Ayn Rand and Song of Russia Robert Mayhew, 2005 In October 1947 more than twenty years after leaving Russia Ayn Rand testified before the House Un American Activities Committee HUAC which was investigating communist infiltration of the motion picture industry The focus of that testimony was Song of Russia a 1944 pro Soviet film that Rand decried for its unrealistic absurdly flattering portrait of life in the communist country Ayn Rand scholar Robert Mayhew focuses on this controversial period of American and Hollywood history by examining both the film and the furor surrounding Rand's HUAC testimony His analysis provides the first detailed history of any of the pro Soviet films to come out of 1940s Hollywood Mayhew begins by offering a brief synopsis of the MGM film followed by an account of its production as well as its reception Most significantly Mayhew analyzes Rand's appearance before HUAC and discusses the response to her much maligned testimony By carefully scrutinizing this one episode in the history of communism and anti communism in 1940s Hollywood Mayhew presents a more accurate picture of those times and the issues surrounding them His study allows for a re evaluation of the role of
