Peterson, 1982 Printbegr nsninger Der kan printes 10 sider ad gangen og max 40 sider pr session Social Roles and Social Participation David Mangen, Warren Peterson, 1982-11-15 Research Instruments in Social Gerontology: Social roles and social participation David J. Mangen, Warren A. Peterson, 1982 Research Instruments in Social Gerontology ,1982 Social Roles and Social Participation ,1982 Research Instruments in Social Gerontology David J. Mangen, 1982 The increasing number of older people in the United States has served to focus attention upon the processes of aging and the effectiveness of social programs for the elderly In order to plan effective programs accurate social measures are necessary Now more than ever before researchers require conceptually explicit instruments designed to assess individual and social behaviors attitudes and traits in the elderly population This is the first in a three volume series designed to serve the needs of researchers evaluators and clinicians in assessing the instruments used in the field of aging The measures review in Volume 1 focus on the cognitive reactions of older people to aging and on the assessments of aging made by people who are not yet old This volume also contains the series introduction which explains the methods used for evaluating the instruments and assesses the status of gerontological measurement today Each chapter is devoted to instruments in a particular subject area such as intellectual functioning personality self esteem and ethnic group identification Most chapters are composed of three parts First there is a concise narrative review of the major theoretical concerns and measurement strategies within that particular research domain The second part is a collection of abstracts each of which presents a conceptual definition and a description of a specific instrument together with data about samples reliability validity scaling properties and correlations with age Whenever possible the instruments themselves constitute the third part of the chapter Compendium of HHS Evaluations and Relevant Other Studies HHS Policy Information Center (U.S.),1990 Compendium of HHS Evaluations and Relevant Other Studies ,1990 Social Policy Review 35 Ruggero Cefalo, Marcia Rose, Andy Jolly, 2023-06-30 Published in association with the Social Policy Association this volume addresses current issues and critical debates throughout the international social policy field Annual Review of Gerontology and Geriatrics, Volume 14, 1994 M. Powell Lawton, PhD, Jeanne A. Teresi, EdD, PhD, 1994-10-30 This volume evaluates a range of assessment measures with regard to older adults The expert contributors address topics such as assessment of health functional disability ADLs mental agility aging and personality depression and pain While the instruments themselves are readily available from other sources this book discusses the suitability strengths and weaknesses of various measures and offers current information on the rapidly changing state of the art assessment technology Parenting Across the Life Span Jane Beckman Lancaster, Research on parenting through the life course has developed around two separate approaches Evolutionary biology provides fresh perspectives from life history theory using behavioral ecology and parental investment theory At the same time the social and behavioral sciences integrates research from long term studies of individual development and from the collection of life histories This path breaking book advances evolutionary life history research by integrating perspectives of these two approaches into a biosocial science of the life course It examines parenthood as a commitment extending throughout life and focuses on the impact on parental and child behavior of changes in the timing distribution and intensity of parental investment This perspective is particularly appropriate for research on parenting since the family is the universal human institution within which the bearing and rearing of children has been based and which transmits traditions beliefs and values to the young

New Dimensions in Spirituality, Religion, and Aging Vern Bengtson, Merrill Silverstein, 2018-09-03 New Dimensions in Spirituality Religion and Aging expands the traditional focus of religiosity to include and evaluate recent research and discoveries on the role of secular spirituality in the aging process Contributors examine the ways conventional religion and other forms of spirituality affect human development health and longevity and they demonstrate how myth creation enables humans to make meaning in their lives Taken together the book points to further research to enhance current knowledge approaches to care and social policies

Aging and the Religious Dimension Susan A. Eisenhandler, 1994-02-17 Aging and religion has been badly neglected in the field of Gerontology This book containing 13 chapters of original theory and research is devoted to understanding the place that religion and spirituality hold in the lives of elderly persons The authors each experts in their own field approach this issue from their backgrounds in the social sciences and the humanities Overall this is a ground breaking collection It is one of the first attempts to seek to understand the role that religion plays in the lives of elderly persons Based on their various multi disciplinary perspectives the authors make use of a variety of qualitative and quantitative methodologies as well as personal narrative and literature to grapple with this issue Finally the book is unique in that it addresses scholars and students including the educated layman rather than the professional alone

Poon, Jiska Cohen-Mansfield, 2011-04-11

The demographic and social structure of most industrialized and developing countries are changing rapidly as infant mortality is reduced and population life span has increased in dramatic ways In particular the oldest old 85 population has grown and will continue to grow This segment of the population tends to suffer physical and cognitive decline and little information is available to describe how their positive and negative distal experiences habits and intervening proximal environmental influences impact their well being and how social and health policies can help meet the unique challenges they face Understanding Well Being in the Oldest Old is the outcome of a four day workshop attended by U S and Israeli scientists and funded by the U S Israel Bi National Science Foundation to examine both novel and traditional paradigms that could extend our knowledge and understanding of the well being of the oldest old Life-Span Development and Behavior David L. Featherman, Richard M. Lerner, 2019-05-24 The final volume in this significant series this publication mirrors the broad scientific attention given to ideas and issues associated with the life span perspective constancy and change in human development opportunities for and constraints on plasticity in structure and function across life the potential for intervention across the entire life course and thus for the creation of an applied developmental science individual differences diversity in life paths in contexts or the ecology of human development and in changing relations between people and contexts interconnections and discontinuities across age levels and developmental periods and the importance of integrating biological psychological social cultural and historical levels of organization in order to understand human development

The Ties of Later Life Jon Hendricks, 2019-05-23 Helps you recognise the continuity that runs across the generations from grandparents to grandchildren This work provides a clear perspective on the actual experiences of the lives of our family and friends The Logics of Change Andreas Koch, Clemens Sedmak, 2012-12-19 We live in a world of constant and dynamic change Change manifests in various guises ranging from small to big local to global individual to societal or from subtle to sudden It often comes out of the unexpected yet people can also actively bring about change Change can be for the better but often reality means change for the worse Preconditions for a contented and happy life both material and intangible are constantly challenged Living conditions of individuals as well as communities are affected by inequality exclusion or poverty Different kinds of challenge and change require different reactions This volume results from a two day conference in November 2011 in Salzburg Austria bringing together researchers and practitioners from different scientific disciplines in order to discuss approaches of poverty research social inclusion strategies and local knowledge applications with particular focus on transformation The contributions shed light on appropriate theories methodologies and concrete applications of change concepts referring to poverty place and identity at different temporal social and spatial scales They address a readership ranging from social and political scientists economists and statisticians to philosophers cultural scientists and geographers
