's developmental responses to boundary dissolution. The second section explores the empirical research concerning boundary dissolution within the family system and includes intriguing information on the actual mechanism that passes the pattern of role reversal on to the following generation. The next section closely examines boundary violations within high-risk families with a focus on those undergoing divorce. The final section concentrates on cultural contexts of boundary dissolution and includes a look at the perception of familial responsibility and its effects on Bosnian youths. This one-of-a-kind resource is extensively referenced and provides a solid foundation to inspire a new generation of theory research and clinical work. Implications of Parent-Child Boundary Dissolution for Developmental Psychopathology examines a multidimensional model of boundary dissolution with supporting research, a comprehensive review of published literature in the areas of attachment theory, developmental capacities of the infant, child-rearing practices, and parental beliefs, the theoretical background supporting the construct of boundary dissolution, the boundary disturbance patterns of enmeshment and control, the relationships between interparental conflict, parental responses to children's emotions, and representations of role reversal and vulnerability in children's family drawings, the spill-over effect of marital conflict, role reversal in high-risk families, children's rejection of one parent over another in custody disputes, post-war adjustment of Bosnian adolescents, psychological control in individualist and collectivist groups, representations of parents and children in twentieth-century American novels. Implications of Parent-Child Boundary Dissolution for Developmental Psychopathology is crucial reading for researchers and clinicians who deal with families and psychopathology and is of particular interest to graduate students in clinical child psychology, child and family studies, social work, and developmental psychology.

Heterosexual Plots and Lesbian Narratives Marilyn Farwell, 1996-01-01. What is lesbian literature? Must it contain overtly lesbian characters and portray them in a positive light? Must the author be overtly or covertly lesbian? Does there have to be a lesbian theme, and must it be politically acceptable? Marilyn Farwell here examines the work of such writers as Adrienne Rich, Marion Zimmer Bradley, Jeanette Winterson, Gloria Naylor, and Marilyn Hacker to address these questions. Dividing their writings into two genres, the romantic story and the heroic or quest story, Farwell addresses some of the most problematic issues at the intersection of literature, sex, gender, and postmodernism. Illustrating how the generational conflict between the lesbian feminists of twenty years ago and the queer theorists of today stokes the critical fires of contemporary lesbian and literary theory, Heterosexual Plots and Lesbian Narratives concludes by arguing for a broad and generous definition of lesbian writing.

Kilroy, 2007-04-02 Through analysis of eight English novels of the Nineteenth century this work explores the ways in which the novel contributes to the formation of ideology regarding the family and conversely the ways in which changing attitudes toward the family shape and reshape the novel Engendering Realism and Postmodernism , 2021-11-01 This volume assembles critical essays on and excerpts from works of contemporary women writers in Britain Its focus is the interaction of aesthetic play and ethical commitment in the fictional work of women writers whose interest in testing and transgressing textual boundaries is rooted in a specific awareness of a gendered multicultural reality This position calls for a distinctly critical impetus of their writing involving the interaction of the political and the literary as expressed in innovative combinations of realist and postmodern techniques in works by A S Byatt Maureen Duffy Zoe Fairbairns Eva Figes Penelope Lively Sara Maitland Suniti Namjoshi Ravinder Randhawa Joan Riley Michele Roberts Emma Tennant Fay Weldon Jeanette Winterson All contributions to this volume address aspects of these writers positions and techniques with a clear focus on their interest in transgressing boundaries of genre gender and post colonial identity The special quality of these interpretations first given in the presence of writers at a symposium in Potsdam derives from the creative and prosperous interactions between authors and critics The volume concludes with excerpts from the works of the participating writers which exemplify the range of concrete concerns and technical accomplishments discussed in the essays They are taken from fictional works by Debjani Chatterjee Maureen Duffy Zoe Fairbairns Eva Figes Sara Maitland and Ravinder Randhawa They also include the creative interactions of Suniti Namjoshi and Gillian Hanscombe in their joint writing and Paul Magrs critical engagement with Sara Maitland

Spaces of the Mind Elaine Jahner, 2004-01-01 Spaces of the Mind reveals how both immigrant European and modern Native communities and individuals use oral and written narratives to define and center themselves in time and space Elaine A Jahner skillfully weaves together years of fieldwork among the Standing Rock Sioux in North Dakota her own memories of growing up in a German Russian town across the Missouri River from the Standing Rock Sioux and an illuminating set of narrative concepts Spaces of the Mind proposes a theory of cognitive style that emphasizes the ways in which distinct cultural identities are expressed through the structure of a narrative and the unfolding of its performance telling or reading Themes of creativity and survival amid loss pervade the stories told by Natives about themselves and their past when discussing the inundation of the original Standing Rock Sioux village during the Oahe Dam construction in the 1950s Immigrant Germans and Alsatians struggled to reconcile the hardships of the northern Plains with what they left behind in the Old World and the narratives of a German Russian community reflect and encourage survival in the face of transition Jahner also studies how two prominent novelists James Welch a member of the Blackfeet community and Mildred Walker who left her native New England for the West perceive a single landscape the state of Montana and how it has influenced their thought and narratives Spaces of the Mind provides a fresh understanding of Western literature and culture encourages a reconsideration of the formation and modern character of the American West and contributes to a fuller appreciation of the significance of narrative

researchers in relevant fields Family Fictions Christopher Flint, 2002-02 By revealing the investment of eighteenth century British prose fiction in contemporary debates about domestic ideology this book addresses the multiple ways in which traditional notions of the family were estranged reconstituted as novel concepts and then finally presented as national social norms It focuses on works by Aphra Behn Daniel Defoe Samuel Richardson Eliza Haywood Horace Walpole Laurence Sterne and Mary Wollstonecraft addressing a number of narratives that historians of the novel have overlooked while linking such better known works as Robinson Crusoe and Pamela to their often neglected sequels Challenging competing critical claims that the household either experienced a revolution in form or that it remained essentially unchanged the author argues that eighteenth century writers employed a set of complementary strategies to refashion the symbolic and affective power of bourgeois domesticity Whether these writers regarded the household as a supplement to such other social institutions as the Church or the monarchy or as a structure resisting these institutions they affirmed the family's central role in managing civil behavior At a time however when the middle class was beginning to scrutinize itself as a distinct social entity its most popular form of literature reveals that many felt alienated from the most intimate and yet explosive of social experiences family life Prose fiction sought to channel these disturbingly fluid domestic feelings yet was in itself haunted by the specter of unregulated affect Recovering the period's own disparate perceptions of household relations the book explains how eighteenth century British prose fiction which incorporates elements from conduct books political treatises and demographic material used the family as an instrumental concept in a struggle to resolve larger cultural tensions at the same time it replicated many of the rifts within contemporary family ideology Connotation and Meaning Beatriz Garza-Cuarón, 2013-08-08 No detailed description available for Connotation and Meaning Masking the Blow Whitney Davis, 2023-12-22 Pronouns in Literature Alison Gibbons, Andrea Macrae, 2018-01-04 This edited collection brings together an international interdisciplinary group of scholars who together offer cutting edge insights into the complex roles functions and effects of pronouns in literary texts The book engages with a range of text types including poetry drama and prose from different periods and regions in English and in translation Beginning with analyses of the first person pronoun it moves onto studies of the subject dynamics of first and second person before considering plural modes of narration and how pronoun use can help to disperse narrative perspective The volume then debates the functional constraints of pronouns in fictional contexts and finally reflects upon the theoretical advancements presented in the collection This innovative volume will appeal to students and scholars of linguistics stylistics and cognitive poetics narratology theoretical and applied linguistics psychology and literary criticism
