Slack, 2011-12-31 This book focuses on the relationship between public morality and personal action in the American political community It emphasizes the responsibilities of citizens and government to find and confirm truth looking to specific sources religious scripture and empirical events Recognizing that we have a natural preference for distraction and distance from both sources of truth Slack uses qualitative open ended interviews and direct observation to uncover the intimate consequences of life taking in open societies Abortion and murder capital punishment are instances in which there is a sequence of events that result in life taking The act of murder denies the sanctity of life of someone else Abortion and capital punishment also deny the sanctity of the lives of others The intimacy of life taking is not typically acknowledged or remains hidden This makes it difficult to assess the consequences for victims survivors and the political community as a whole As a result there is only a tenuous link between public actions that question the sanctity of human life and the moral compass professed by the American democracy The volume presumes a theocentric foundation envisioned by the American Founders It explores the model's first source of truth biblical scripture as it applies to the public actions of murder abortion and capital punishment Then it investigates the intimate reality of these acts These realities are examined in a variety of settings resulting in a mosaic pattern of public action about capital punishment and abortion Slack underscores the importance of government's role of providing outward justice as well as the citizen's responsibility to be supportive of government tasks in order to reconcile the reality of life taking with the moral compass professed in the American political community

Differences in Common engages in the ongoing debate on community focusing on its philosophical and political aspects through a gendered perspective It explores the subversive and enriching potential of the concept of community as seen from the perspective of heterogeneity and distance and not from homogeneity and fused adhesions This theoretical reflection is in most of the essays included here based on the analysis of literary and filmic texts which due to their irreducible singularity teach us to think without being tied or needing to resort to commonplaces Philosophers such as Arendt Blanchot Foucault Agamben or Derrida have made seminal reflections on community often inspired by contemporary historical events and sometimes questioning the term itself More recently thinkers like Judith Butler Gayatri Spivak or Rada Ivekovic included in this volume are essays by all three have emphasized the gender bias in the debate also problematizing the notion of community Most of the essays gathered in Differences in Common conceive community not as the affirmation of several properties which would unite us to other similar individuals but as the expropriation of ourselves Esposito in an intimate diaspora Community does not fill the gap between subjects but places itself in this gap or void This conception stresses the subject's vulnerability a topic which is also central to this volume The body of community is thus opened by a wound Cixous which exposes us to the contagion of otherness The essays collected here reflect on different topics related to these issues such as gender and nation nationalism internationalism transnationalism nationalism's naturalization of citizenship and the exclusion of women from citizenship the violent consequences of a gendered nation on women's bodies gendering community preservation of difference's within the community bodily vulnerability and new politics community and mourning community and the politics of memory fiction historical truth and fake documentary love relationality and community interpretive communities and virtual communities on the Web among others Joana Sabadell Nieto is Professor of Contemporary Spanish Literature Gender and Feminist Studies at
