Myers, Dawn Bazely, 2003-05-15 The global spread of plant species by humans is both a fascinating large scale experiment and in many cases a major perturbation to native plant communities Many of the most destructive weeds today have been intentionally introduced to new environments where they have had unexpected and detrimental impacts This 2003 book considers the problem of invasive introduced plants from historical ecological and sociological perspectives We consider such questions as What makes a community invasible What makes a plant an invader and Can we restore plant communities after invasion Written with advanced students and land managers in mind this book contains practical explanations case studies and an introduction to basic techniques for evaluating the impacts of invasive plants An underlying theme is that experimental and quantitative evaluation of potential problems is necessary and solutions must consider the evolutionary and ecological constraints acting on species interactions in newly invaded communities Issues in Environmental Research and Application: 2011 Edition, 2012-01-09 Issues in Environmental Research and Application 2011 Edition is a ScholarlyEditions eBook that delivers timely authoritative and comprehensive information about Environmental Research and Application The editors have built Issues in Environmental Research and Application 2011 Edition on the vast information databases of ScholarlyNews You can expect the information about Environmental Research and Application in this eBook to be deeper than what you can access anywhere else as well as consistently reliable authoritative informed and relevant The content of Issues in Environmental Research and Application 2011 Edition has been produced by the world's leading scientists engineers analysts research institutions and companies All of the content is from peer reviewed sources and all of it is written assembled and edited by the editors at ScholarlyEditions and available exclusively from us You now have a source
