Reporting The Citizens News:

Reporting the Citizens' News Ralph S. Izard, 1982

Workbook for News Reporting and Writing Brian S.

Brooks, Missouri Group, George Kennedy, Daryl R. Moen, Don Ranly, 2010-11-10 It's a tumultuous time in journalism as media forms evolve and new models emerge. There are few clear answers but no one is more prepared than The Missouri Group to tackle these issues head on and to teach students the core enduring journalism skills they need to succeed whether they write for the local paper, a professional blog, cable news or even work in public relations.

Reporting Techniques Mr. Rohit Manglik, 2022-12-22 Techniques and tools for accurate and ethical news reporting across different beats Encyclopedia of Journalism Christopher H. Sterling, 2009-09-23 Written in a clear and accessible style that would suit the needs of journalists and scholars alike, this encyclopedia is highly recommended for large news organizations and all schools of journalism. Starred Review Library Journal Journalism permeates our lives and shapes our thoughts in ways we've long taken for granted. Whether we listen to National Public Radio in the morning, view the lead story on the Today show, read the morning newspaper headlines, stay up to the minute with Internet news, browse grocery store tabloids, receive Time magazine in our mailbox or watch the nightly news on television, journalism pervades our daily activities. The six volume Encyclopedia of Journalism covers all significant dimensions of journalism including print, broadcast and Internet journalism. U.S. and international perspectives, history, technology, legal issues and court cases, ownership and economics. The set contains more than 350 signed entries under the direction of leading journalism scholar Christopher H. Sterling of The George Washington University. In the A to Z volumes 1 through 4, both scholars and journalists contribute articles that span the field's wide spectrum of topics from design, editing, advertising and marketing to libel, censorship, First Amendment rights and bias to digital manipulation, media hoaxes, political cartoonists and secrecy and leaks. Also covered are recently emerging media such as podcasting, blogs and chat rooms. The last two volumes contain a thorough listing of journalism awards and prizes, a lengthy section on journalism freedom around the world, an annotated bibliography and key documents. The latter edited by Glenn Lewis of CUNY Graduate School of Journalism and York College. CUNY comprises dozens of primary documents involving codes of ethics, media and the law and future changes in store for journalism education. Key Themes: Consumers and Audiences, Criticism and Education, Economics, Ethnic and Minority Journalism, Issues and Controversies, Journalist Organizations, Journalists, Law and Policy, Magazine Types, Motion Pictures, Networks, News Agencies and Services, News Categories, News Media, U.S. News Media, World Newspaper Types, News Program Types, Online Journalism, Political Communications, Processes and Routines of Journalism, Radio and Television Technology.

Mapping Citizen and Participatory Journalism in Newsrooms, Classrooms and Beyond Melissa Wall, 2020-06-09 Mapping Citizen and Participatory Journalism in Newsrooms, Classrooms and Beyond assesses citizen journalism within the context of hyperlocals, non profits and large global news organizations critically examining various forms of participation by citizen contributors to the news.

The essays included within the book answer questions such as Does citizen journalism close the news participation gap between the Global North and South How can citizen journalism enable the socially excluded to overcome marginalization What are the obligations of professional news outlets to citizen reporters in war zones Furthermore some contributors critique the ways traditional journalism makes use of non professional content while others propose new analytical frameworks such as reciprocal journalism connective journalism and the Appropriation Amplification Model The book also investigates efforts to teach ordinary people journalism skills in Europe the Middle East and both North and South America Some of the programs scrutinized here instill under represented groups with semi professional news values Other projects support citizen journalism infused with activism such as the photographers of the favela based jornalismo popular or the volunteer digital humanitarians covering global crises and in doing so demonstrate new ways to respond to the rise of grassroots participation in the production of news The chapters in this book were originally published as special issues of Journalism Practice Citizenship In Modern Britain Trevor Desmoyers-Davis,2003-06-25 This text examines citizenship from a social science perspective The subject matter has been divided into three sections corresponding to each of the AQA AS Level modules The text also provides all the necessary academic material required for examinable citizenship courses

Citizen Journalism Stuart Allan,Einar Thorsen,2009 Citizen Journalism Global Perspectives examines the spontaneous actions of ordinary people caught up in extraordinary events and compelled to adopt the role of a news reporter This collection of twenty one chapters investigates citizen journalism in the West including the United States United Kingdom Europe and Australia as well as its development in other national contexts around the globe including Brazil China India Iran Iraq Kenya Palestine South Korea Vietnam and even Antarctica Its aim is to assess the contribution of citizen journalism to crisis reporting and to encourage new forms of dialogue and debate about how it may be improved in the future The book contains contributions by Mark Deuze about The Future of Citizen Journalism and Paul Bradshaw about Wiki Journalism

Online Journalism Ethics Cecilia Friend,Jane Singer,2015-03-26 Online media present both old and new ethical issues for journalists who must make decisions in an interactive instantaneous environment short on normative standards or guidelines This user friendly book guides prospective and professional journalists through ethical questions encountered only online Including real life examples and perspectives from online journalists in every chapter the book examines the issues of gathering information reporting interviewing and writing for mainstream news organizations on the Web It considers the ethical implications of linking interactivity verification transparency and Web advertising as well as the effects of convergence on newsrooms It also addresses the question of who is a journalist and what is journalism in an age when anyone can be a publisher Each chapter includes a complex case study that promotes critical thinking and classroom discussion about how to apply the ethical issues covered Pixels to Profits Ankur Mehra,2025-03-31 People and businesses spend years trying to make it in the Creator Economy Many are genuine with something valuable to share yet nothing clicks At the same time they watch countless creators go viral and businesses with lower quality rake in millions every month getting massive likes securing brand deals and attracting customers This leaves many talented creators and small businesses questioning whether they should even stay in the Creator Economy The short answer Yes By 2027 the Creator Economy is projected to be worth half a trillion dollars In Pixels to Profits you ll learn The 5Cs of the Creator Economy Did you know that you are a part of at least one of them The 3Rs that every great content piece has How aspiring creators and small and medium sized businesses have the highest leverage in this upcoming multibillion dollar economy What the world s top voices in the Creator Economy have to say about the future of AI and emerging technologies And much more

Public Journalism 2.0 Jack Rosenberry, Burton St John, 2009-12-16 Where does journalism fit in the media landscape of blogs tweets Facebook postings YouTube videos and literally billions of Web pages Public Journalism 2.0 examines the ways that civic or public journalism is evolving especially as audience created content sometimes referred to as citizen journalism or participatory journalism becomes increasingly prominent in contemporary media As the contributors to this edited volume demonstrate the mere use of digital technologies is not the fundamental challenge of a new citizen engaged journalism rather a deeper understanding of how civic public journalism can inform citizen propelled initiatives is required Through a mix of original research essays interviews and case studies this collection establishes how public journalism principles and practices offer journalists scholars and citizens insights into how digital technology and other contemporary practices can increase civic engagement and improve public life Each chapter concludes with pedagogical features including Theoretical Implications highlighting the main theoretical lessons from each chapter Practical Implications applying the chapter s theoretical findings to the practice of citizen engaged journalism Reflection Questions prompting the reader to consider how to extend the theory and application of the chapter blogging and other participatory journalism practices enabled by digital technology are not always in line with the original vision of public journalism which strives to report news in such a way as to promote civic engagement by its audience Public Journalism 2.0 seeks to reinvent public journalism for the 21st century and to offer visions of how digital technology can be enlisted to promote civic involvement in the news

Handbook of Research on Citizen Engagement and Public Participation in the Era of New Media Adria, Marco,Mao, Yuping,2016-11-22 New media forums have created a unique opportunity for citizens to participate in a variety of social and political contexts As new social technologies are being utilized in a variety of ways the public is able to interact more effectively in activities within their communities The Handbook of Research on Citizen Engagement and Public Participation in the Era of New Media addresses opportunities and challenges in the theory and practice of public involvement in social media Highlighting various communication modes and best practices being utilized in citizen involvement activities this book is a critical reference source for professionals consultants university teachers practitioners community organizers government administrators citizens and activists The Evolving Citizen Jay P. Childers,2015-06-29 It has become a common complaint among academics and community leaders that citizens today are not what they used to be Nowhere is this decline seen to be more troubling than when the focus is on young Americans Compared to the youth of past generations today s young adults so the story goes spend too much time watching television playing video games and surfing the Internet As a result American democracy is in trouble The Evolving Citizen challenges this decline thesis and argues instead that democratic engagement has not gotten worse it has simply changed Through an analysis of seven high school newspapers from 1965 to 2010 this book shows that young people today according to what they have to say for themselves are just as enmeshed in civic and political life as the adolescents who came before them American youth remain good citizens concerned about their communities and hopeful that they can help make a difference But as The Evolving Citizen demonstrates today s youth understand and perform their roles as citizens differently because the world they live in has changed remarkably over the last half century New Journalism Ecologies in East and Southern Africa Trust Matsilele,Shepherd Mpofu,Dumisani Moyo,2023-03-24 This volume presents case studies of news media employing and integrating social media into their news production practices It links social media use to journalistic practices and news production processes in the digital age of the Global South Critically the chapters look at seminal cases of start up news media whose content is informed by trends in social media ethical considerations and participatory cultures spurred by the wide use of social media There has been considerable research looking at the potential of new media technologies traditional journalism and citizen reporting The extent to which these new media technologies and citizen journalism have morphed or reconfigured traditional journalism practice remains debatable Currently there are questions around the limits of social media in journalism practice as the ethical lines continue to become blurred It is this conundrum of the role of social media in the reconfiguration of the media news making production and participatory cultures that requires more investigation Social media has also turned the logic of the political economy of media production on its head as citizens can now produce package and distribute news and information with shoestring budgets and in authoritarian regimes with no license of practice This new political economy means the power that special interest groups used to enjoy is increasingly slipping from their hands as citizens take back the power to appropriate social media journalism to counter hegemonic narratives Citizens can also perform journalistic roles of investigating and whistleblowing but with a lack off or limited regulation This volume seeks to explore and untangle these issues and provides an invaluable resource for researchers across the field of journalism mass media and communication studies

Reporting Elections Stephen Cushion,Richard Thomas,2018-03-02 How elections are reported has important implications for the health of democracy and informed citizenship But how informative are the news media during campaigns What kind of logic do they follow How well do they serve citizens e Based on original research as well as the most comprehensive assessment of election studies to date Cushion and Thomas examine how campaigns are reported in many advanced Western democracies In doing so they engage with debates about the mediatization of politics media systems information environments media ownership regulation political news horserace journalism objectivity impartiality agenda setting and the relationship between media and democracy more generally Focusing on the most recent US and UK election campaigns they consider how the logic of election coverage could be rethought in ways that better serve the democratic needs of citizens Above all they argue that election reporting should be driven by a public logic where the agenda of voters takes centre stage in the campaign and the policies of respective political parties receive more airtime and independent scrutiny The book is essential reading for scholars and students in political communication and journalism studies political science media and communication studies

Using New Media for Citizen Engagement and Participation Adria, Marco,2019-12-27 Recent technological advancements have made it possible to use moderated discussion threads on social media to provide citizens with a means of discussion concerning issues that involve them With the renewed interest in devising new methods for public involvement the use of such communication tools has caused some concern on how to properly apply them for strategic purposes Using New Media for Citizen Engagement and Participation provides emerging research exploring the theoretical and practical aspects of how social media should be added to public involvement activities such as citizen juries public deliberation and citizen panels Readers will be offered insights into the critical design considerations for planning carrying out and assessing public involvement initiatives Featuring coverage on a broad range of topics such as citizen journalism online activism and public discourse this book is ideally designed for corporate professionals broadcasters news writers column editors politicians policy managers government administrators academicians researchers practitioners and students in the fields of political science communications sociology mass media and broadcasting public administration and community service learning Media and Politics in South Korea, 1960-2022 Ki-Sung Kwak,2024-04-16 This book examines the constantly changing nature of the relationship between the state and the media within South Korea s political landscape It traces developments as South Korea became gradually more democratic in the decades after 1960 and goes on to consider more recent developments which include democratic erosion and the deepening political division and their effects on the media including the paralleling of this deepening political division within the media itself It explores the issues that have affected the relationship between the media and the political power assesses the impact of new developments in media and communication technologies and concludes by discussing how the legacy of authoritarianism has affected political reporting and the press party relationship

Citizen Media and Public Spaces Mona Baker,Bolette B. Blaagaard,2016-06-10 Citizen Media and Public Spaces presents a pioneering exploration of citizen media as a highly interdisciplinary domain that raises vital political social and ethical issues relating to conceptions of citizenship and state boundaries the construction of publics and social imaginaries processes of co optation and reverse co optation power and resistance the ethics of witnessing and solidarity and novel responses to the democratic deficit Framed by a substantial introduction by the editors the twelve contributions to the volume interrogate the concept of citizen media theoretically and empirically and offer detailed case studies that extend from the UK to Russia and Bulgaria and from China to Denmark and the liminal spaces within which a growing number of refugees now live A rich new domain of scholarship and practice emerges out of the studies presented Citizen media is shown to embrace both physical and digital interventions in public space as well as the sets of values and agendas that influence and drive the practices and discourses through which individuals and collectives position themselves within and in relation to society and participate in the creation of diverse publics This book will be of interest to students and researchers in media and communication studies particularly those studying citizen media media and society journalism and society and political communication Cover image courtesy of Ruben Hamelink
