See What I Can Be:

No Eye Can See Jane Kirkpatrick, 2001-02-20 Jane Kirkpatrick has almost literally created her own genre of fiction. Her books unfold whisper. Let me tell you about a woman who They find a secret place in each of us and bring it gently to the surface. Salem Statesman Journal. Suzanne felt the tears press at her eyes as the dream state drifted away taking with it the sight of the man she loved. Awake she blinked back the tears. This was her life now. The sounds of the women and oxen those were real. And the darkness her darkness. She lay inside it resigned. She was not a wife reaching out for her husband but a widow a blind widow wistful and full of desire. FACING CHALLENGES AND LOSS A COMMUNITY OF EXTRAORDINARY WOMEN FIGHT TO OVERCOME THE PAIN OF THE PAST AND EMBRACE THE FUTURE. When blind and widowed Suzanne Cullver reaches California with a group of women who have survived tragedy on the Oregon Trail she sets her mind on doing for herself all that must be done. Though she cannot see she rejects offers of assistance unwittingly risking her children's safety and her own. Her companions blindly falter as well held hostage by their own pasts. As Suzanne attempts to control her life in Shasta City Ruth defends against past errors failing to see how she limits love. Meanwhile Mazy's vision seems to be permanently clouded by her late husband's betrayal. But when a young stagedriver risks all for a Wintu Indian his life becomes entangled with the turnaround women and together they are changed forever as they discover that No Eye Can See all the good God has in store for those who love Him. Mosaic: Janelle Gray, 2014-12-29 Janelle was eleven years old when she wrote her first poem as part of a sixth grade writing assignment. Many were moved by her heartfelt poem about the loss of her brother and their praise inspired her to continue writing. Journal entries and short stories followed. Many of these appear in Mosaic. Through poems that she describes as candid conversations Mosaic will show her growth as a person and as a writer from ages eleven to twenty seven. The book matures as I mature she says. Higher education for diversity, social inclusion and community Sjur Bergan, Ira Harkavy, 2018-08-20 How does the Council of Europe put into practice its commitment to the promotion of a culture of democracy through education. Over the past decade or so our societies have been facing increasing difficulties in reconciling acceptance of diversity and social inclusion with the need for community. The search for simple solutions to complex problems the fact that fake news and alternative facts are no longer seen as nonsensical expressions our responses to migration and the refugee crisis and the growth of populism in many parts of Europe present challenges to our societies and not least to education. Authors from Europe North America and South Africa outline how higher education could respond to these challenges. The first section makes a strong case for the continuing importance of higher education and research to modern society The second focuses on higher education institutions and the need for inclusive and diverse campuses The third section considers opportunities to improve the inclusion of refugees and immigrants in higher education Whereas the focus in Europe is mostly on refugees in the United States it is largely on immigrants further accentuated by the debate on the Dreamers Now I Can See The Moon Alice Tallmadge,2025-07-30 In the 1980s and 1990s a mind boggling social panic over child sex abuse swept through the country landing childcare workers in prison and leading hundreds of women to begin recalling episodes of satanic ritual abuse and childhood abuse by family members Now I Can See the Moon A Story of a Social Panic False Memories and a Life Cut Short is a deeply personal account of the devastating impact the panic had on one family In trying to understand the suicide of her twenty three year old niece a victim of the panic the author discovers that what she thought was an isolated tragedy was in fact part of a much larger social phenomenon that sucked in individuals from all walks of life convincing them to believe the unbelievable and embrace the most aberrant claims as truth Special Crops ,1913 I Can See Tomorrow Patricia L. Can that be Right? A. Franklin, 2012-12-06

In this collection of essays Allan Franklin defends the view that science provides us with knowledge about the world which is based on experimental evidence and on reasoned and critical discussion In short he argues that science is a reasonable enterprise He begins with detailed studies of four episodes from the history of modern physics 1 the early attempts to detect gravity waves 2 how the physics community decided that a proposed new elementary particle 17 keV neutrino did not exist 3 a sequence of experiments on K meson decay and 4 the origins of the Fifth Force hypothesis a proposed modification of Newton's Law of Universal Gravitation The case studies are then used to examine issues such as how discord between experimental results is resolved calibration of an experimental apparatus and its legitimate use in validating an experimental result and how experimental results provide reasonable grounds for belief in both the truth of physical theories and in the existence of the entities involved in those theories This book is a challenge to the critics of science both postmodern and constructivist to provide convincing alternative explanations of the episodes and issues discussed It should be of interest to philosophers historians and sociologists of science and to scientists themselves

J. David Velleman,2015-10-08 In nine lively essays bioethicist J David Velleman challenges the prevailing consensus about assisted suicide and reproductive technology articulating an original approach to the ethics of creating and ending human lives He argues that assistance in dying is appropriate only at the point where talk of suicide is not and he raises moral objections to anonymous donor conception In their place Velleman champions a morality of valuing personhood over happiness in making end of life decisions and respecting the personhood of future children in making decisions about procreation These controversial views are defended with philosophical rigor while remaining accessible to the general reader Written over Velleman s 30 years of undergraduate teaching in bioethics the essays have never before been collected and made available to a non academic audience They will open new lines of debate on issues of intense public interest The Transcendence of God Edward Farley,2017-06-28 In the varying perspectives of theological thought the contrasting ideas of transcendence and immanence must inevitably be looked at together To whatever extent they are held to be mutually compatible or mutually exclusive neither can be considered without at least some cognizance being taken of the other Nevertheless in the swinging of the pendulum from era to era first one and then the other theme receives the greater weight of attention Thus nineteenth century liberalism placed more emphasis on immanence whereas the twentieth century revolt against liberalism has concentrated on transcendence In this book the author studies the transcendent aspect of God as developed by five contemporary theologians Two of the men whose work Dr Farley examines Reinhold Niebuhr and Paul Tillich are thoroughly familiar The other three Karl Heim Charles Hartshorne and Henry Nelson Wieman have received less attention in recent studies The five represent widely divergent traditions but all of them agree in opposing immanentism Moreover they all deal with the tension between the philosophical and the Biblical affirmations of God s transcendence and attempt to show in their respective ways how these types of beyondness are related Themes from G. E. Moore Susana Nuccetelli,Gary Seay,2007-11-22 These thirteen original essays whose authors include some of the world s leading philosophers examine themes from the work of the Cambridge philosopher G E Moore 1873 1958 and demonstrate his considerable continuing influence on philosophical debate Part I bears on epistemological topics such as scepticism about the external world the significance of common sense and theories of perception Part II is devoted to themes in ethics such as Moore s open question argument his non naturalism utilitarianism and his notion of organic unities
