Christopher Hovius, 2014-09-02 Do you ever wish you were stronger thinner more athletic healthier Most of us would change at least one thing about ourselves if we could But real health and happiness aren't dependent on matching yourself against the unrealistic ideals of a model thin body or a pumped up body builder's bulging muscles Instead fitness and good nutrition are the two factors that can lead to physical and emotional health When you were younger your parents told you what to eat They probably encouraged you to eat the foods that would provide you with the various nutrients you needed to grow They may have also encouraged you to get regular exercise But you're older now You've begun to make your own decisions about what you eat and how active you are Learning what your body needs to be healthy is an important part of becoming a responsible adult Taking care of yourself makes sense if you want to be happy and enjoy life This book will tell you how to be the best you can be Live and Die Like a Man Farha Ghannam, 2023-05-25 An anthropologist deconstructs the notion of masculinity using twenty years of field research in the Cairo neighborhood of al Zawiya Watching the revolution of January 2011 the world saw Egyptians men and women come together to fight for freedom and social justice These events gave renewed urgency to the fraught topic of gender in the Middle East The role of women in public life the meaning of manhood and the future of gender inequalities are hotly debated by religious figures government officials activists scholars and ordinary citizens throughout Egypt Live and Die Like a Man presents a unique twist on traditional understandings of gender and gender roles shifting the attention to men and exploring how they are collectively produced as gendered subjects It traces how masculinity is continuously maintained and reaffirmed by both men and women under changing socio economic and political conditions Over a period of nearly twenty years Farha Ghannam lived and conducted research in al Zawiya a low income neighborhood not far from Tahrir Square in northern Cairo Detailing her daily encounters and ongoing interviews she develops life stories that reveal the everyday practices and struggles of the neighborhood over the years We meet Hiba and her husband as they celebrate the birth of their first son and begin to teach him how to become a man Samer a forty year old man trying to find a suitable wife Abu Hosni who struggled with different illnesses and other local men and women who share their reactions to the uprising and the changing situation in Egypt Against this backdrop of individual experiences Ghannam develops the concept of masculine trajectories to account for the various paths men can take to embody social norms In showing how men work to realize a male ideal she counters the prevalent dehumanizing stereotypes of Middle Eastern men all too frequently reproduced in media reports and opens new spaces for rethinking patriarchal structures and their constraining effects on both men and women Praise for Live and Die Like a Man In a book that lives up to its name anthropologist Ghannam explores what it means to be a man Her thick descriptions amassed over 20 years of research will make readers laugh cry and gasp at the lives of these individuals By examining the construct of manhood Ghannam is charting new territory in Middle Eastern studies Summing Up Highly recommended CHOICE With its focus on masculinity Farha Ghannam s thoughtful ethnography Live and Die Like a Man makes important interventions into the anthropological scholarship on gender childhood and family in the Middle East Her ethnographic sensibility perfectly grasps the dynamic and complex intertwining of male and female ways of being and self presentation and how that interrelationship forms men s lives International Journal of Middle East Studies
