The Architecture of Modern Italy Terry Kirk, 2005-06-02 Modern Italy may sound like an oxymoron For Western civilization Italian culture represents the classical past and the continuity of canonical tradition while modernity is understood in contrary terms of rupture and rapid innovation Charting the evolution of a culture renowned for its historical past into the 10 modern era challenges our understanding of both the resilience of tradition and the elasticity of modernity We have a tendency when imagining Italy to look to a rather distant and definitely premodern setting The ancient forum medieval cloisters baroque piazzas and papal palaces constitute our ideal itinerary of Italian civilization The Campo of Siena Saint Peter s all of Venice and San Gimignano satisfy us with their seemingly unbroken panoramas onto historical moments untouched by time but elsewhere modern intrusions alter and obstruct the view to the landscapes of our expectations As seasonal tourist or seasoned historian we edit the encroachments time and change have wrought on our image of Italy The learning of history is always a complex task one that in the Italian environment is complicated by the changes wrought everywhere over the past 250 years Culture on the peninsula continues to evolve with characteristic vibrancy Italy is not a museum To think of it as such as a disorganized yet phenomenally rich museum unchanging in its exhibits is to misunderstand the nature of the Italian cultural condition and the writing of history itself Renzo Piano 1987-1994 Renzo Piano, Vittorio Magnago Lampugnani, 1995 This book presents Renzo Piano s projects from the years 1987 to 1994 in detail including the Menil Collection Museum in Houston and his project for the forecourt of the Centre Pompidou Renzo Piano is the winner of the 1998 Pritzker Prize for Architecture Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Architecture R.

Stephen Sennott, 2004 For more information including the introduction a full list of entries and contributors a generous selection of sample pages and more visit the Encyclopaedia of 20th Century Architecture website Focusing on architecture from all regions of the world this three volume set profiles the twentieth century's vast chronicle of architectural achievements both within and well beyond the theoretical confines of modernism Unlike existing works this encyclopedia examines the complexities of rapidly changing global conditions that have dispersed modern architectural types movements styles and building practices across traditional geographic and cultural boundaries Renzo Piano Building Workshop

Renzo Piano, 2007 This monograph focuses on Piano's most remarkable buildings such as the Pompidou Centre in Paris which he co designed with Richard Rogers and the Beyeler building in Switzerland TRADE Reconstructing Architecture

Dutton, Lian Hurst Mann, 1996 Reconstructing Architecture was first published in 1996 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions To create architecture is an inherently political act yet its nature as a social practice is often obscured beneath layers of wealth and privilege The contributors to this volume question architecture's complicity with the status quo moving beyond critique to outline the part architects are playing in building radical social movements and challenging dominant forms of power The making of architecture is instrumental in the construction of our identities our differences the world around us much of what we know of institutions the distribution of power social relations and cultural values is mediated by the built environment Historically architecture has constructed the environments that house the dominant culture Yet as the essays in Reconstructing Architecture demonstrate there exists a strong tradition of critical practice in the field one that attempts to alter existing social power relations Engaging the gap between modernism and postmodernism each chapter addresses an oppositional discourse that has developed within the field and then reconstructs it in terms of a new social project feminism social theory environmentalism cultural studies race and ethnic studies and critical theory The activists and scholars writing here provide a clarion call to architects and other producers of culture challenging them to renegotiate their political allegiances and to help reconstruct a viable democratic life in the face of inexorable forces driving economic growth destroying global ecology homogenizing culture and privatizing the public realm Reconstructing Architecture reformulates the role of architecture in society as well as its capacity to further a progressive social transformation Contributors Sherry Ahrentzen U of Wisconsin Milwaukee Bradford C Grant California Polytechnic State U San Luis Obispo Richard Ingersoll Rice U Margaret Soltan George Washington U Anthony Ward U of Auckland New Zealand Thomas A Dutton is an architect and professor of architecture at Miami University Ohio He is editor of Voices in Architectural Education 1991 and is associate editor of the Journal of Architectural Education Lian Hurst Mann is an architect and editor of Architecture California A founding member of the Labor Community Strategy Center in Los Angeles she is editor of its bilingual quarterly Ahora Now and a coauthor of Reconstructing Los Angeles from the Bottom Up

1993 Architecture in Motion Robert Kronenburg, 2013-08-15 The idea that architecture can be portable is one that grabs the imagination of both designers and the people who use it perhaps because it so often forecasts a dynamic and creative solution to the complex problems of our contemporary mobile society while at the same time dealing with issues of practicality economy and sustainability Architecture in Motion examines the development of portable transportable demountable and temporary architecture from prehistory to the present day From familiar vernacular models such as the tent mobile home and houseboat to ambitious developments in military and construction engineering all aspects of portable building are considered Building on his earlier works Portable Architecture and Houses in Motion Robert Kronenburg compares traditional forms of building current commercial products and the work of innovative designers and examines key contemporary portable buildings to reveal surprising exciting and imaginative examples He explores the philosophical and technological issues raised by these experimental and futuristic prototypes By understanding the nature of transitory architecture a new ecologically aware design strategy can be developed to prioritise buildings that tread lightly on the earth and still convey the sense of identity and community necessary for an established responsible society This book provides a unique insight into this pivotal field of design

Italy Diane Ghirardo, 2013-02-15 Packed in its dense historic city centers Italy holds some of the most prized architecture and art in the world with which planners and politicians have had to negotiate as they struggle to cope with massive migration from the countryside to the city Early modern architecture coincided with a sustained drive to transform a country that was still primarily rural into a modern industrial state and throughout the twentieth century architects in Italy have attempted to define the role of architecture within a capitalist economy and under diverse political systems In Italy Modern Architectures in History Diane Yvonne Ghirardo addresses these and other issues in her analysis of the last century of Italy's building practices Specifically she examines the post unification efforts to identify a distinctly Italian architectural language as well as the transformation of the urban environment in Italian cities undergoing industrialization in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries She challenges received interpretations of modern architecture and also looks at the subject of illegal building and current responses to ecological challenges In order to illuminate the full scope of the building industry in Italy her examples are drawn not only from the work of widely published architects in the largest cities but from throughout the peninsula including small towns and rural areas Insightful reading for those interested in Italian culture this book offers a new way of understanding the architectural history of modern Italy
