Security In South Asia Comprehensive And Cooperative:

Security in South Asia Dipankar Banerjee, 1999 Ten years after the end of the Cold War South Asia stands almost alone among regions where the potential for conflict remains high The situation was further aggravated by the nuclear tests in the region in May 1998 This has led to avoidable tensions high military spending and lack of economic co operation among its member countries As a result South Asia is today among the poorest regions in the world with human development indices even worse than Sub Saharan Africa It is imperative that this cycle of tension and conflict is broken The only way out is to develop alternative approaches to security One such alternative is comprehensive and co operative security Ideas which have emerged in recent years in Europe and Asia may be adapted usefully in South Asia This book is an attempt at understanding the security concerns of individual countries of South Asia

Development and Security in Southeast Asia Carolina G. Hernandez, 2019-07-15 This title was first published in 2003 This three volume set examines the relationship between government and civil society in their efforts to define and pursue security Including the results of an extensive research program each volume is organized around one of the three principal themes environment people and globalization supplying compelling evidence of the tension between economic change and human well being Challenging the conventional wisdom about the beneficial results of economically induced change this first volume suggests that too often the mismanagement of development jeopardizes the security of individuals families communities and possibly the state by harming the very environment which is required to sustain both people and their economic existence Bringing together an international group of scholars from a variety of disciplines this volume is particularly relevant for academic and general research communities in the areas of social economic political and security matters of Southeast Asia

Regionalism and Globalism in Southeast Asia E. Palmujoki, 2001-10-25 Eero Palmujoki examines the regionalist debate in Southeast Asia from the end of the Cold War up to the beginning of the new millennium He focuses on the organization of the ASEAN Association of Southeast Asian Nations and covers the political economic and security issues characterizing its development The book compares the theoretical debate with political developments in the region from the beginning of the post Cold War period with its rapid economic growth through the Asian economic crisis of 1997 and the resulting restructuring of Southeast Asian regional systems

India and Southeast Asia Sudhir Devare, 2003-08-01 There is a growing dialogue between India and Southeast Asia From a marginal relationship during the Cold War days to the participation of India at the East Asia summit in December 2005 has been a long journey In the context of the geopolitical situation in the Asia Pacific in the post September 11 period the security dimension between India and Southeast Asia cannot be overemphasized With the continued U S preponderance in the region and China s phenomenal rise the countries of Southeast Asia and India have an opportunity to evolve a co operative relationship not only with one another but also with the major powers of the region This book examines the areas of comprehensive security and the growing understanding between India and Southeast Asia where there is less divergence and greater convergence The author argues that India Southeast Asia security convergence is not and should not be aimed at any particular country On an optimistic note he concludes that such convergence will contribute to creating harmony among the major powers of Asia to make the twenty first century the e Asian centurye      Minority Rights in South Asia Rainer Hofmann,Ugo Caruso,2011 This publication contains case studies on human and minority rights in the South Asian countries including a special focus on the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation SAARC and articles on different forms of National Human Rights Commission and Immigration to the UK and new minorities It is further complemented by an in depth study on Autonomy Kashmir and International Law Assembling articles authored by leading scholars from both South Asia and Europe the book will contribute to a mutual exchange of views on human and minority rights issues in South Asia In particular the book is aimed at increasing awareness and understanding of current developments in South Asia and on this basis at enhancing a constructive dialogue between representatives of the scientific community policy makers and civil society in Europe and their counterparts in South Asia      Development and Security in Southeast Asia: Globalization David Brian Dewitt,Carolina G. Hernandez,2003 This third volume of three accepts that globalization is both the context within which Southeast Asian countries must function and is a process which governments and businesses have embraced The focus of this text is on how the phenomenon of globalization has affected individuals well being and the community security      The Arms Dynamic in South-East Asia During the Second Cold War Mark. G. Rolls,2017-11-30 This title was first published in 2002 This work uses the concept of the arms dynamic to identify and assess the various factors which influenced arms acquisitions of Southeast Asian states during the second Cold War period from 1979 to 1989 providing an essential basis for understanding contemporary developments The book provides a comprehensive and systematic explanation of the reasons for arms purchases in SE Asia during the 1980s and aims to fill a gap in the literature by fully exploring arms procurement processes in the region prior to the end of the Cold War      Terrorism and Violence in Southeast Asia Paul J. Smith,2015-03-26 This timely work examines the scale and root causes of terrorism across Southeast Asia including the role of al Qaeda s ascendancy in the region It begins with an overview of the analytical and theoretical framework for discussing the subject Individual chapters then examine terrorist activities from both functional and country specific perspectives The book traces fundamental linkages between terrorism and security issues such as illegal immigration narcotics trafficking and other criminal activity In addition it considers the issue of convergence the growing connection between criminal groups and terrorism and how this may facilitate future violence Written by a range of experts in the field the individual chapters reflect a variety of perspectives The contributions fall into two broad categories chapters that directly address terrorism the groups their ideologies their modus operandi their origins and state responses to them and chapters that address the enabling environment that exists in Southeast Asia the role of transnational crime porous borders convergence between terrorism and crime      Conflict Resolution and Regional Cooperation in South

Belt and Road Initiative BRI has been an obscure concept and it remains difficult to distinguish what BRI is and isn't making it difficult for many governments and global corporations to properly participate in it I am delighted to present the opinions and perspectives of many eminent researchers professors and experts from various countries on the Belt and Road Initiative BRI The book contains 11 chapters which are written by distinguished researchers and practitioners from various parts of Asia While these 11 chapters discuss the many characteristics of the BRI including advantages and costs they also convey the lessons that many other Southeast Asian countries have learned Each chapter offers valuable lessons to the countries that have yet to participate in the initiatives      Development and Security in Southeast Asia: The people David Brian

Dewitt, Carolina G. Hernandez, 2003 Through a series of case studies drawn primarily from Indonesia and the Philippines this second volume of three provides evidence that outcomes are actually very mixed in terms of the personal security and well being of people and communities as they face the challenges introduced by development      Naval Strategy in Northeast

Asia Duk-Ki Kim, 2012-10-12 Over the past decade Northeast Asia has been dominated by quite significant strategic change which is ongoing and brings with it many uncertainties naval capabilities in Northwest Asia are instrumental in promoting maritime security interests helping to build a stable security environment through active participation in regional naval co operation This landmark book explores the region's maritime peace and stability and examines in depth the strategic military and apolitical issues that underpin any effort to develop maritime co operation      Regionalism in the New Asia-Pacific

Order Joseph A. Camilleri, 2003-01-01 Regionalism in the Asia Pacific is a complex and rapidly evolving phenomenon This volume explores the relationship between globalization and regionalization between states markets and civil society and between US hegemony and Asian aspirations      Energy Cooperation in South Asia Mirza Sadaqat Huda, 2020-04-13 This book analyses the key political challenges to regional energy cooperation in South Asia It argues that investment in the planning of regional energy projects can increase their viability and also drive integration and peacebuilding Regional cooperation has been substantiated by academics and multilateral development banks as one of the most viable solutions to South Asia's crippling energy crisis However three decades of national and regional efforts have failed to develop a single multilateral energy project or foster high levels of bilateral cooperation Using data collected through extensive interviews with policymakers in India Bangladesh Pakistan and Nepal this book identifies the specific roadblocks to energy cooperation including domestic politics and the failure of leadership on multiple levels and evaluates how these political challenges determine regional interactions on energy securitisation environmental cooperation and human rights Huda then undertakes case studies on four transnational energy projects to highlight specific policy recommendations to overcome these challenges suggesting planning mechanisms through which the significant issue of energy cooperation in South Asia can be addressed This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of energy security and geopolitics natural resource governance and South Asian politics      Development and Security in Southeast Asia: The environment David Brian

Dewitt, Carolina G. Hernandez, 2003 Challenging the conventional wisdom about the beneficial results of economically induced change this first volume suggests that too often the mismanagement of development jeopardises the security of individuals families communities and possibly the state by harming the very environment which is required to sustain both people and their economic existence Bringing together an international group of scholars from a variety of disciplines this volume is relevant for all those interested in Southeast Asia

Human Rights and Participatory Politics in Southeast Asia

Catherine Renshaw, 2019-02-18 In Human Rights and Participatory Politics in Southeast Asia Catherine Renshaw recounts an extraordinary period of human rights institution building in Southeast Asia She begins her account in 2007 when the ten members of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN signed the ASEAN charter committing members for the first time to principles of human rights democracy and the rule of law In 2009 the ASEAN Intergovernmental Commission on Human Rights was established with a mandate to uphold internationally recognized human rights standards In 2013 the ASEAN Human Rights Declaration was adopted as a framework for human rights cooperation in the region and a mechanism for ASEAN community building Renshaw explains why these developments emerged when they did and assesses the impact of these institutions in the first decade of their existence In her examination of ASEAN Renshaw asks how human rights can be implemented in and between states that are politically diverse Vietnam and Laos are Communist Brunei Darussalam is an Islamic sultanate Myanmar is in transition from a military dictatorship the Philippines and Indonesia are established multiparty democracies while the remaining members are less easily defined Renshaw cautions that ASEAN is limited in its ability to shape the practices of its members because it lacks a preponderance of democratic states However she concludes that in the absence of a global legalized human rights order the most significant practical advancements in the promotion of human rights have emerged from regional institutions such as the ASEAN
