Reorienting Risk Assessment Paul A. Locke, 1994-01-01 Re/Orienting Writing Studies William P. Banks, Matthew B. Cox, Caroline Dadas, 2019-04-15 Re Orienting Writing Studies is an exploration of the intersections among queer theory rhetoric and research methods in writing studies Focusing careful theoretical attention on common research practices this collection demonstrates how queer rhetorics of writing composing textual analysis history assessment and embodiment identity significantly alter both methods and methodologies in writing studies The chapters represent a diverse set of research locations and experiences from which to articulate a new set of innovative research practices While the humanities have engaged queer theory extensively research methods have often been hermeneutic or interpretive At the same time social science approaches in composition research have foregrounded inquiry on human participants but have often struggled to understand where lesbian gay bisexual transgender and queer people fit into empirical research projects Re Orienting Writing Studies works at the intersections of humanities and social science methodologies to offer new insight into using queer methods for data collection and queer practices for framing research Contributors Chanon Adsanatham Jean Bessette Nicole I Caswell Michael J Faris Hillery Glasby Deborah Kuzawa Maria Novotny G Patterson Stacey Waite Stephanie West Puckett Site Remediation J. Andy Soesilo, Stephanie Wilson, 1997-01-14 Site Remediation Planning and Management describes the management of remediation from a planning perspective skillfully combining Superfund requirements and site remediation strategy in one practical volume It clarifies and suggests remedies for the current quagmire of confusing Superfund reform and slow expensive site remediation by thoroughly explaining the Superfund program and then describing how each of its components can fit into an integrated planning and management strategy Site Remediation covers environmental sampling site characterization risk assessment cleanup criteria technology and technology screening and public participation Detailed and comprehensive yet easy to understand this book contains all you need to know about this important subject Re-Orienting the Fundamentals Georg Wiessala, 2016-04-08 Offering an investigation of the ways in which matters of human rights give shape to the European Union's interaction with Asia this volume argues for the consideration of selected social constructivist perspectives with regard to the Asia EU dialogue It puts into context the function of ideas identities values norms and human rights Through a number of country specific and regional case studies the text examines both the enabling and the inhibitory potential of human rights in the Union's relations with Asian interlocutors The book proposes a more inclusive holistic understanding of the significance and potential of the human rights discourse in East West contacts It is aimed at a wide readership from the disciplines of politics international relations Asian studies law and human rights Listening To The Sea Robert Jay Wilder, 2010-06-15 Environmental politics and policy while gaining a significant place in the nation's consciousness constantly comes up against the United States desire for more development more profit and a collective lack of foresight Nowhere is this more evident than in the crucial biodiversity of the world's oceans which are victim to pollution overharvesting habitat destruction and simplistic and fragmented environmental policies that do not speak to underlying problems Robert Wilder describes how management of the world's oceans and their ecosystems has long faced two principal obstacles The first is the seemingly infinite capacity of human apathy something that permits us to take the sea's comfort sustenance ecological services and integrity for granted The second is the myriad lines for rigid offshore jurisdiction That people believe the diversity of life on land should be protected is reflected in well publicized efforts to save the celebrated biodiversity of rainforests Far less is known however about protecting a larger two thirds of this planet the oceans Drawing on academic literature and practical experience Wilder illustrates the nature of the questions facing decision makers and provides intelligent well crafted solutions By describing how the emerging idea of precautionary action can help build second generation policy Wilder offers means to halt problematic overfishing He integrates political science with the goals of environmental protection revealing why agencies often fail in their mission to preserve the environment and offers fresh sensible new paths ahead Wilder shows how damage to marine ecosystems often stems from distant land based activities and details emerging ideas such as how industrial ecology can be a cost effective way to prevent pollution Through a rigorous integration of policy and science Wilder suggests a much improved second generation governance of the ocean and coasts and proposes new ideas for resolving the environmental policy stalemate found within the U S government

Reorientation, innovation and the global architecture for financing for food security and nutrition Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, Zoubek, S.; Lateef, A.; Carrasco Azzini, G.; Holleman, C., 2025-04-25 Hunger and food insecurity reduction has stagnated in the years after the pandemic putting the world far off course to achieve the Sustainable Development Goal SDG Target 2.1 In addition while some progress has been observed in reducing malnutrition it is currently not enough to meet SDG Target 2.2 by 2030 More and better financing will be required to get back on track to end hunger food insecurity and all forms of malnutrition Strategies to address the major drivers behind the recent trends of food insecurity and malnutrition should include repurposing existing financing flows to improve their targeting alignment and efficiency and scaling up new sources of public and private financing to mitigate structural underlying factors Most of the countries where progress to end hunger food insecurity and malnutrition is stalled or backsliding have limited financing options Concessional financing will remain critical in these countries In addition to reaching the communities most affected concessional financing can reduce the obstacles these countries face in accessing financing For instance public and private donors multilateral and national development banks and other actors related to concessional finance must increase their risk appetite including for taking on or de-risking investments private funders are often unwilling to invest in This also means prioritizing bottom up financing and locally led development Furthermore leveraging and maximizing the impact of financing flows oriented to food security and nutrition will require much greater alignment across governments donors international organizations international financial institutions and philanthropic foundations as well as reforms to the global financial architecture that facilitate scaling up financial flows for achieving SDG Targets 2.1 and 2.2 This Working Paper by the Agrifood Economics and Policy Division at FAO serves as background paper to Chapter 5 of the State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World 2024

Of Risks and Normative Responses Christina Anikó Simmig, 2023-09-23 Disaster losses in the context of natural hazards continue to rise despite a growing understanding of disaster risks and measures to reduce them One obstacle to enhancing private and public disaster risk reduction is the influence of the distorted risk perception of laypeople The book argues for the necessity of public regulations and explores means to mitigate the consequences of such distorted risk perception through legal measures and adjustments to political decision making in Council of Europe member states while respecting the value of autonomy and democratic principles In terms of collective decision making the book advocates for the implementation of deliberative fora in the democratic decision making process to mitigate the influence of distorted risk perception associated with natural hazards Additionally the book discusses a range of disaster risk reducing measures that member states may lawfully implement to protect individuals and communities from the consequences of distorted risk perceptions related to common natural hazards To underscore the merits of strengthening disaster risk reduction from the bottom up this book demonstrates how fundamental rights and democratic values impede attempts to increase DRR from the top down even in cases where people s risk perceptions are distorted In doing so the book addresses the issue of disaster risk reduction in a novel way by exposing how legal and political barriers to disaster loss reduction can be overcome by giving higher priority to mitigating distorted risk perceptions

Crisis and Reorientation Christine Svinth-Væрге Pöder, Sigurd Baark, 2023-06-22 This book uses Karl Barth's Der Römerbrief 1922 as a prism through which to explore the role of religion and its interactions with cultural and political thought in the turbulent interwar period in Europe. One of the most influential books in twentieth century protestant theology Der Römerbrief found Barth arguing that the crisis of the time was grounded in an even more profound crisis that pertained to the human condition as such. While much research has been conducted on Der Römerbrief most of it has focused on the book's explicit theology. The aim of the present volume is to mark the centenary of this seminal book with a broader investigation into the movements of thought within Der Römerbrief and its reception and impact within its cultural and intellectual context. This broader approach by a range of Northern European researchers brings attention to interconnections between cultural and theological movements in times of crisis.
