Howard-Hassmann, 2011-02-09 Given the long history of European and American mistreatment of Africa what is the just measure of Western obligations to the peoples of this continent The author analyzes the arguments for reparations from multiple disciplinary perspectives and suggests alternative means to restorative justice Reparations and Anti-Black Racism Angus Nurse, 2021-12-13 The Black Lives Matter movement has exposed the state violence and social devaluation that Black populations continue to suffer Police shootings and incarceration inequalities in the US and UK are just two examples of the legacy of slavery today This book offers a criminological exploration of the case for slavery and anti Black racism reparations in the context of the enduring harms and differential treatment of Black citizens Through critical analysis of legal arguments and reviewing recent court actions it

Encarnación, 2021 This book makes the case for why the United States should embrace gay reparations or policies intended to make amends for a history of discrimination stigmatization and violence against the LGBT community It contends that gay reparations are a moral imperative for bringing dignity to those whose human rights have been violated because of their sexual orientation and or gender identity for closing painful histories of state sponsored victimization of LGBT people and for reminding future generations of past struggles for LGBT equality To make its case the book examines how other Western democracies notorious for their oppression of homosexuals have implemented gay reparations specifically Spain Britain and Germany Their collective experience shows that although there is no universal approach to gay reparations it is never too late for countries to seek to right past wrongs My Face Is Black Is True Mary Frances Berry, 2006-10-10 Acclaimed historian Mary Frances Berry resurrects the remarkable story of ex slave Callie House who seventy years before the civil rights movement demanded reparations for ex slaves A widowed Nashville washerwoman and mother of five House 1861 1928 went on to fight for African American
